CLOTHING TO ORDER.

In our Order Department we have just to hand a choice Assortment of SUMMER SUITINGS, comprising the newest shades in Myrtle, Olive, Brown, Blue, Black, and Sage Mixtures, &c. These are the latest novelties in French Goods, and deserve special note.

To our stock of Tweeds, of which we are now making SUMMER SUITS TO MEASURE AT 75s, we have added a large parcel of New Patterns, and invite inspection.

FARMER and COMPANY.

READY-MADE CLOTHING.

In this branch we are showing garments which for QUALITY, CUT, FINISH, and STYLE are specially approved by our buyers, and where a fit can be secured, are equal in all respects to any clothing made to order.

TWEED SUITS.—Our name for these goods is fully established. We desire, however, to announce that we have just opened out some 1500 SUITS, commencing at 21s THE SUIT, then on to 25s, 27s 6d, 30s, 35s, and 42s, all sizes. We also desire to note our all-wool blue serge suits, a nice light texture, admirably adapted for summer wear; price only 32s 6d the suit.

FARMER and COMPANY.

COATS.

We are exhibiting a nice 4-button Sac Coat, very suitable for office wear, well and fashionably cut, in nice light textures, good colourings and patterns, at ONLY 10s 6d.

Our Military Duck Coat at 7s 6d; China Silk Coats, hand sewn, only 15s.

FARMER'S light Summer Overcoats, for evening wear, will be found a useful garment and extremely cheap, at 10s 6d.

N.B.—We have always on hand Gentlemen's Black Cloth Dress Coats at 52s 6d. These coats, if made to order, would be not less than four guineas. We have all sizes in stock.

TROUSERS.

A leading line at this counter—all-wool Tweed Trousers, a hundred patterns to select from, at 7s 6d per pair. Another large parcel at 10s 6d the pair, made from a good West of England tweed; these are without exception the best value we have ever shown at the price.

TROUSERS and VESTS.

Of the same tweed, firstclass patterns at ONLY 16s 6d, all sizes in stock. Every buyer of clothing should see these. There is already UNPRECEDENTED DEMAND.

FARMER and COMPANY.

FURNISH THROUGHOUT AT FARMER'S.

BOYS' AND YOUTHS' CLOTHING.

Here we are offering to our patrons several special parcels which eclipse for shape, style, and finish—NOT FORGETTING PRICE—anything hitherto submitted.

KNICKERBOCKER SUITS for boys, trousers lined throughout, 7s 6d the suit, all sizes, positively wonderful value. We then follow on at 10s 6d, 12s 6d, 15s, 16s 6d, 17s 6d, 18s 6d, and 21s. All the foregoing are nicely trimmed, and thoroughly well cut and made.

TWEED SAC SUITS, deserving of our best recommendation, made from superior all-wool tweed, in excellent patterns and most durable colours, 15s 6d, 16s 6d, 18s 6d, 20s, and 25s the suit.

ETON SUITS.—We have devoted particular attention to the making up of these suits, and are producing garments equal to many hand-made suits to order, both gentlemanly in appearance and economical in price. We have obtained a reputation for these, and are of course anxious to retain it. An inspection will, we feel sure, but add to such reputation.

FARMER and COMPANY.

SHIRTS.

A large shipment of WHITE SHIRTS to hand, which, on inspection, will be found of exceptional value. They are cut with all the modern improvements, and proportioned to fit gentlemen of stout or slight build, military fronts, to button behind or in front, with the fashionable Cambridge cuff, and made for studs; the neckband, wristbands, and front of all pure linen, with superior finished calico body. We commence these at 21s THE HALF-DOZEN—SPECIALLY MADE FOR VICTORIA HOUSE. Our next qualities are 27s, 33s, 39s, and 45s the half-dozen. The largest parcel we have ever yet submitted, and well worthy of inspection.

REGATTA SHIRTS.

100 PATTERNS to select from, pure French cambric. We have these to button behind or in front, with or without collars, or with two collars for each shirt, cut to fit gentlemen stout or slender. In price we begin at 3s 6d each. Also numberless patterns in all silk and crape Crimeans, beautifully adapted for summer wear. A really first-class quality in crape, 6s 6d only, and a superior quality in silk at 11s 6d only.

PAJAMAS.

A special line in China Silk of a very superior quality at 17s 6d the SUIT. The usual price would be about 25s.

FARMER and COMPANY.

FURNISH THROUGHOUT AT FARMER'S.

SCARVES.

Just opened a choice parcel of these. We have made arrangements with our London house to ship a parcel for this department by every mail. We have consequently fresh goods every fortnight. We have a scarf which is just now all the rage in the West End of London. Patterns registered, and secured for our house only.

SILK HANDKERCHIEFS.

Including the favourite Hem-stitched, with self and fancy coloured borders, which have for some time past been scarce in the London trade.

HALF-HOSE.—A choice lot, including Cardinal, Plum, Navy, &c., coloured clox, in both pure and spun silk, superfine qualities, also in Cotton, Thread, and Summer Merino, in self colours and fancy patterns. Well worthy of attention.

FARMER and COMPANY.

CHINA SILK HELMET HATS.

We are now displaying in our windows a Hat which is well nigh indispensable in summer, and as last season's trade was extraordinary we determined to make some effort to produce something astonishing for this. We consider we have been successful, for we are now offering for 3s 6d a hat worth double the money. See the display in our windows.

FARMER and COMPANY.

CARPETS.

The ATTENTION of CARPET-BUYERS is respectfully directed to a shipment we have just landed. Never before have customers had an opportunity of inspecting in Australia such a stock in point of MAGNITUDE, VARIETY, and VALUE. Our recent purchases in England could have only been warranted by an enormous sale. This we fully and confidently anticipate, and have consequently by our consignments been placed PRE-EMINENT FOR THESE GOODS IN THIS CITY. Our invitation to inspect is issued on the assumption that our stock occupies no secondary position.

THE BEST EFFORTS OF THE BEST MAKERS ARE DISPLAYED IN OUR REFRIGERATORS.

OUR PATENT SELF-VENTILATING REFRIGERATORS. Over 200 to select from, sizes suitable for cottage or mansion. These refrigerators have been long and favourably known in America. Being constructed self-ventilating on scientific principles, a gradual and constant change of air is secured, while the rotation of air equalises the temperature, thus saving from 25 to 50 per cent. of ice.

The refrigerators are mounted on Superior Castors, and consequently are moved with great ease. Our prices are—No. 1 Diamond Chest, 27s 6d; No. 2, 35s; No. 3, 47s 6d; No. 1, Diamond Cupboard, 57s 6d; No. 2, 65s; No. 3, 77s 6d; No. 4, 90s; No. 5, 105s; No. 1, Excelsior Chest, 30s; No. 2, 42s; No. 3, 57s 6d; No. 1, Excelsior Cupboard, 80s; No. 2, 95s; No. 3, 110s; No. 4, 126s.

FURNITURE.

The success attending our previous issues of Catalogues, and the growing demand for our Goods, compel us to issue our THIRD EDITION. In addition to our FURNITURE, we print, from time to time, SPECIAL PLATES, comprising all our latest designs, and embracing a much larger range of articles than is offered by any leading house in the colonies.

With the attention we pay to the manufacture of Furniture, we are enabled to offer a class of goods which, for beauty of design, quality of workmanship, and excellence of finish, is unsurpassed, whilst our prices defy competition.

Our facilities for producing FIRST-CLASS GOODS, and at low figures, are unequalled. Our factories are filled throughout with the latest improved wood-working machinery, and we employ only the most skilled workmen.

To those of our customers who are too far away to visit our Warerooms, our Catalogue will be invaluable, for they can select their goods from the engraving, and thus save the expense attending a personal visit.

SUBSTANTIAL AND ARTISTIC FURNITURE.

Compare prices and quality before deciding—an advantage. We deliver in our own vans, thus ensuring early delivery and comparative freedom from damage.

Please note the following:—Our Japanned Bedroom Suite, comprising a 3 feet wardrobe, chest of drawers, washstand, dressing glass, towel horse, and chair. The suite complete, £7 15s. Any article can be taken from, or any addition made to, the suite as arranged for or as required by the customer.

Our decorated Japanned Bedroom Suite comprises a wardrobe half-hanging half-tray, a chest of drawers, washstand, dressing glass, towel horse, and chair, complete for £11 11s.

We venture to think our efforts in producing and bringing before the public these ECONOMICAL SUITES will meet with substantial approbation. The construction of the articles has engaged our best supervision in order to produce at SO LOW A PRICE suites effective in appearance and creditable to the producers.

CANVAS STRETCHER FOLDING BEDS, known as LADD'S COTS.

These COTS are correctly advertised as "Just the thing for hot weather." They can be opened and closed as readily as an umbrella. Make a perfect bed. No mattress or pillow required. Better than a hammock, as it fits the body as pleasantly and lays straight.

We have some 600 just to hand, our prices are 12s 6d and 16s 6d. Their utility and convenience are so self-evident that we have every confidence in recommending them. Inquire for LADD'S COTS.

LATEST PRESS OPINIONS.
Sydney Morning Herald, November 6.—"If 'La Mascotte,' at the Theatre Royal, was not at the very first so pronouncedly successful as were some of the productions which preceded it, it now bids fair to excel them, for night after night the theatre is crowded, and the evident knowledge and appreciation of the music which many among the audience display show that people are not content with one visit to the most gorgeous spectacle yet seen on the Sydney stage."
Daily Telegraph, November 6.—"At the Theatre Royal on Saturday night, 'La Mascotte' was produced to an overflowing house. The management have to be congratulated on the success which this piece has achieved. The singing is good, the characters throughout well sustained, and the mounting is beyond all praise. From present appearances this piece is likely to have a long run."

of this
UNEQUALLED COMIC OPERA ORGANISATION, headed by
EMILIE MELVILLE.
"The 'Royal Middy,' at the Opera House, still draws strongly and profitably, which is equivalent to saying that Miss Emilie Melville has still the grace and power to charm, for she is unquestionably the source and centre of all the mirth and attractiveness of this merry opera. Her charming little figure flits like a sunbeam about the stage, and her voice trills out chanson and carol, each as a bird song, jubilant and clear. There is certainly no lady upon the Australian stage who can be compared with Miss Emilie Melville as prima donna in opera bouffe."
"The 'Royal Middy' is the most charming little opera we have had, and, as now presented, ought to be seen by everybody who loves good music, and who can enjoy a hearty laugh."—Town and Country, November 4.
"The 'Royal Middy,' at the Opera House on Saturday night, drew a good audience. From the manifestations of approbation by the audience throughout, it is evident that the opera is as much a favourite as ever."—Daily Telegraph, November 6.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS IN BY-LAWS.

III. The Directors shall be selected from amongst Members of the Association; but a Member shall not be eligible for, or qualified to retain, office as a Director, unless he be the holder of a paid-up Policy on his own life for a sum of not less than £500, or be a Contributor to the funds of the Association of not less than £20 per annum as premium under a policy or policies issued in his own name, and not assigned; nor if he, within three years preceding the day of election, or since, shall have taken the benefit of any Act for the relief of Insolvent Debtors, or become Bankrupt, or have assigned his Estate for the benefit of his creditors; nor if he be or become an agent or officer or a member of the Board of Management of any other Society or Company locally engaged in the business of Life Assurance; nor if he be or become indebted to the Association for advances on mortgage or otherwise.

VI. That every Candidate for the office of Director or Auditor shall give notice thereof to the Board of Directors in writing, to be left at the office of the Association in Sydney, twenty-eight days at the least before the Yearly General Meeting, and the names of the Candidates who have given such notice shall be published in two or more Sydney newspapers within three days after the receipt of such notice.

VII. At every Yearly and Special General Meeting all questions shall be determined by a majority, in number, of members present, by show of hands, except in the following cases, viz.:—

a. An election of Directors, when there are more Candidates than vacant seats on the Board, in which case the votes shall be taken only upon voting papers issued direct from the offices of the Association to each Member by post to his recorded address, and such papers shall be placed in the ballot box by the Member personally during the time of voting, which shall be determined by the meeting, or be signed by the Member whose name appears thereon, and sent by post in an envelope without other enclosure, addressed to "The Scrutineers, Mutual Life Association of Australasia, Sydney," and all such Voting Papers as shall have been thus received before expiry of the time appointed by the Meeting for keeping open the Ballot shall be opened by the Scrutineers and placed in the Ballot Box. Provided that the Scrutineers shall reject as informal any voting paper on which votes are shown for more or less than the number of Directors required to be elected.

b. When a Ballot is demanded by five Members present at the meeting, on some question other than the election of Directors, in which case the Ballot shall take place at the Meeting or on some day within a week thereafter to be determined by the Meeting; and any Member shall have power to appoint by a proxy paper any other Member to vote in his name at such ballot, but no Member shall be allowed to vote as proxy for more than 12 Members, and all proxy papers must be lodged with the Secretary for examination at least three days before the meeting.

In either of these cases the voting shall be according to the following scale, that is to say:—"Every member who contributes or may have fully paid for an Assurance or an Endowment of £100 shall have one vote, and for every additional £100 an additional vote. Every member subscribing for or receiving an Annuity of £5 shall have one vote, and for every additional £5 of Annuity so subscribed for or received another vote. No Member shall have more than ten votes in all, and no minor shall have a vote. When two or more persons are members by virtue of any policy, the Member or surviving Member whose name appears first in the policy, or in the notice to the Association of the assignment thereof, if present, or if not present then the next in succession being present, shall be the person entitled to vote in respect of such policy. But any person or persons holding the Power of Attorney of any Member shall, in the absence of such Member, be entitled to vote on his behalf, provided that such Power of Attorney shall contain power to vote and shall have been produced to the Secretary for examination prior to the day of voting, and be determined by him to be sufficient. In event of voting taking place according to the system indicated in clauses A or B of this By-law, three members present at the meeting, and willing to act, shall be chosen by the members present by show of hands to act as scrutineers; and such Scrutineers, or a majority of them, after examining the ballot papers, shall report the result to the Chairman, who shall then declare to the meeting, or an adjournment thereof, how the question has been decided, and in the event of an equality of votes the Chairman shall have a casting vote. Any meeting may be adjourned for the purpose of receiving the result of the Ballot, and the Ballot may be taken in the interval. All other details connected with the voting shall be managed by the Directors, subject to any resolution which the meeting may pass with reference thereto. Any officer of the Association may be appointed a Scrutineer should the meeting so wish.

X. That in case of any vacancy in the office of Director occasioned by death, resignation, disqualification, or removal from Office, such vacancy shall, within two months after the same shall first happen, be filled up by the Directors at a Special Meeting to be called for the purpose by the appointment of some duly qualified Member to the office, unless such vacancy shall happen in the month of June in any year, in which case some duly qualified Member shall be elected at the Yearly General Meeting to fill such vacancy, and such member so elected by the directors or by the yearly general meeting shall continue in office until the expiration of the time that such deceased, disqualified, removed, or retiring director might have continued in office. Provided always that if two or more such vacancies in the Board of Directors shall happen to be so filled up together at any yearly general meeting, the person elected by the greatest number of votes shall be allowed to select the vacancy that he may prefer to fill, or if two or more vacancies be so filled up together by the directors, the directors shall determine at the time of election which vacancy each new director shall be elected to fill.

XI. That at any Special General Meeting duly convened and held in manner herein provided and called for that purpose, any director or auditor may be removed by the votes of the members taken upon voting papers in a similar manner to that prescribed for the election of directors in bylaw VII.

XXXIV. There shall be two auditors of the Association elected by the Members, whose duty it shall be to inspect the books, accounts, cash books and vouchers, and all the documents of the Association, and all securities and other assets of the Association, and to call in the aid of the Officers, Clerks, and Servants of the Association, and they shall make a report thereon to the Board of Directors quarterly, and oftener if required by the Board, or desired by themselves; and the remuneration to such Auditors may be determined by the Members at any Yearly General Meeting, and shall continue at such rate annually until altered in like manner. At each Yearly General Meeting the Auditor then longest in office shall retire, and shall not be eligible for re-election. If both Auditors shall have been in office for the same length of time, it shall be determined by lot (unless mutually agreed upon) which shall be the retiring Auditor. Should a vacancy occur by death, resignation or removal from office, the Board may appoint an Auditor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of his predecessor.

XLII. That every General Meeting of the Members of the Association, whether Yearly or Special, shall be convened by the Directors, by giving not less than thirty-five days' previous notice, either by advertisement in one or more of the Sydney daily newspapers, or by circular letters, addressed to the several Members as herein provided, stating the day, hour, and place of Meeting, and also the business to be transacted thereat.

LIII. That every person so admitted shall (subject and except as hereinafter provided) continue to be a Member until his death, or until all claims on the funds incurred by virtue of any Policy or Policies effected by such Member shall have become legally due or shall be extinguished, and every person subscribing for or receiving an Annuity purchased from the Association shall also be a Member. Provided, however, that the Policy of every Member shall be void, and he shall cease to be a Member so far as he is entitled to be one by virtue of such Policy, and all moneys which shall have been paid in relation thereto shall be forfeited to the Association in any of the following cases:—

(1.) If any contribution in respect of the premium of his policy, which he shall have contracted to pay into the funds of the Association in reference thereto, shall be in arrear and remain unpaid after the expiration of thirty days from the date on which the same shall have become due and payable: Provided, however, that it shall be lawful for the Board to reinstate such forfeited Policy at any time within twelve months after the expiration of such thirty days, on payment of the arrears of premium due, with such fine as they may determine, and on compliance with such other conditions as they may impose: Provided, also, that if at the time of non-payment of premium as aforesaid, under a policy upwards of three years in force, the "Surrender Value of such Policy, as fixed by the Board after deducting the amount of any Loan granted by the Association on such Policy, and the interest accrued thereon, shall be sufficient to cover not less than one-fourth of the Annual Premium specified therein, the Assurance thereunder shall continue in force until such time as the arrears of premium accumulated with interest at the rate of eight pounds per centum per annum shall have exhausted such "Surrender Value."

In event of a claim arising under a policy during the time it is kept in force by the "Surrender Value," the arrears of premium with interest as aforesaid up to the date of such claim, and the balance of the Annual Premium for any portion of the then current year of Assurance, shall be deducted from the moneys payable by the Association in respect of such policy.

OUR BRISBANE LETTER.

BRISBANE, Nov. 3.

During the week, there have been several manifestations of the death-throes which precede the termination of a Parliamentary session. Some of the spasms of agony have been remarkably vigorous for a session so far gone into a condition of atrophy. For instance, on Monday last, when the House went into committee of supply, Mr. Brookes again dragged in his hobby—the coloured labourer. He wanted the Government to say whether or not it was true that there was, as reported, a vessel off the coast, loaded with Cingalese for the sugar plantations in the Bundaberg district. He also called the attention of the committee to telegrams in the daily newspapers, referring to the tragical vagaries of a maniacal Polynesian on the labour schooner Roderick Dhu, whom the Government agent was compelled to shoot to prevent the loss of other lives by the maniac's tomahawk: also, to reports of return islanders being landed on wrong islands and exposed, consequently, to maltreatment or massacre. The Premier characterised Mr. Brookes' long indictment as "one of his usual chapel speeches;" he also branded the discussion of the kanaka question by the House of Commons and the English press as "disgraceful." To this Mr. Griffith responded by saying that "calling members of the House of Commons bad names would not have any beneficial effect on the public of Great Britain." As to Cingalese, he (Mr. Griffith) presumed it must be a fact that a shipload of them was expected, for agents were already advertising for applications for them from employers of labour. The Premier would not be drawn out on the subject. He did, however, inform the committee that he had ordered an investigation to be immediately made into the cases of landing returned labourers on wrong islands.

When the item "miscellaneous services" came on, there was considerable spasmodic agony. It included £600 for revising the statutes of the colony. This was in addition to £200 voted last year for the same object. Altogether Mr. F. A. Cooper, member for Cook, has received £1000 for that work. Mr. Griffith called attention to the item. On the 19th October, 1881, according to the Auditor-General's report, a final payment of £100 was made to Mr. Cooper on account of that work. Up to that time he had received £500. This was the sum originally agreed to be paid to him; but subsequently he was asked by the Attorney-General—another Cooper, and a blood relation—to prepare an index for the volumes. That was estimated to be worth another sum of £500. Singular to say, a sum of £400 was paid only three or four days before the present session of Parliament met, when, according to general rumour, Mr. F. A. Cooper intended to leave the colony. The explanation about the additional work involved by the preparation of an index has been a long time in coming. It is reluctantly accepted now by many people. It was stated on Monday that it has taken the Premier nine months to discover that his protege has done more work than he first contracted to do. Mr. Griffith contended that the work of revision had been imperfectly done. He also drew attention to the circumstance that the Auditor-General's report accounts for £900; but now another £100 has crept into the account. As for the £400 paid in June last, as "a further and final payment," "everybody," added Mr. Griffith, "knows that sum was paid for his services in that House during the present session. He believed it was a shameful transaction—a bribe to a member of the House to render faithful support to the Government during the present session." This brought Mr. Cooper to his feet in a very wrathful mood. "He gave that statement a most direct lie. With a due sense of the responsibility of the position that he occupied as a member of that House, he would say, and that deliberately, that out of hell there was no greater liar and slanderer than the hon. member." Mr. M'Lean rose to a point of order. The Premier stigmatised the language as "abominable," and requested the Chairman to call Mr. Cooper to order. The words were taken down, reported to the Speaker, condemned, then withdrawn and apologised for. On the committee resuming, Mr. Cooper entered into a long speech to show that the leader of the Opposition was no better than he should be.

Another of the week's sensations has been the formal committal of a member for contempt. The junior member for Wide Bay is well known for his uncontrollable propensity for liquors stronger than tea and coffee. He has frequently exhibited his peculiar antics to the Legislative Assembly. Yesterday he several times interrupted the debates of the Assembly, and refused to comply with, simply because he did not understand, the remonstrances of the Speaker. At last patience wore out, and on the motion of the Premier, the member was adjudged to be guilty of contempt. The venerable Sergeant-at-Arms marched him off. Mr. Price entered Parliament in the Opposition interest, and for some time sat on that side: by-and-by he was won over to the Government side, and his vote has been valuable.

Since the date of my last letter there has been a debate on immigration. An amusing feature in it was the grave objection taken by Mr. M'Lean to the inducement held out by Mr. Russell, emigration lecturer, in Scotland, to single females to emigrate to Queensland. The inducement was that they had only to come out and they would find rich squatters waiting to enfold them within the embraces of matrimony. Mr. M'Lean thought the lecturer had drawn both on his own imagination and that of his interesting auditors. From the information elicited it would seem that a Mr. A. J. Boyd, who has written a few articles in advocacy of Coolie labour for the sugar plantations, has received a commission to lecture in some part of England. The Treasury generously helps to pay his expenses out of gratitude for his services on behalf of coloured labour. The arrangement is quite convenient—to him. I see by an English paper that his oratory does not draw large crowds. The Scotch lecturer has been re-engaged for another year. There is nothing stated about the re-engagement of Mr. Randall, the lecturer of the rural parts of England. As for Ireland, there is no need of a lecturer there; no arguments, inducements, nor persuasions are needed to secure even far more than a fair proportion of Irish emigrants. The fact is we do receive more than a due proportion from that country. We have been importing constables and school teachers of that nationality, without offering a chance to English or Scotch of the same classes.

Yesterday the time of the Assembly was again occupied in a discussion on the claim of Dr. Hobbs for compensation for injury done to his property at the lower end of Queen-street by municipal improvements—cutting down of streets—which entirely mined the houses owned by Dr. Hobbs. An action for damages against the corporation was lost on account of defective legislation. Three Parliamentary committees have sat on the claim; they have nearly crushed it to death. Yesterday the votes were equal; the Speaker gave his casting vote with the noes, and declared the motion negatived. Had he voted otherwise, nothing more could have come of the motion this session. The case is one of great hardship and injustice. The doctor is clearly entitled to compensation, but it is a serious question whether that compensation should come out of the pockets of the ratepayers of the whole colony.

The most sensational political event of the week has been the proceedings of a select committee on the relations of the firm of B. D. Morehead and Co. to certain land sales in 1881 in the Peak Downs and Springsure districts. Yesterday, by permission, the committee brought up a progress report, which was printed, and during the evening was circulated. When the formal business was concluded, and the Appropriation Bill passed, the leader of the Opposition moved the adjournment of the House in order that he might have an opportunity of addressing the House on the report. He spoke for an hour and a half; he was quite temperate in tone and language; he marshalled his extracts from the minutes of evidence with consummate skill, and claimed to have proved his charge that large areas of land had been sold at less than their value at the solicitation of a firm of which the Postmaster-General was the head, and that the applications for the lands to be put up for sale by auction at 10s. per acre were made by that firm as agents for the lessees. When this charge was first made, 10 days ago, the Premier denied very indignantly that one Minister had influenced another to offer these lands below their value; for when the price was fixed Mr. Morehead was not a member of the Government. The evidence discloses the following facts:—That in January, 1881, the Minister for Lands was trying to dispose of some of these lands at 15s. per acre to somebody in Melbourne; that Mr. Douglas, when in office, had refused 20s. for some of them; that in February and March, 1881, four letters were received by the Minister for Lands, from Messrs. B. D. Morehead and Co., asking as agents for the lessees, for certain lands to be offered at auction, and guaranteeing that they should all be taken at 10s. per acre, that the Executive minutes, authorising the proclamation of the land directly in question, were initialled by B. D. M. amongst others; and that the lands were sold. It also came out in evidence that one of the parties to the purchase—one firm of lessees—had been charged a commission of either 2½ or 5 per cent. for services rendered. The leader of the Opposition, at the request of the Government, left himself off the committee. It was understood that he was to be allowed to ask any questions through the chairman. As a matter of fact, he did, on the first day, ask several questions; so did the Premier. Some of the information elicited by Mr. Griffith's questions was not agreeable to a majority of the committee. At their next sitting they passed a resolution, by a majority, that no person but a member of the committee should be allowed to ask any questions or make any suggestions when the committee was sitting. That looked like a breach of faith and a desire to prevent full enquiry. When Mr. Morehead was called as a witness he absolutely refused to answer any questions. His excuse was that "the charges were based on rumours, the rumours had not been proved; he thought it would not be consistent with his honour, nor with his dignity to be called upon to rebut charges made against him and his firm on unsubstantiated rumours. He preferred to leave his case and the case of his firm to be judged by the committee, on the evidence of Mr. Griffith and the other witnesses called."

Mr. Griffith had not been able to secure the evidence of any one of the lessees who had been purchasers of land. Whether he should have stated his charges without first assuring himself that he could prove them is open to serious doubt. He was frustrated in London nearly two years ago; he has been partly frustrated again. It is true that if the firm of Morehead and Co. have not been mixed up with those land sales they could easily have said so, but they were not required to criminate themselves. The Premier claimed a complete exoneration of the Ministry from corrupt influence. He could not any longer say that Mr. Morehead was not a Minister when the price of the lands was determined. He got over that by saying that it was arranged in Cabinet Council in August or September, 1880, that the great gap in the Treasury was to be filled up by the sale of £175,000 worth of land. The Peak Downs and Springsure lands were included in the schedules. If they would not sell for more money they were to be forced off at 10s. per acre, to meet a great financial exigency. This decision was come to before Mr. Morehead joined the Ministry. It was a pity that Mr. M'Ilwraith did not confine himself to argument. In a case of this sort nothing is gained by calling an opponent a "slanderer." The debate was continued till 3 o'clock a.m. If the present case stops where it is, nobody but partisans will be satisfied. The Government is strong and able; they could well afford to keep entirely clear of these recurring scandals. Whether the influence of a private firm, of which a Minister is the head, be corrupt or harmless, it is not desirable that the influence should be paramount. It cannot fail to breed distrust, envy, and suspicion.

NEW ZEALAND.

We extract the following from the New Zealand Herald, up to the 31st ultimo:—

At a meeting between Mr. Bryce and Tawhiao, the latter in a feeble way, and evidently merely to test the ground upon which he had to tread, again claimed the territory from Mangatawhiri. Mr. Bryce soon brought him down from that perch, and "the King" then referred to the offers made to him by Sir Donald M'Lean and Sir George Grey. He said he was nearly coming to terms with Sir Donald M'Lean, and would have closed with Sir George Grey, but for some European. Tawhiao said that Mr. Bryce knew whom he meant, but the public does not, and would like to hear. Tawhiao was foolish enough to think that these offers were open to him to accept whenever he chose, and he lets us know that he would accept them now. Further on Mr. Bryce points out forcibly to Tawhiao how the Maoris are divesting themselves of their land, and that if the Government simply follow its course, the whole structure of kingism, and possibly the existence of the race, would go to wreck. Some arrangements should be made by which the canoe might be guided instead of drifting. Mr. Bryce then warns the Maniapoto that they joined in the movement which elected a king and lost the Waikatos their land, and intimates that they must join in making provision for Tawhiao. Mr. Bryce then laid his propositions before the natives. They are to get no territory, but what they have is to be disposed of for their welfare. Part of their land to be leased, the owners to get the benefit; and of what they sell a portion of the proceeds is to be invested for the benefit of themselves and their children. Rewi was present at the meeting at Whatiwhatihoe. He came into Alexandra about midday in a buggy, accompanied by Dr. Buller and Major Jackson. He approves of the proposed English Land Company and the Auckland Native Lands Colonisation Company, but he thinks they should unite, in which case he himself would become a director.

The following circular has been received in Dunedin, dated Head-quarters of the Salvation Army, London, August 30:—"You will be glad to hear that we are fully resolved to send officers to New Zealand as soon as possible. We have just sent off a major and a large number of officers and soldiers to Australia, and he is instructed as quickly as possible to establish at least one central station in each of the colonies, so that we hope, before the year is over, you may hear of the Salvation Army in New Zealand. We are always thankful for the kind letters and promises of help, although we do not rely upon them entirely, as we have almost always found that where good soul-saving work is done the means are very soon forthcoming to support it on the spot.—(Signed) R. WALTON."

Captain R. White, for some years a shipchandler at Timaru, dropped dead in the Resident Magistrate's Court there on October 30. He was for a great many years trading as master of the Rose Hannah, Rose Nightingale, and other vessels on the coast.

An improved permanent way for tramways and railways has been patented by W. A. Harper and T. Denniston, of Oamaru. The proposed way is calculated to cost £800 per mile as against £1600 for the present system.

At a meeting of the Railway Engine Drivers and Firemen's Association of Dunedin the following resolution was carried:—"That if any locomotive employee get dismissed through being a member of, or taking an active part in the association, the members of the branch of which such employee is a member, upon being convinced of this, at once take immediate action to stay off work."

The death is announced of Mr. Wilson E. W. Morrison, of the Auckland College and Grammar School, which occurred somewhat suddenly on Saturday morning, October 28. Mr. Morrison was the son of a clergyman engaged in clerical work not far from Saltaire (Sir Titus Salt's village), in the West Riding of Yorkshire, who afterwards removed to the north of London. He was educated at St. Peter's School, York, and Queen's College, Oxford. His career at St. Peter's was a brilliant one. In 1866 he won a foundation scholarship in this school, and in 1870 was elected to a Lady Hastings' Classical Exhibition at Queen's College, Oxford. He was three years in the sixth form of St. Peter's School under the Rev. R. Elwyn, at one time head master of the Charterhouse, and senior classic of his year at Cambridge.

At the Resident Magistrate's Court, Christchurch, Herman Hempton was charged with forging and uttering five promissory notes, viz., for £78 12s., purporting to be signed by James Martin and discounted by Hyam Marks; for £248 16s., also James Martin, discounted by the Bank of New Zealand; for £196, signed by Arthur Empson, discounted by the Bank of New Zealand; for £150, signed by J. A. Horonan, discounted by the Bank of New Zealand; for £146, signed by Arthur Empson, not discounted. The witnesses examined were the parties whose names had been forged, the bill clerk of the Bank of New Zealand, the teller of the National Bank, the arresting constable, and Hyam Marks. Hempton, who was undefended, stated that he was about to give himself up when arrested. He was committed for trial on the five charges.

On a Northern run it has been discovered that wild pigs are very destructive to lambs. One boar, which was killed and opened, contained no less than 20 lambs' feet, and another also showed that it had been feeding on that delicate dish.

A man named C. P. Williams, who came from England a year ago, was killed by a fall from a house on a farm.

A number of gentlemen met at Dr. Wallis' residence, Auckland, for the purpose of considering the advisability of forming an association for the repeal of the Contagious Diseases Act. It was arranged that a public meeting should be held at an early date in support of that object.

WOOLLOOMOOLOO BAY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In some of your recent issues you brought under the attention of the authorities and the public the existence of hulks aground at Woolloomooloo Bay; but your remonstrance does not appear to have had the desired effect, and this public scandal still exists. The silting up of sewage matter in this locality will in the summer be dangerous to the inhabitants. These hulks are, moreover, objectionable to the sight, and a serious obstruction to the use of a large sheet of water in the bay. If the authorities with whom the charge of this portion of the harbour is administered will take action they will prevent a public meeting being called in order to prevent what threatens to be a source of little short of a plague. I am, &c.,

POTTS'S POINT.

Messrs. Hardie and Gorman wish to direct special attention to their outdoor sales of next Saturday afternoon. The Highbury Estate, situate at Croydon Railway Station, allotments and cottages to be sold on such favourable terms, viz., only 10 per cent. deposit, and the balance by 36 monthly payments, interest 5 per cent. per annum. Intending purchasers should not delay in calling for a lithograph and a free railway pass. At Balmain there are 47 allotments, situated on the highest part of that favourite and thriving suburb, directly opposite Callan Park. Omnibuses will [illegible] on the day of sale.—[Advt.]

VICE, DISEASE, AND THE STATE.

In attempting to deal with the subject of contagious diseases the Assembly is sure to be told that "men cannot be made moral by Act of Parliament." But this is only a stalking-horse, though it promises its friends and threatens its foes to be as useful and as mischievous as the "poor man" used to be, but who since the days of co-operation and strikes for high wages has fallen somewhat into the shade. Sensible people are supposed to be sufficiently admonished when this wooden bogie is merely led out, and all other people completely convinced, when it is ridden with some spirit, no matter which side of a question supplies the rider. And yet every now and again people and Parliament are compelled by the forces of the times to deal, or to try to deal, with moral questions under the guise of dealing with licensing laws, Criminal Law Amendment Acts, charities, asylums, and gaols. However broad may be the difference between the physical and the moral in these cases, practically they are interwoven as warp and woof. The fact that they are inseparable is not the most notable. Crime, vice, and disease are bottomless pits of misery with which private enterprise cannot deal effectively. The authority and power of Parliaments must be called in, no less to deal with vice than with disease, no less to deal with disease than with crime. By some folk vice is thought to be so strictly a personal thing that society cannot touch it without trenching upon personal liberty, and since the liberty of the many is the liberty of each one, to limit that is to supply a remedy worse than the disease. But who does not know that the results of wrong doing, both near and remote, always reach beyond the wrong doer? And, if not sooner, yet certainly at the line where consequences pass from the personal to the general, any power which exists for the common good has the right of self-preservation to step in, to interdict, to restrain, or to punish. To say the least of it, our Parliament is not simply justified in noticing, but is bound to notice the presence of a great social evil, which is said by competent authority to be abnormally on the increase. This particular vice has, by the peculiarity of its character and its consequences, won for itself the notorious distinction of being the darkest and most direful of evils. It is a very old vice, and it is quite universal as to countries. If there is a country in which it is not notoriously flagrant, its modified form is due to causes only a little less deplorable than the vice itself. Among some savage tribes there is a species of community of persons as well as of goods, a community so promiscuous that it leaves no space for those phases of evil commerce presented in civilised countries. We in New South Wales are not alone in our shame, nor is our shame absolutely if comparatively the deepest. The shame exists, and as we have said, is increasing, notwithstanding the fact that so many agencies are at work whose powerful forces are of a kind to deter and diminish the erring and the vicious. Passing by all such as are of a decidedly religious character, we may name some which bear upon persons who may be quite beyond the pale of religious power. For instance, in some countries poverty is pleaded; it cannot be pleaded here. Work is abundant and wages are high. So great is the demand for domestic labour that the character of an applicant cannot be nicely inquired into. In some countries ignorance is pleaded; it cannot be pleaded here. In the matter of technical education this country may not rank so high as some countries do, but most people can read, and if they have no other literature, the daily newspapers make them familiar with laws, justice, manners, and kindred themes, so that very few can plead ignorance. The freedom we enjoy, and the public character of much of our intercourse in business and in pleasure, are strongly against vice. But still, so long as some are weak by nature, and some vicious, there will be devils to tempt and victims to be lured to ruin. We are asked, therefore, to deal not so much with the philosophy as with the facts of the case; we must not stop to ask, "Need persons fall into mischief?" but "Do they fall?" Philosophy is a very fine thing, very. But in these cases it is much like the paradoxes of Moses Primrose, and is destined to a similar fate. "Well, my boy, and what did the learned world say to your paradoxes?" "Sir, the learned world said nothing." That is still the state of the case between philosophy and practical remedies for human ill. Let us face our duty. Let us ask to what extent this social cancer has sent down its fangs into the passions and lives of men. Always there are to be found timid persons who are afraid to do that; they fondly hope that to shut an object out of sight is to shut it out of the world. Too often this disposition is as much the result of ignorance as of the want of courage. Some gentlemen who have spoken in Parliament, and others who have spoken as private citizens, do not, if we may judge them by their words, know anything about this dark theme. There exist certain Continental Acts, an English Act, and colonial Acts, differing very much in their provisions, and in the methods of their application. But to be guided by some advisers one would conclude that all these Acts are alike, and that they all are alike bad. That is quite a mistake. The Acts differ a good deal, and the working of some of them is such that one or two of the most forceful objections to the French Act do not touch them. Then, too, some of the gentlemen who have spoken and written upon this subject forget the old warning, Ne sutor ultra crepidam. If a medical gentleman speaks he runs away upon the moral aspects of the question; and if a clergyman writes he revels in the physical; and generally up to the present we have had only one-sided, hot-headed advocacy, where we needed thorough inquiry and calm judgment. In proof and illustration of these points see the paper supplied from the Nonconformist and Independent, and published in the Herald on October 27. It was meant to be a critical analysis of a report presented by a committee of the House of Commons. And critical it is, and able, too, in many ways, but so prejudiced as to be of little value to an impartial reader. Here is a specimen:—"Taking the official calculations for what they are worth, one of them gives a daily saving of 5·17 men per 1000 to the efficient strength of the army. This, on the average strength in the 'protected' districts of 50,000 men, yields a total of 258. Assuming that this saving is attributable to the Acts, it is gained at an expense of £30,000 per annum, or £116 per annum for each man. From a financial point of view this is not a very satisfactory result to credit the Acts with." If the physical efficiency of the military were the only good sought by the Acts, there would be some force in this reasoning; but it is not. If the military were the only persons to be benefited there would be more force still; but they are not. And if such things as physical health and moral character could be valued by figures and paid for in money, we should all agree that this is paying dearly for our whistle; but they cannot be so valued and paid for. Lower down in the article the critic says, "The mere fact of the presence or absence of these Acts in any station, or set of stations, does not, per se, account for high or low ratios of disease." He also says, "The returns show that the reduction of disease in the subjected stations is no greater since than before the application of the Acts. But it appears that since the Acts the disease is severer in the subjected districts than in the unsubjected." There is one sentence more that we must put with those two. "From the figures, however, it appears that, anterior to the operation of the Acts, some cause or causes had been at work, reducing disease both in the stations afterwards brought under, and in those never brought under, the Acts; but the fall after in the subjected districts was continuous and regular, while that in the never subjected districts was fluctuating and irregular, besides being less in amount." Could anyone tell from these quotations on which side this advocate holds his brief? He says that the presence of the Acts makes no difference; that it makes things worse; that it makes them better. In his summary of the evil consequences of the working of the English Acts, he says all the facts are on one side—all the opinions are on the other. But, unhappily for us, a writer on the other side might make a precisely similar statement in his own favour. Whenever the committee appointed by our Assembly shall begin its work, it will be in a position to command indubitable evidence of the working of an Act now in force in Queensland. When that evidence has been heard, possibly in the judgment of many the facts will be for the Acts, and the opinions against them. It will be possible to establish these positions. The first difficulty in working these Acts is to secure a proper registration. Those persons who don't know anything about it are very loud in declaiming against the danger of this to innocent persons. There is no telling, they say, what the police will do. How many Acts are there already as to which the police stand in precisely the same relation to the people? In fact, every statute law creates a relation between the police and the public, so that the objection thus taken to these peculiar Acts holds for all. The utmost that a policeman can do is to summon a suspected person. When before the magistrate he must bring witnesses and proofs, and it will be found that in the neighbouring colony there has never been a single case of persecution. There have been a few prosecutions, but only a few. When these few cases are inquired into, they are found to be cases of women who do not desire from modesty to shrink from registration, but who, out of bravado, prefer to defy the law. As a rule, the police seldom have occasion to interfere, the registration being performed voluntarily. The next question is, does this process prevent disease? On the testimony of reliable witnesses it does. There are forms of it—the worst and most deadly—which entirely disappear. Some facts can be given which it may not be safe here to detail, such as are known generally only to doctors and the police. But the extent to which disease is checked can never be gauged by statistics. Who can tell how far a case of blood poisoning may go—and therefore who can tell how much has been done if it is stopped in its first victim? To say that no good is done must be to belie the medical art. Are medical men willing that this shall be made a standard of comparison for all their work? It will be found to be a fact that all forms of this blood poisoning are modified, and that is the object of the Acts. It is all very well to say that bad people must take the consequences of their misdeeds. If the bad consequences could be confined to the bad people we might consent, but they cannot be, and, we rejoin, it is our duty to do what we can to save the innocent and the unborn. Then we have to consider this question: Do these Acts diminish vice? By some this is called the sentimental view of the case. It need not be so called. There is nothing specially sentimental about it. It need not be called moral. This thing may be looked at as a social disorder, a thing that deranges domestic life, the good order, and the safety of the community. Are these things secured by the Acts? The answer will be, that many young women are certainly deterred from a life of disorder; that many, after a short time of registration go into private life. Having regained health and hope, many a poor girl tries to regain self-respect and character. It is admitted by the opponents of these Acts that they drive registered persons to unsubjected districts; but if there were no such districts that resale would not take place. It is allowed by the friends of these Acts that they drive such persons into private practice. Well, vice any way is bad, but public and shameless vice is worse. Something is gained to public order by delicacy and privacy. Statistics can be had to show that the above is a correct statement of the case for Queensland, and they go directly opposite to the statement that registered persons leave the lock hospital, and go with all the more confidence to their old haunts and ways. Some other facts as to the influence of these Acts on men can also be given, not at all in favour of the theory that the less the danger the greater the vice. Unfortunately, men addicted to vice of any kind do not often stop to ask what will be the consequences. If they did so in this case they would do so in many others, if not in all. When a man makes up his mind to perpetrate a murder, he does not think much about the gallows; and if he wants to commit a forgery, he does not dream of Darlinghurst. It is never half so much, if at all, the penalty of wrongdoing as a sense of right that keeps men from wrong. The severity of a penalty has not much to do with it either. When men were hanged for sheep-stealing, sheepstealing was a common offence. And offenders under the Acts we are speaking of are of a class of men who are the least of all likely to be influenced by consequences. That, too, is a fact that can be given in evidence. We get rid of much confusion by agreeing at the outset what these Acts are meant to do. No one Act can cover everything; and we must not quarrel with a partial Act because it is not general. Crime, ignorance, disease, poverty, and suchlike things may be treated separately, though they so constantly run into one another. A law passed for one must beneficially affect some of the others; but if a law passed to deal with disease does not eradicate vice, we must not say it has failed; and most persons will allow that vice without disease is only half as bad as with it. The Rev. Mr. Kirby and others desire to do some great thing on the moral side of this subject. Let them try, and may they succeed; but they have neither right nor reason with them in trying to hinder those who think that something may be done on the physical side also.

EXPERIENTIA DOCET.

SYDNEY HOSPITAL.

The monthly meeting of the Sydney Hospital Committee of Management took place at the institution yesterday afternoon. There were present:—Hon. Dr. Renwick (president), in the chair; Rev. C. Stephen and Mr. John R. Street (vice-presidents), Mr. John Pope (hon. treasurer), and Messrs. J. Donovan, I. Josephson, J. Starkey, F. Senior, M. Chapman, J. Graham, R. Fowler, John Davies, W. G. Murray, S. Burdekin, and F. Abigail, and Drs. M'Kay and Morgan.

The minutes of last meeting, as also those of the house committee meetings held in the interim, were read and confirmed.

The permanent structure committee, through the president, reported that since last meeting the sum of £5000 had been paid to the contractor on account of the basement story.

The accounts for the month of October were passed for payment as follows:—Salaries and wages, officers and servants, £211 13s. 4d.; salaries and wages, nursing staff, £125 10s. 6d.; salaries and wages, Mooreliff staff, £26 10s.; provisions, £317 5s. 11d.; groceries, £56 6s. 2d.; drapery and clothing, £47 17s. 9d.; furniture and household utensils, £74 2s. 2d.; printing, stationery, and advertising, £55 10s. 3d.; washing, £61 17s. 6d.; aerated waters, £6 16s.; ice, £9 2s. 4d.; surgical apparatus, £25 15s. 9d.; surgical instruments, £24 8s. 3d.; surgical dressings, £26 6s. 6d.; drugs, £27 16s. 11d.; coffins and funerals, £16; commission, £5 8s. 6d.; petty expenses, £21 12s. 10d.; building and repairs, &c., £191 12s. 10d.: total, £1331 13s. 6d.

The Hon. Treasurer (Mr. Pope) reported that he had received the sum of £100, the amount of a legacy from the late Hon. S. D. Gordon, through his executors, and in consideration of the same he proposed the election as a life governor of the hospital of Mr. Dodds, solicitor, of Bligh-street, that gentleman being the first-named executor. The proposition was agreed to.

A list of the patients in the hospital on the 31st ultimo, and the district surgeon's reports for the past month, were laid on the table.

Attention was drawn to a letter which appeared in a newspaper of the 1st instant, purporting to be signed by one F. Burgess, in which the writer complained of his child's treatment at the hands of the resident medical officer.

The Secretary (Mr. Russell) informed the meeting that the child was admitted at the Government expense.

Enquiry was ordered to be made into the circumstances of the child's father, and if it were proved that he was in a position to pay for the treatment the patient had received, it was resolved that he should be compelled to do so.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Mr. Burton Bradley has not mentioned all the causes of the numerous "pale faces" that he saw at Croydon. Not very far away from that station there are about 30 acres of flat land, no part of which is 10 feet above the tide level. This land is a tenacious clay, mixed with ironstone gravel, forming a cold, damp bottom most unsuitable for dwellings unless they are carefully drained and ventilated. The whole space is thickly built over, and many of the dwellings have their floors in close proximity to the ground. These dwellings for the most part are small and crowded together. The entire flat, by reason of its dampness and slight elevation, should never have been used as building ground. Every dwelling erected there ought to have had a space of at least two feet between the ground and the floor, a trench at least three feet should have been dug around the premises, and several large ventilators at least 18 by 12 inches should have been placed at the basement, giving light and air, without which in such a locality diseases have every chance of establishing a footing. None of the houses near Croydon are provided with these safeguards, and hence "pale faces" may always be looked for in that suburb, even though all the inhabitants sleep with their doors and windows open.

POLLUTION OF THE RIVER AT LIVERPOOL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Mr. Lackey, in his reply to the deputation which waited on him in reference to the above object, quoted some words which would give a very erroneous impression. The last words of a report which he read were—"It is satisfactory to find that the late heavy rains have flushed the offensive matter out of the river, and it will be some time before it can accumulate again."

No greater mistake can well be made. The river has been slightly flushed, and perhaps the mere surface of the offensive matter has been removed, but that is all. It is absolutely certain that if we have a fortnight's hot weather the nuisance will be as bad as ever. As part proof of this, the smell was most disagreeable even the night before last—that is, on the very day on which Mr. Lackey read the words. I am, &c.,

PARLIAMENT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7.

The SPEAKER took the chair at twenty-nine minutes past 4 o'clock.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

Sir JOHN ROBERTSON, in reply to Mr. Jacob for Mr. Reid, said it would take a long time to prepare certain information in regard to Crown lands sold and offered for sale. From 15th August to 21st September last 152,315 acres 2 roods 15 perches of Crown lands were offered as country lots, and 101,656 acres 2 roods 20 perches sold. Ninety-three persons purchased the same. The conditional purchase of Lewis M'Kenzie was declared void by the late Minister for Lands, Mr. Hoskins, upon the recommendation of the Chief Commissioner. The course taken with respect to the conditional purchase of Messrs. J. and A. Brown, and the reasons for it, were stated by him in his replies to Mr. M'Elhone's and to Mr. Reid's previous questions on the 31st August and 19th September last.

Mr. W. J. FOSTER, in reply to Mr. M'Elhone, said the Government had agreed to lease from Judge Josephson, for purposes of an Insolvent Court and offices, certain rooms of a building now in course of erection in Phillip-street, for a period of five years from the date of handing over possession of the premises, with the option of renewing same for one or two years longer if necessary, at the rate of £704 per annum. He had been informed privately that the building would cost £16,000.

Sir HENRY PARKES, in reply to Mr. M'Elhone, said he would lay upon the table a return relating to the case of Mrs. Hayes.

Mr. W. J. FOSTER, in reply to Mr. Cameron for Mr. E. Barton, said a deputation waited upon him some weeks ago to urge a fresh inquiry into the case of Alphonse Bechet, now a prisoner in Berrima. The deputation laid before him certain written statements, declarations, and other papers, which were submitted to the Judge who tried the case, with a view to finding whether they could have any important effect upon the question determined by the jury, and it did not appear that they were of such a nature as to make further inquiry necessary. There would be no objection to the production of all the documents in the case if moved for, except the expense of printing so much matter; but he would strongly object to the separate production of isolated portions, such as the statements, declarations, and papers referred to in the question.

Sir HENRY PARKES, in reply to Mr. M'Elhone, said he would lay upon the table a return relating to palm seeds and plants obtained from Lord Howe Island.

Sir JOHN ROBERTSON, in reply to Mr. Jacob, for Mr. Reid, said that during the years 1876, 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, and 1881, several cases of supposed violation of the 9th section of the Lands Act Amendment Act were investigated, but in no instance was the evidence considered sufficient to justify forfeiture. During the present year 11 conditional purchases had been forfeited for the reason stated.

Mr. J. WATSON, in reply to Mr. Pigott for Mr. Tarrant, said the quarantine station is provided with an apparatus for fumigating letters with sulphurous acid, which had been in use for 20 years. On the recommendation of Dr. M'Kellar, the present health officer, and with the approval of the Board of Health, he had sent to London for a large hot-air disinfecting furnace of the most modern type.

Mr. LACKEY, in reply to Mr. Jacob, said that certain information in regard to bridges and ferries would be laid upon the table in the course of a few days.

Mr. J. WATSON, in reply to Mr. Young, said a careful survey of the entrance to Port Macquarie, showing the position of the wreck of the Ballina, had been made. It was found that the wreck was buried in the sand in such a way as to render it impossible, considering the exposed position in which it was sunk, to lift it; and it was not improbable that any attempt to blow it up would only have the effect of breaking away those portions which are now above the water-level, and act as a beacon, which would leave matters worse than they are at present.

Dr. RENWICK, in reply to Mr. Young, said that instructions to survey the road through Pigeon Ground, Manning River, were issued by the Surveyor-General last August, but the plan had not yet been received from the district surveyor.

Mr. LACKEY, in reply to Mr. Young, said that notes, field books, plans, &c., of the Hastings River were destroyed by fire at the Garden Palace. A re-survey would be made as soon as an officer could be spared for the purpose.

Sir HENRY PARKES, in reply to Mr. Pigott, said it was the intention of the Government to ask Parliament to sanction the appropriation of part of the surplus for the purchase of reserves for public recreation.

DISTRICT COURT JUDGES.

Mr. W. J. FOSTER, in reply to Mr. Buchanan, said it was the intention of the Government to deal with the question of the salaries of the District Court Judges.

PETITION.

Mr. HAY presented a petition from hotelkeepers of Hay and Deniliquin, praying for amendments in the Licensing Act.

The petition was received.

PAPERS.

Ministers laid upon the table the following papers:—Return with regard to money which was collected for a Mrs. Hayes, and is now in the hands of Mr. Wise, immigration agent; return in reference to palm seeds and plants obtained from Lord Howe Island; return with reference to charges against Mr. Elliott, Public school teacher at Quipolly.

It was ordered that the documents be printed.

DISTRICT COURTS ACT AMENDMENT BILL.

Mr. J. P. ABBOTT moved the first reading of the District Courts Act Amendment Bill.

The motion was agreed to.

SITE FOR RAILWAY STATION AT RYLSTONE.

Mr. BUCHANAN moved that there be laid upon the table of this House copies of all papers, letters, and petitions between persons resident in Rylstone and the Minister for Works, or any Minister or officer of the Government, prior to the 30th September, 1882, in reference to a site for a railway station at Rylstone.

The motion was agreed to.

CONGREGATIONAL UNION INCORPORATION BILL.

Dr. RENWICK moved that the Congregational Union Incorporation Bill be read the third time.

The motion was agreed to, and the bill forwarded to the Legislative Council with the usual message.

COMPENSATION TO MR. HENRY HALLORAN.

Mr. COMBES moved,—"That this House will on Friday next resolve itself into a committee of the whole, to consider an address to the Governor, praying that his Excellency will be pleased to cause to be placed on the Supplementary Estimates for 1882 a sum of £200 as compensation to Henry Halloran, Esq., C.M.G., for land taken from him by the Ashfield municipality." He said in moving this resolution he would ask the attention of the House to the peculiar circumstances in which Mr. Halloran had been placed in reference to this matter. In the first place, the land itself was one of the oldest grants in the country. It was a portion of a grant that was made in 1794, only about six years after the colony was in existence, and in that day there were no reservations with reference to roads. This land was really granted almost as soon as a farm had been established at Parramatta, or Rose Hill, as it was then called, the stores of the men working the farm being taken up the river by a boat named the Lump. The road for a great many years after that, was simply a bush track; and it was not until 1817 that it was made fit for traffic. This grant was made long before any Acts of Parliament were passed with reference to roads, the first Act relating to roads being passed in 1835, and known as 6th William IV., No. 11. In that year a cottage existed on the land which was a portion of the present house occupied by Mr. Halloran, and it was situate within about 80 yards of the bush track which had since developed into the Parramatta-road. The house had been added to by Mr. Halloran, who had occupied it since 1843. It might be said that the question was entirely one between Mr. Halloran and the municipality of Ashfield, but it was nothing of the sort. This road was one of the public roads of the colony, and had never belonged to the municipality. This land was completely outside the pale of legislation, which had taken place afterwards. In 1817 this land was fenced. He had a letter signed by the late Captain Johnston, Messrs. Thomas M'Culloch, Theo. J. Jaques, David Ramsay, and James Byrnes, stating that they knew the fence to have stood in that position for half a century, and never did form or was supposed to form any part of the roadway. Their letter was as follows:—"We, the undersigned, have known the Parramatta-road passing in front of Ashfield Park during the last half century, and we certify that the fencing, as it stood in 1880, and until recently, in front of Mr. Halloran's property, called Mowbray, stood in the very line in which it had stood during that period, and that the portion thereof with the ornamental trees thereon, outside the present fence, never did form, nor was ever supposed to form any part of the public roadway, but was and was well known to be a part of the Ashfield Park property as far as our memory or knowledge extends.—Theo. J. Jaques, since 1837; Thos. M'Culloch, since 1830; Robt. Johnston, 1828; David Ramsay, 1840; H. S. Labatt, 1842; James Byrnes, 1817. Sydney, 28th November 1881." In the printed papers, great stress was laid upon a plan prepared by Captain Wilson, but that was a private plan, and should not be allowed to override the plans of Mr. Hoddle and other officers of the Department. The cottage was in existence before there was any legislation about roads at all. The fence was put up in 1817, and the first Road Act was passed in 1833. Although the papers passed through Mr. Halloran's hands, he did not know anything about them then because there was nothing particular to call his attention to them. When the land was taken from Mr. Halloran by the municipality, Mr. Halloran, thinking the matter was in the hands of the Roads Department, declined to fight the municipality. He did not now ask the House for any outside price for this one-sixth of an acre which had been taken from him. He simply asked the House for a small sum to recoup him for the loss he had sustained.

Dr. RENWICK said he had considerable sympathy with Mr. Halloran in this case, but he had a public duty to perform, and he regretted that he would have to oppose this resolution. (Hear, hear.) Application was made by the Municipal Council of Ashfield to have certain roads and streets aligned and proclaimed in the usual way. The Parramatta-road opposite Mr. Halloran's property called Mowbray was included. It was included at the suggestion of the Commissioner for Roads in whose charge the Parramatta-road and Liverpool-road were at that time placed. These proceedings all occurred during the time Mr. Halloran was Principal Under-Secretary, and the very proclamation was forwarded through Mr. Halloran. When the matter of the alignment of these roads came under the consideration of the Surveyor-General's Department special instructions were given with regard to the Parramatta-road, and special surveys were made in order to discover whether the provisions of the Acts then in force would have any effect in regard to these particular roads. If hon. members would turn to these Acts they would find ample provision for the special purposes referred to. In the second clause of 4 William IV., No. 11, power was given to the Government to form and alter any line of road, and under the 45th, 46th, and 47th clauses of the Police Towns Act powers were also given in reference to carriage and footways. These were the clauses upon which action was taken in this matter at the request of the Municipal Council of Ashfield in order that the streets might be widened to the extent necessary for the public convenience; and in order that the provisions of the law in regard to public roads might be carried out, all the preliminary steps usual in such cases were taken, and he was surprised that Mr. Halloran should not himself have noticed that the surveyor was aligning the road, a circumstance which was known to everybody. As far as he could see, and he had endeavoured to view the matter honestly, both in regard to Mr. Halloran's interests and the interests of the public, the requisitions of the law had been carried out in every respect by the Surveyor-General's Department. When it came to the manner of dealing with the alignments in regard to the replacing of fences, perhaps some hardship was occasioned, and perhaps Mr. Halloran's grievance originated at that stage. Mr. Halloran took down his fence for the purpose of making some necessary powers, and the municipality armed with the powers conveyed to them by the handing over of these roads from the Surveyor-General's Department, prevented him from replacing his fence in the position in which it originally stood. He had a grievance against the municipality and brought an action against them, but after consideration he withdrew it, finding he had no chance. Mr. Halloran then came and made a claim against the Government; but he submitted that if he had any claim it was against the municipality, and not the Government. Hon. members must also remember that if they formed a precedent in this case there were numbers of persons placed in precisely similar positions, who would ask for compensation. Taking the whole case into consideration, and viewing it in the light that Mr. Halloran was Principal Under-Secretary at the time this action was taken, seeing that due notice was given, and that the roads were handed over in the usual way, and that Mr. Halloran had every opportunity of getting his case reviewed, he hardly thought a case had been made out against the Government, and it would be improper on the part of the Government to place this sum upon the Estimates. Undoubtedly, Mr. Halloran had suffered injury by having this land taken away, but whatever view was taken of the matter he could not admit that there was any claim against the Government.

Mr. FARNELL said the law quoted by the Minister for Mines was obsolete in this colony, and he happened to know that the Crown law officers were preparing to ascertain the opinion of the Judges on the 4 William IV. The Government could not proclaim roads at all under that Act, and it had nothing at all to do with the arrangements made between the Department and the municipalities. If the Government did an injustice to an individual, they were liable for compensation. Mr. Halloran did not succeed against the municipality, because the municipality had no authority to deal with the matter. It was the Government who had the authority. The land was taken from Mr. Halloran by the authority of the Government, and Mr. Halloran had nothing at all to do with the private arrangement made between the Government and the municipality with reference to the alignment of these roads. He would support the motion, as he really thought Mr. Halloran was entitled to compensation.

Mr. M'ELHONE would vote against the motion. It was quite clear if a wrong had been done to Mr. Halloran he was a party to his own wrongdoing. If anyone ought to pay, it was the municipality, and not the Government.

Mr. PIGOTT said that none of the reasons given by the Minister for Mines could be taken as any answer to the charge that the Government had done an injustice to an individual. He had not touched upon the legal aspect of the case, nor the injustice done to Mr. Halloran. He thought he should be able to show that the alignment was illegal. The Government were wrong from first to last in the course they took, and that was the reason, apparently, why the Attorney-General had declined to give an opinion in the matter. He did not agree that this was a matter entirely between Mr. Halloran and the muncipality. The municipality willingly took over the road, but the Crown was the aggressor for putting the municipality in possession of the land, and an action would lie now against the Government for taking possession of the land. [Mr. BUCHANAN: Why not take it?] The answer was that Mr. Halloran did not wish to go to law against the Government. He would ask whether this was the manner in which men were to be treated who came to this House asking for justice when wrong had been done—that they should be told by a lawyer "Go to law"? No reason had been shown why compensation should not be granted. The Government from first to last were acting illegally. It had been said that Mr. Halloran had slept upon his rights; but it was only in December, 1880, that he discovered what had been done. He would ask if there was a single member of this House who read the Government Gazette, unless his attention was specially called to it for some special purpose, and so it was not right to say that Mr. Halloran could have had notice of this fact by the mere notice published in the Government Gazette. He submitted, therefore, that a fair case had been made out for compensation on the part of the Government.

Mr. POOLE said that hon. members had been very careful to rest Mr. Halloran's claim on the ground of occupation, but that they had not read the surveyor's report and inspected the accompanying plan, which showed that Mr. Halloran was in possession now of the land originally granted to him. The third clause of Mr. Surveyor Debenham's report would show this. As far as the alignment of the Great Western-road was concerned, Mr. Halloran had no claim against the House, and if he had a claim he should bring it against the municipality, and in the law courts.

Mr. BADGERY said that it was all very well for the hon. member, Mr Poole, to say that Mr. Halloran had now nearly all the land granted to him, but that there was proof that Mr. Halloran had occupied and improved this land for many years, and if there was a question as to whether or not this House could grant Mr. Halloran compensation he thought that the House could.

Mr. BYRNES said that in his view the municipality had no power to grant compensation for the land which had been taken, as it was portion of a main road, and the matter was one for the Government to deal with. He should support the resolution, as he thought Mr. Halloran was entitled to compensation.

Mr. ABIGAIL said he should oppose the resolution, as in his opinion Mr. Halloran knew he was encroaching upon the road, and the formation of that Parramatta-road had improved the value of his own property. If the House consented to this resolution there would be a plentiful crop of cases of this kind on the part of people who could get hon. members to take them up.

Mr. GARRARD said he should certainly vote against the resolution, as Mr. Halloran had not a leg to stand upon. He should long ago have taken the proper steps to assert his claim if he had one. In reading the correspondence he had been quite surprised at the impudence of Mr. Halloran, who accused the surveyor who laid out the road of taking more of his land and less of that of a friend of his than was necessary. Mr. Halloran had been most persistent in his attempts to press this claim, and to intimidate the Surveyor-General. Not content with merely speaking and writing, he worked round the offices of Ministers and brought pressure to bear on the Colonial Secretary. The claim had neither moral nor legal foundation, and it had been urged in a most impudent manner.

Mr. M'ELHONE: It's a good try on.

Mr. KIDD thought that Mr. Combes had offered good grounds for his motion, and that the evidence and report of the surveyor would justify hon. members in voting for it. The Goverment should see the equity of granting fair compensation for land they took for any purpose.

Mr. O'CONNOR thought that Mr. Halloran had put forward his claim in the most legitimate manner, and that the fact of his receiving a pension should in no way interfere with the justice of it. The question for them to consider was whether the claim was a just one or not. Mr. Halloran had occupied a high position in the Civil Service, and had been an honour to it, as well as to the colony, and if there was anything that would help forward a weak claim it was that fact. He had not made his appeal in a pettifogging manner by getting men to interview Ministers in their offices, but had placed his dependence upon its intrinsic merits, and this was enough to challenge their admiration. He hoped they would long have men like him—retiring after splendid service, and with such a character. For the reasons which had been adduced by Mr. Farnell he would have much pleasure in voting for the motion.

Mr. COMBES, in reply, explained that when the papers passed through Mr. Halloran's hands that gentleman was not aware that his property was endangered. There was no doubt in his mind that Mr. Halloran had a good claim against the Government in the matter, and he thought it had been preferred in a modest manner. Mr. Halloran was not an impudent man, and he only asked for justice. He had one-sixth of an acre of land taken from that before his house, and he would like to know if any member would like to suffer such a deprivation for the sake of £200. There was no alignment made at the express desire of Mr. Halloran, and the land had been fenced since 1817. This was proved by evidence, and when a gentleman made a claim for the small sum of £200, why, he would like to know, should it be regarded as an impudent one? A man who held land for so long a time should be permitted to hold it still, or receive compensation for it, and if there were people who would set his rights aside they were not alive to what were the rights of the people.

The question was put and negatived on the following division:—

MR. ALEXANDER RYRIE'S SELECTIONS.

Mr. M'ELHONE moved,—"That there be laid upon the table of this House a return showing—1. The number of conditional purchases standing in the name of Alexander Ryrie, Esq., M.L.A. 2. The names of the persons who transferred such conditional purchases to A. Ryrie, Esq.; the dates on which such conditional purchases were transferred, the area of each conditional purchase, the total area of all conditional purchases, and the district, parish, and counties they are in in the name of A. Ryrie, together with particulars of all the above conditional purchases which have been made freeholds. 3. The like in regard to all conditional purchases in the name of any person of the name of Ryrie, and copies of all correspondence in reference to any person of the name of Ryrie." His reason for moving this resolution was that the hon. member, Mr. Ryrie, had a motion upon the paper for the purpose of finding out all about the selection by George Day, jun., and he (Mr. M'Elhone) thought it would be well if the information he asked for in this resolution were also supplied.

Sir JOHN ROBERTSON pointed out that if information were to be supplied concerning all persons in the colony named Ryrie, the work of collecting the information would never be done.

Mr. M'ELHONE said he would amend the resolution by omitting that part which related to persons generally of the name of Ryrie.

Sir JOHN ROBERTSON said that even then the resolution would not apply to any conditional purchase taken up by Mr. Ryrie himself.

The SPEAKER said he thought the question before the House was the same as one discussed last Tuesday, and adjourned till next Friday, and if the House passed this resolution they would be placed in a difficulty with regard to resuming the debate on the question previously under discussion. It would be better, he considered, to let the debate be resumed on the original resolution, and to withdraw the resolution now before the House.

The motion was withdrawn.

GEORGE DAY'S CONDITIONAL PURCHASE.

Mr. RYRIE moved,—"That the return to address adopted on 30th August, 1882, 'conditional purchase made by George Day at the Urana Land Office,' and laid upon the table on 11th October instant, be printed." He pointed out that without the papers it was impossible for hon. members to discuss this question. When the papers were printed he should be prepared to table a motion with reference to the steps which he thought should be taken by that House to express its views upon the matter.

Mr. M'ELHONE supported the motion, as he thought no member of that House had anything to fear from the printing of these papers.

The motion was put, and agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Sir HENRY PARKES moved that this House do now adjourn.

Mr. FARNELL desired to ask the Colonial Secretary what business the Government intended to go on with to-morrow.

Mr. GARRARD rose to call the attention of the Colonial Treasurer to the finding of the Marine Board in regard to the loss of the Woniora. It seemed to him that there had been gross neglect on the part of the officers of the Government in not seeing that the load line of the vessel was properly placed. He believed that the officers of the Marine Board had power to see that the load line was placed where it ought to be. If it was fixed where it was by the consent of the officers of the Government, they certainly had neglected their duty. He thought the Navigation Act had not been worked as it ought to have been. He saw that last night there was a meeting of the marine engineers, who expressed much indignation with regard to the loose manner in which the steam colliers were allowed to proceed to sea, with the hatches off, and tons of coal on the deck. He had seen this sort of thing himself, and he considered that it ought to be looked into.

Mr. M'ELHONE said every night the steamers coming from the Hunter River had their decks literally covered with cargo, and the passengers had no place to lay their heads down upon. They had to pay high enough for their night's accommodation, but they got no accommodation for their money. This state of things ought to be prevented. The law was sufficiently explicit upon the subject that no deck cargo should be taken on a steamer, and yet these steamers had their decks crowded every night. He would ask what was the good of having this law unless it was carried out?

Mr. J. P. ABBOTT said he could bear out every word that the hon. member had said, and more than that, he had written to the Colonial Treasurer complaining of the excess of passengers carried in these steamers. He believed that his complaint had been referred to the Marine Board without any satisfaction whatever. He had seen upwards of 400 passengers on board the Coonanbara going to Newcastle, and he had seen deck cargo frequently. He had heard some of the captains say that they were afraid to go out on account of the manner in which their decks were laden with cargo. He believed there was an inspector, but he never knew that officer to go down to inspect the cargo on the steamers. He had also complained that the provisions of the Licensing Act were not carried out on board those steamers, and the Illawarra-steamers as well; but things went on as badly as ever.

Mr. ABIGAIL endorsed the remarks of the hon. member for Balmain. Every day these vessels were coming in so loaded that they could not get their hatches on, and the slightest rough weather must bring about the same results as in the case of the Woniora. And yet they found it described in an article in the Herald as a visitation of God. He would rather describe it as the greed of man, by which there were 16 widows and families left destitute upon the world. And on the day following that disaster another steamer belonging to the same company came into the harbour loaded in the same way. If these things were allowed to go on the Colonial Treasurer would have something to answer for, unless he took steps to see that his officers did their duty. He would like to know who was responsible for examining these vessels. In regard to the inquiry into the loss of the Woniora, they found the Marine Board taking evidence from people who were interested in the company.

Mr. MARTIN called attention to the deplorable state of the Pyrmont Bridge-road.

Mr. YOUNG said it was known throughout the whole of these colonies that the navigation laws of this colony were carried out in a much more lax manner than in any other colony. He had had some experience in chartering vessels, and it was well known that vessels that were not seaworthy did not go to South Australian or Victorian ports, but they came into the ports of Queensland and New South Wales without let or hindrance. He knew that in South Australia vessels were thoroughly examined by a committee of underwriters, and he believed that it was the same in Victoria. He was quite sure that many vessels went to sea that were more fit to be burned. If our navigation laws were not sufficient they should be amended.

Mr. J. WATSON said that the steamer Woniora was not lost by overloading. She was one of the finest vessels in the harbour of her class, and was built to carry 250 tons of coal in any weather. On this occasion she had only 240 tons on board, and he attributed her loss, as one hon. member had said, to the visitation of God. The Marine Board officers were perfectly satisfied as to her condition. She was lost in weather such as had not visited this coast for years. With reference to the Hunter River steamers, it was a fact that they were licensed to carry passengers for which they had not got accommodation.

Mr. STUART said that he attributed the loss of the Woniora to an error of judgment on the part of the master. That steamer was perfectly fit to carry the coal she had on board.

Sir HENRY PARKES said that it was the intention of the Government to go on with the Land Bill to-morrow, and to confine themselves to that measure until the matter was settled.

The House adjourned at 7.11 p.m. until 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

NEW NOTICES OF MOTION.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.—WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8.

Sir Henry Parkes to move,—That this House at its rising this day do adjourn until Friday next.

Mr. Joseph P. Abbott to move (as an amendment on the motion being made by Sir Henry Parkes for the adjournment of the House until Friday next),—That the question be amended by the omission of the word "Friday," with a view to the insertion in its place of the word "Tuesday."

Mr. Garvan to move,—That a select committee be appointed, with power to send for persons and papers, to inquire into and report upon the charges made by Mr. Garvan, the member for Eden, on the 25th of October last, against the Colonial Treasurer's management of the Circular Quay. 2. That such committee consist of Sir Henry Parkes, Mr. H. C. Dangar, Mr. Joseph P. Abbott, Mr. Russell Barton, Mr. Jacob, Mr. William Clarke, Mr. Copeland, Mr. Wright, Mr. Abigail, and the mover.

Mr. M'Elhone to move,—That there be laid upon the table of this House copies of all correspondence, minutes, &c., in reference to a conditional purchase taken up by Thomas James Rogers at Tumut on 31st May, 1877, or 1st August, 1878, together with copies of any instructions to surveyor to measure this land; also copy of any instructions (if any) regarding a re-survey, said to cut off a great part of Rogers' improvements; also copies of any correspondence from the surveyor or any other person relating to the same.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14.

Mr. Pilcher to move,—That there be laid upon the table of this House a copy of the report made to the Government with reference to the state of the trust account, and the positions of the various insolvent estates under the administration of the late Mr. R. H. Sempill.

TO CURE SKIN DISEASES.—Sulpholine Lotion will completely remove all eruptions, pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, eczema, psoriasis, &c., in a few days. Sulpholine attacks old skin disorders, and totally destroys them. It is a peculiar, agreeable, harmless fluid, producing a clear skin. Sulpholine lotion is sold by chemists; bottles, 2s 9d. Made only by J. Pepper and Co., London.—[ADVT.]

MESSRS. Hardie and Gorman wish to direct special attention to their outdoor sales of next Saturday afternoon. The Highbury Estate, situated at Croydon Railway Station, allotments and cottages, to be sold on such favourable terms, viz., only 10 per cent. deposit, and the balance by 36 monthly payments, interest 5 per cent. per annum. Intending purchasers should not delay in calling for a lithograph and a free railway pass. At Balmain there are 47 allotments, situate on the highest part of that favourite and thriving suburb, directly opposite Callan Park. Omnibuses will leave the rooms of the auctioneers on day of sale.—[ADVT.]

THE LAND BILL.

Mr. Thomas Garrett has given notice of his intention to move the following amendments and new clauses in the Crown Lands Bill, the second reading of which measure is to come on in the Assembly to-night. In order to indicate the nature of the clauses he proposes to omit, we have inserted, in parenthesis, the brevets:—

That clause 13 be amended by inserting after the word acres (in the second case) in line 14 the following words:—"In the first-class districts not less than 40 nor more than 640 acres, and in the second-class districts not less than 40 nor more than 2560 acres, and in the third-class districts not less than 40 nor more than 5120 acres."

In line 17, clause 13, omit the words "twenty-five," and insert the word "ten." (Conditional sale.)

Omit clause 26. (Non-residentiary selections.)

Clause 31, line 25, after the word "shilling" insert the word "threepence," and insert after the word "one" in same line the words "annually for a period of fifteen years." From lines 29 and 30, omit the words "with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum." In lines 26 and 27 omit the words "one-twentieth of such higher price" and insert the words "such sum annually as shall be proportionate to the sum of one shilling and threepence per acre to twenty shillings." In lines 29 and 30 omit the words "with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum."

Clause 50, at line 10, page 15, after the word "representatives," insert the following words: "Provided also that Crown lands held under absolute lease in either the second or third class districts shall not be offered or sold at auction."

Omit clause 54. (Lands put up to auction and not sold.)

Omit clauses 55 to 59 inclusive. (Sales in consideration of improvements; improvement purchases on goldfields; improvements in respect of which sale may be made; limitation as to improvements; limitation as to improvements on annual leases; notification of approval of improvement purchases.)

Omit clauses 65 and 66. (Annual leases; pre-emptive leases to holders in fee simple.)

Clause 67, omit in line 3 the words "in the second class districts." Insert after the word "second," in line 3, the words "and third." Omit word "renewed" in line 16. In line 35, after the word "lands," insert "whether in the first or second class districts."

Omit clauses 68, 69, and 70. (Area and capabilities of runs; tenders for runs; direction of boundaries in tenders; pastoral leases in the second-class settled districts; conversion of leases of existing runs into leases under this Act; commencement of rent, addition of interest, and forfeiture of lease; proclamation of districts for the formation of runs; description in tenders; deposit on tenders; tenure of run at fixed rent pending appraisement; extension of leases on account of improvements.)

Clause 71, omit in lines 41 and 42, "for the term of five years at the minimum upset rent of £1 per annum for every square mile of estimated area," and insert in lieu thereof the words "for the term and at the upset annual rent per acre provided for in this Act, according to the class of district in which the run may be situated." Omit word "pounds" in line 47, and insert the words "per cent."

The following are the new clauses which Mr. Garrett proposes:—

"That there shall be a Minister for Lands appointed by the Governor who shall have the administration of all Acts having reference to the sale and occupation other than mining of Crown lands. That for the purpose of sale and occupation the area of the colony shall be divided into three classes of districts, as follows:—1. The first-class districts shall be comprised within the following counties, viz.:—The counties embraced in the districts known as the settled districts and the pastoral districts of Macleay and Clarence, and the counties of Auckland and Dampier, in the pastoral district of Monaro. 2. The second-class districts shall be comprised within the following districts, viz.:—The pastoral districts of New England, Gwydir, Liverpool Plains, Bligh, Wellington, The Lachlan, The Murrumbidgee, and the counties of Cowley, Beresford, Wallace, and Wellesley, in the pastoral district of Monaro. 3. The third-class districts shall be comprised of the following districts, viz.:—The Warrego, The Albert, and the Darling pastoral districts. Provided that the Governor may from time to time transfer any district or portion of district from one of the aforementioned classes to the other by proclamation in the Government Gazette, and subject to the approval of both Houses of Parliament, to be obtained and expressed by resolution.

"That within three months from the date of application to conditionally purchase any Crown lands the Minister shall cause to be issued to the applicant for such lands a certificate that he is entitled and authorised to enter into possession and occupy the land he has so applied for, and thereafter it shall not be lawful for any person to disturb, dispute, or question the possession or occupation of such land by the conditional purchaser; but any person desiring to question such possession and occupation by the said conditional purchaser, or to claim any damages for any whatever as regards the occupation or possession of the land so conditionally purchased may bring an action to test such question, or for damages against the Minister and against him alone.

"That Crown lands open to conditional purchase may be conditionally purchased for mining purposes other than gold upon payment of £5 per acre, 20 per cent. of which sum shall be paid at time of application, and the balance in instalments of £1 per acre per annum, commencing after the lapse of three years from the date of first payment. Provided that within the period of five years from the date of application it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Minister that a sum amounting in the total to an amount equal to £5 per acre has been expended upon the land in a bona-fide manner for the carrying on the purpose of mining upon the said land, and upon payment of the balance of the purchase-money the Governor may issue a grant for the land so applied for, improved, and paid for.

That from and after the passing of this Act the power to grant pre-emptive leases shall cease.

That holders of pre-leases at the passing of this Act by virtue of conditional purchases up to the extent of 640 acres in one portion, or in contiguous portions, may, on or before the 31st June, 1883, by notice in writing to the Minister, convert such pre-lease into an absolute lease for a term of seven years, which lease the Minister is hereby empowered to grant, upon the condition that he expresses his willingness to pay an annual rental of 3d. per acre for such pre-lease. Provided that the area of such pre-lease shall not exceed 1920 acres. Provided also that the holder of such pre-lease shall have the right to make an additional conditional purchase of the whole or any portion of the area so held under lease by him, not being less than 40 acres, if he shall, during the currency of the lease, improve the areas so applied for to the extent of 10s. per acre to the satisfaction of the Minister. And provided, further, that in the event of the Minister approving of such application for such additional conditional purchase, the aforementioned rent shall be deemed to be, and taken as part of, the 10 per cent. of the purchase money required by this Act to be paid on application for a conditional purchase. And provided, further, that if such holders of the pre-leases at present existing shall not apply as above provided for the conversion of their said leases, the same and all other pre-leases shall cease and determine on and after the 31st December, 1883, and shall become subject to the provisions of this Act, Crown lands not under lease and open for sale, conditional or otherwise, as by this Act provided.

The Governor may grant leases of Crown lands in the second and third class districts subject to the following conditions and to the general provisions of this Act:—1. Any existing pastoral lease may be surrendered on or before the 31st December, 1883. 2. A new and absolute lease for a term of seven years for any run in the second-class districts, and for a term of 14 years in the third-class districts, may be issued to the present lessee for one-half of the area held under lease by him within such run at the time of application, such half to be determined by the Governor after the division of the run by the lessee. 3. That with regard to half of the run so leased there shall be a rental in the second-class districts of per acre, and in the third-class districts of per acre. 4. That the Governor may resume any part of the land so leased at any time to meet any public necessity, but that if such lands so resumed be improved the lessee shall be entitled to compensation to be determined by appraisement. 5. That, with regard to the remaining half of the area of existing leases, they shall, in the second-class districts, remain under lease to the present lessee, under the terms and conditions as to rent, and in other respects, as at present provided by law, for the remainder of the current lease, or as may be hereafter provided in the third-class districts, the said remaining half of existing leases shall be dealt with as follows:—One moiety of such area shall be offered for lease by auction in blocks of 16,000 acres, or as near as may be thereto, having regard to the total area of such half and the boundaries thereof for a term of seven years at an upset price of per acre. That as regards the other moiety of such remaining half of such area it shall continue under lease on the present terms as to rent and in other respects to the present holder for the remainder of the current lease. 6. That in the event of the lessee possessing any purchased land upon the half of the run which he may retain under the present tenure, as hereinbefore provided for, and if he may so desire it, and so apply, the Governor may, upon the said lessee surrendering the said land, grant him a like quantity within the bounds of that half of the existing lease which he may have obtained a seven years' absolute lease of as provided for. 7. That the remaining area of existing leases in the second-class districts, and also that moiety of the remaining half thereof in the third-class districts which may be retained under pastoral lease shall be open to be conditionally purchased under the terms and conditions provided for by this Act, as if they were unoccupied Crown lands. (8.) That in the event of the lessees of existing pastoral leases not applying to convert their present leases into leases, as before provided for the area of such leases, shall be open to be conditionally purchased in the manner, and to the extent in each case, as provided for in this Act, according to the district in which they may be situated, until the leases at present current expire by effluxion of time. (9.) That upon the expiry of the present term of lease of all pastoral leases which may not have been converted into leases under this Act, it shall not be lawful for the Governor to issue a pastoral lease of such lands, excepting upon the same terms and conditions as hereinafter provided for renewed leases.

MESSRS. Hardie and Gorman wish to direct special attention to their outdoor sales of next Saturday afternoon. The Highbury Estate, situated at Croydon Railway Station, allotments and cottages to be sold on such favourable terms, viz., only 10 per cent. deposit, and the balance by 36 monthly payments, interest 5 per cent. per annum. Intending purchasers should not delay in calling for a lithograph and a free railway pass. At Balmain there are 47 allotments, situate on the highest part of that favourite and thriving suburb, directly opposite Callan Park. Omnibuses will leave the rooms of the auctioneers on the day of sale.—[ADVT.]

WHO steals my purse steals trash, 'tis something, nothing; but he who filches from me my good name, &c. Who brands some impure compound, as Wolfe's Schnapps, "Aromatic" from its good name.—[ADVT.]

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, labelled "JAMES EPPS and Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.—[ADVT.]

MESSRS. Hardie and Gorman wish to direct special attention to their outdoor sales of next Saturday afternoon. The Highbury Estate, situated at Croydon Railway Station, allotments and cottages to be sold on such favourable terms, viz., only 10 per cent. deposit and the balance by 36 monthly payments, interest 5 per cent. per annum. Intending purchasers should not delay in calling for a lithograph and a free railway pass. At Balmain there are 47 allotments, situate on the highest part of that favourite and thriving suburb, directly opposite Callan Park. Omnibuses will leave the rooms of the auctioneers on the day of sale.—[ADVT.]

LAW REPORT.

SUPREME COURT.—Tuesday, November 7.

In Equity.—(Before his Honor the Primary Judge.)

CAUSES SET DOWN.

The following causes were set down for trial in the ordinary course:—Langdon v. Reuss, Bourke v. Wright, and Chapman v. Halliday. In the last-named suit the statement of claim was dismissed as far as it concerned the defendant Riley.

POULAIN V. FOVERREAUX.

His Honor dealt with a summons as to security for costs, and ordered the injunction to stand till the hearing.

CARTER V. SINCLAIR.

Mr. Lingen moved for a writ of attachment to issue against one of the tenants of the property involved in this suit for non-payment of £30 rent. Mr. Hargraves, the receiver appointed under the order of the Court, was examined. His Honor made an order that the writ should issue in 10 days, if the amount were not paid in the meanwhile.

WATT V. CULLEN.

Mr. Knox for the plaintiff; Mr. C. J. Manning for the defendant.

It was agreed by consent that the injunction in this matter be continued to the hearing.

DOYLE V. ALLEN AND OTHERS.

Mr. Lingen moved for an ex parte injunction in this matter.

His Honor granted the injunction for three weeks.

BACKHOUSE V. REYNOLDS AND OTHERS.

On the motion of Dr. Donovan, his Honor dismissed the statement of claim against one of the defendants.

BAWDEN V. CAMERON.

Mr. F. H. Barton moved to have this suit revived, in order that it might be conducted by the defendants other than Alexander Campbell.

His Honor made the order, &c., as prayed, on condition that the plaintiff should be informed of it.

THE UNDERWOOD ESTATE.

Mr. Edmunds moved for the payment of commission to the trustees upon the sum of £34,405 0s. 8d. realised during the year ending September 30 last.

His Honor ordered commission at the rate of 4 per cent. to be paid, with costs.

THE SCOTTISH AUSTRALIAN INVESTMENT COMPANY V. PEARSON AND OTHERS.

Dr. Donovan moved that the decree nisi in this foreclosure suit be made absolute. The Master had found that the amount due at the foot of the mortgage was £51,606 7s. 2d.

Mr. F. H. Barton and Mr. F. L. S. Smyth appeared to consent on behalf of the defendants.

His Honor made the decree absolute, subject to the right of the infant to appear six months after the attainment of his majority to object to the decree.

BROUGHTON V. STUART AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Owen, Q.C., and Mr. Knox, instructed by Messrs. Way and Way, appeared for the plaintiff: and Dr. Donovan, instructed by Messrs. Stephen, Laurence, and Jaques, for the defendant.

Mr. Owen moved for an injunction to restrain the defendants from continuing an action-at-law arising out of the disputed title to a large block of land at North Shore, respecting which there had been much litigation.

Dr. Donovan submitted that the plaintiff, in his statement of claim, set up an absolute and undoubted defence at law, and therefore was disentitled to an injunction in equity. Neither side had the legal estate, and the matter could be readily decided at common law, or an action for trespass.

Mr. Owen, in reply, said that the legal estate was outstanding, and his client was applying for a vesting order as auxiliary to a questionable title. He asked that the whole matter might be stayed until the Court could make a further decree respecting the legal estate. The question of possessory title, under which he claimed, could be decided by jury in that Court under the direction of a judge more accustomed to deal with matters of real property. He would not establish a title at law without the assistance of equity.

His Honor said he would continue the injunction for a fortnight, so that the statement of defence might be filed, and he could see whether or not the matter was one which should be disposed of at common law without the relief in equity which was sought by the plaintiff.

THE TRUSTS OF N. P. BAYLEY'S WILL.

Mr. C. J. Manning moved for the appointment of the widow, eldest son, and Mr. Cadell, son-in-law, of the testator, as new trustees. Mrs. Bayley and her son had been named in the will, with Messrs. Allen, Cox, and Blackman, who now declined to act any further. The learned counsel cited authorities to show that where certain trustees renounced those remaining were usually reappointed with other persons when the Court thought those remaining were too few to manage the estate.

His Honor made the appointments as prayed. He believed the testator in appointing Mr. Cadell an executor by codicil had also intended that he should act as a trustee.

IN RE SYDNEY COFFEE TAVERN COMPANY.

Mr. C. J. Manning appeared to move for a winding-up order. Mr. Knox appeared in opposition.

The matter was adjourned till Friday next.

M'GIRR V. KIRBY.

Mr. F. H. Barton moved for the continuance of the injunction motion restraining an action of ejectment brought by the defendant for a fortnight.

Order as prayed.

IN RE TRUST OF GEORGE J. ROGERS.

Upon the motion of Dr. Donovan, his Honor appointed Messrs. A. M. Billyard and William P. Manning to be new trustees under the will of the late George John Rogers, solicitor.

Common Law Jurisdiction.—Fourth Term, 1882.

Banco Court.—(Before their Honors the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Fawcett.)

BROWNE V. PATTERSON, AND OTHERS.

This was a motion for a new trial, and involved several important points on the construction of the Land Acts.

Mr. Pilcher and Mr. O'Connor, instructed by Messrs. Shorter, Fitzgerald, and Asher, appeared for the defendants, to make the rule absolute; Mr. Salomons, Q.C., Mr. Owen, Q.C., and Dr. Donovan, by Messrs. Slattery and Heydon, appeared for the plaintiff, to show cause.

The arguments were concluded. The Court reserved judgment, intimating that they would deliver judgment on Friday.

M'CAUGHEY V. O'BRIEN.

Mr. Salomons, Q.C. (Mr. Cohen with him) for the plaintiff, by Messrs. Robertson and Fisher, agent for Mr. Ochiltree, applied for a rule nisi for a new trial.

Rule granted on all the grounds except the 5th, 8th, 9th and 10th.

TERRY V. TINDALE.

This was a District Court appeal. The action was brought on a demise by the plaintiff to the defendant of Willow Lodge house and grounds, Pyrmont Bridge-road, Glebe, for one year, at a rent of £130 per annum, "rent to be computed from so soon as gas is laid on to the house." The gas was laid on by the plaintiff six weeks after an agreement was signed containing the abovementioned terms. The defendant did not go into possession, and refused to pay any rent.

His Honor the learned District Court Judge nonsuited the plaintiff on the ground that the demise was void, not being certain in its commencement.

Mr. Salomons, Q.C., and Mr. Cohen, by Mr. Levy, for the plaintiff, now applied to make a rule absolute to enter the verdict for the plaintiff in £10 16s. 8d., the amount of rent claimed or for a new trial.

Mr. Stephen, Q.C. (Mr. C. B. Stephen with him), instructed by Messrs. Salter and Barker, appeared for the defendant, to show cause.

The Court made the rule absolute. It was laid down that there must be a certainty in the time for the commencement of a lease, which must either appear in the document expressing the terms of the lease, or may be gathered by references contained in it. In this case the time was fixed by the date when the gas was laid on by the plaintiff.

Rule absolute to enter a verdict for the plaintiff, with damages £10 16s. 8d.; the defendant to pay the costs of proceedings below, and the costs of this motion.

LAUGHAM V. BEAUBLANE.

This was a case by way of appeal from the decision of Mr. Dillon, S.M., under 45 Vic., No. 4.

The appellant Laugham filed an information against the respondent Beaublane for a breach of the Stamp Act. Section 65 of the Act (44 Vic., No. 3) provides:—"Any penalty incurred under this Act may be recovered in a summary way, before any two justices of the peace, or by an action of debt in the Supreme Court, in the name of the Attorney-General."

Mr. Dillon decided that the information could not be filed by a common informer, but that, by the 65th section, it must be filed by the Attorney-General, and at the request of the informer stated a case.

Mr. Stephen, Q.C., and Mr. C. B. Stephen appeared for the appellant. No counsel appeared for the respondent.

The Court held that the parts of section 65 which relate to the Attorney-General only provide that he alone should recover in an action of debt in the Supreme Court, and do not apply to informations before justices, which, by the Acts Shortening Act, might be filed by any person. The decision of the justice was therefore erroneous.

SAWTELL V. REGAN.

This was a case stated under the 45th Vic., No. 4. The defendant Regan was arrested playing monte on the Randwick Racecourse during a race meeting, and was convicted before justices on a charge, under section 3 of the Vagrant Act (15 Vic., No. 4), of playing an unlawful game called monte on an open and public place. Section 3 enacts—"That every person playing or betting at an unlawful game, every person playing or betting in any street, road, highway, or other open and public place," shall be guilty of an offence under the Act. The Public Place Definition Act" (40 Vic., No. 16), enacts by section 1, "Where an act or offence committed in any public place is by statute made punishable . . . the place of commission shall be deemed public for the purposes of such statute if such place (although a vessel, vehicle, or room only, or a place ordinarily private) was at the time used for a public purpose, or was open to the public on the payment of money or otherwise." The Justices held that the racecourse was not an open public place within the meaning of section 3 of the Vagrant Act, and dismissed the charge; but stated a case for the opinion of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Heydon (Mr. Rogers with him) appeared for the complainant, the appellant. Mr. C. B. Stephen appeared for the respondent.

The Court was of opinion that the decision of the Justices was erroneous. The racecourse was not a place ejusdem generis with a street or a highway, but by the amending Act the Legislature intended to extend this kind of place in which such an offence might be committed to such places as the racecourse.

HOLLAND V. HARDIE AND ANOTHER.

This was a District Court appeal.

The defendants, Messrs. Hardie and Gorman, had sold to the plaintiff, in 1878, some land at Newtown belonging to Mr. George Hill, having a frontage of 60 feet, at £4 a foot. It afterwards appeared that Hardie and Gorman, through some mistake, had no authority from Mr. Hill to sell this particular piece of land, and the sale to the plaintiff was therefore never carried out. Some 19 months after the sale to the plaintiff, Mr. Hill sold the land at £6 a foot, or £120 beyond the price at which the defendants had agreed to sell to the plaintiff. The plaintiff then brought this action against the defendants as auctioneers, for damages for the loss sustained by reason of the misrepresentation made by the defendants that they had authority to sell. The learned District Court Judge held that there being no other evidence as to the damages the plaintiff was entitled to, that the verdict should be for the difference between what the land was subsequently sold for and the price at which the defendants agreed to sell to the plaintiff, and gave a verdict for the plaintiff with £120 damages.

Mr. Reid (Mr. Rogers with him) for the defendants, now moved for a new trial, on the ground that his Honor's decision was erroneous.

Mr. Bruce Smith for the plaintiff, appeared to show cause.

The Court made the rule absolute for a new trial, costs of former trial and of this motion to abide the event of the second trial. The decision of the Judge was wrong. The measure of damages was the difference between the market value at the time of the sale to the plaintiff and the price which the plaintiff agreed to give. There should have been some other evidence of the value of the land, although the Court did not say that the evidence of the resale should be altogether excluded.

Jury Court.—(Before his Honor Sir George Innes and a jury of four.)

PARLE V. LEISTIKOW.

The hearing of this action, which was by a builder on a building contract, was resumed and concluded.

Mr. Stephen, Q.C., and Mr. Coghlan, instructed by Messrs. Gannon and M'Laughlin, for the plaintiff; Mr. Pilcher and Mr. Sly, instructed by Messrs. Spain and Salway, for the defendant.

Verdict for plaintiff, damages £35.

SANDEMAN V. MOSES.

Mr. Pilcher and Mr. Reid, instructed by Mr. Westgarth, for the plaintiff; no one appeared for the defendant.

Verdict for plaintiff, £220.

INSOLVENCY COURT.—Monday.

DISTRICT COURT SPECIAL SITTINGS.

City Appeals.

This Court will be opened at Darlinghurst, at 10 a.m., on Friday, the 10th instant, instead of Wednesday, as announced, when the appeals from L to Q, inclusive, will be heard.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT.—Tuesday.

(Before his Honor Mr. Justice Windeyer.)

Mr. P. J. Healey prosecuted on behalf of the Crown.

THE ROBBERY AT FAIRFIELD.

John Stevens, alias Hampton, and George Payton, alias Owen, were indicted for having on the 3rd August feloniously broken and entered the dwelling-house of one John William Nixon at Fairfield, and stolen therefrom one silver watch, one gold brooch, and one gold ring. Mr. E. Barton defended the prisoners. The evidence went to show that, between half-past 8 and 9 o'clock on the night of the 3rd August, there was a knock at the front door of Mr. Nixon's house. Mr. Nixon was away at the time, but Mrs. Nixon and six children, the eldest of whom is 10 years of age, were at home. Mrs. Nixon went to the door and found there a man whose face was covered with a red silk handkerchief, which had two holes cut in it for the eyes. The man, who has not yet been arrested, held a revolver. Mrs. Nixon was terrified, and drew back into the house. She was followed by the robber. Another man, whom Mrs. Nixon deposed was the prisoner Payton, then entered the house and went into her bedroom, and taking the lamp off the toilet-table went towards the chest of drawers. The first robber said to the other, "Take the Missis and the children into one room." Mrs. Nixon went into a room in which the children were. Subsequently two other men came into the house and went into the bedroom. One of the men said that they did not want to injure either Mrs. Nixon, her husband, or her children, all they wanted was the money. The robbers remained in the bedroom until nearly 10 o'clock, when they came out and passed down the hall until they got opposite the door of the room in which Mrs. Nixon and the children were. One of the men turned the hall lamp down. Two of the robbers, whom Mrs. Nixon deposed were the prisoners, sat down in the hall and asked their companions to sit down. After having a whispered conversation, Payton called Mrs. Nixon and said, "We were informed your husband brought home a great deal of money every night; we find we are misinformed." The robber had a revolver in his hand at the time. Mrs. Nixon referred to their having been to her chest of drawers, and expressed a hope that they had not taken a ring, which she described, and which she said was her mother's ring, and the robber Payton said that they would not take it. Mrs. Nixon went into the bedroom, which was in a very disordered state, and having searched in one of the drawers found that the ring which she had spoken about had not been taken. Mrs. Nixon went into the hall, when Payton asked her to give him her word that she would not give information to any one until three hours after they had left the house. After they left the house, Mrs. Nixon found that Mr. Nixon's watch, a brooch, and a dress ring had been stolen from the bedroom. All the prisoners had their faces partly concealed with pieces of crape or other material. Some of the pieces of crape were found in the garden next morning. About 6 o'clock on the morning of the 4th August Mr. William Woodcroft, a railway clerk, saw four men on the Granville railway platform, which is about five miles from the house at which the robbery was committed. Two of those men were identified by Mr. Woodcroft as the prisoners. The four men were passengers by the 6.13 train to Sydney. The prisoner Stevens had been lodging at Webb's Railway Hotel George-street. Mr. Webb saw Stevens going up the steps at the back of the house at 7 o'clock on the morning of the 4th August. In reply to a question by Mr. Webb, Stevens then said that he had been out, and that he had just come in from Parramatta. During the last week in August the Rev. Mr. Curtis made a communication to Mrs. Nixon that there was a man at his house who wanted to have an interview with her. She said "Very well," and Mr. Curtis took the prisoner Stevens to her house. When Stevens went there, he stood at the door and did not say a word. After the lapse of some time, Mrs. Nixon inquired what it was that he wanted. Stevens then said that he came to see Mrs. Nixon before her mind was biassed; he added that he had been a criminal, but of that affair he was innocent. In reply to an inquiry as to where he was on the night of the robbery, he said at Webb's hotel, George-street. Stevens also stated that he knew Mr. Nixon, having seen him at sales. In consequence of a statement which had been made to Mrs. Nixon, she said to Stevens, "If you know the men, why don't you go at once and inform; and as there is a reward of £100 offered, you will get the reward." Stevens replied, "It would not be manly." The jury found both prisoners guilty. The gaol records showed that the prisoner Stevens in 1868 received a sentence of three years' imprisonment for cattle stealing; that in 1873 he was convicted on two charges of horse stealing, and received sentences of two years' imprisonment; and that in 1880 he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for having committed a burglary. The other prisoner, Payton, was, in 1863, convicted on a charge of robbery under arms, and was sentenced to 14 years' hard labour on the roads; he was also in May, 1866, convicted on a charge of murder, and was sentenced to be executed, but his sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life in irons. The particulars of that murder were, briefly, that prisoner in company with other prisoners was being transferred from Berrima gaol to Darlinghurst gaol, and when the conveyance reached Bargo Brush, an attack was made by the prisoners upon the police escort, and one of the constables was murdered. Both prisoners were sentenced to be kept at hard labour on the roads for a period of ten years.

BREAKING AND ENTERING.

James Jameson, alias Thompson, alias Thunderbolt, and George Payton, alias Owen, were charged with having, at Sydney, on the 24th July, broken into the ironmonger's shop of Mr. Henry Evans, of Oxford-street, and stolen therefrom a quantity of carpenter's and other tools. When Mr. Evans went to his shop on the morning of the 25th July, he found that the place had been broken into, and about £30 worth of ironmongery stolen. The prisoners had been lodging for some weeks at a house in Liverpool-street, where they were known by the names of "Thompson" and "Crawford." Both had latchkeys, and went in and out of the house as they pleased. Thompson had a carpenter's chest, containing a large quantity of new tools, there, but the chest was, immediately after the arrest of Thompson on a charge of shooting at Senior-constable Chapman, removed by a vanman (at the instance of Payton), and conveyed to the Somerset Hotel. When the police took possession of the chest it was found to contain a lot of goods of a similar description to those which had been stolen from Mr. Evans' shop. Mr. Evans swore positively to the identity of a pair of shears and other articles which were in his shop when he closed it on the night of July 24. Both prisoners were found guilty. Payton was sentenced to be kept at hard labour on the roads for five years, the sentence to commence at the expiration of the one he received for taking part in the robbery at Fairfield. Jamieson was remanded for sentence.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETENCES.

James Charlesworth, who had been committed to take his trial on a charge of false pretences, was, by direction of the Judge, discharged, on the ground that there was no false pretence disclosed in the transaction which led to the prosecution being instituted.

The Court was then adjourned until 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

The following is the list of cases remaining for trial:—Edward Russell Daunt, false pretences; James Jamieson, being found by night with implements of house-breaking in his possession, and shooting at a person with intent to do some grievous bodily harm; George Gordon, escaping from prison; James Collins, attempt to commit a rape; Daniel M'Donald and others, conspiracy to defraud; George Hall and others, stealing wood and sheep stealing; William Dunn, murder.

METROPOLITAN QUARTER SESSIONS.

Tuesday.

(Before Mr. District Court Judge Josephson.)

FALSE PRETENCES.

John Russell was charged with that he, unlawfully, knowingly, and designedly, did falsely pretend to Charles Wilson, an assistant wharfinger, of the Newcastle Steamship Company, Limited, that the said John Russell was then sent by Andrew Dransfield, of Sydney, to the wharfinger of the said company for certain dead sheep belonging to the said Andrew Dransfield, and then lying at the wharf of the said company, and was entitled to receive the same, by means of which false pretence the said John Russell obtained the said sheep. The prosecutor is a stock and station agent, and the prisoner used to be occasionally employed by him. On the 29th July the prosecutor received a number of sheep by the steamship Kembla, which arrived from Newcastle, but of the shipment five died. Three were smothered and two drowned. The carcases of these were left on the wharf until the afternoon, when the prisoner went with a dray, represented that he had been sent for them by Mr. Dransfield, and obtained the sheep. He afterwards sold them. It was shown that the prisoner had been in the habit of going to the wharf and getting dead sheep belonging to the prosecutor, both with and without his permission; but the prosecutor stated that he distinctly told the prisoner not to touch the sheep referred to in the information. The jury found the prisoner not guilty, and he was discharged.

STEALING FROM THE PERSON.

Edward Reynolds was charged with that he did, on the 23rd September last, steal, take, and carry away from the person of Michael Collins one watch, one pocketbook, and a certain sum of money—to wit, £2 15s. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was remanded for sentence. The prosecutor said that on the night of the 23rd September, near the Town Hall, Sydney, he met the prisoner and several other men. One of the men put his hand into one of witness' trousers pockets whilst the prisoner abstracted his watch and chain and made off. The prisoner afterwards tried to pawn the watch, but as it had been reported as stolen, Mrs. Miller refused to advance any money upon it, but gave prisoner into custody instead. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was remanded for sentence.

PERJURY.

David Hemmings was charged with committing wilful and corrupt perjury. Mr. Lowe appeared for the defence. The case for the Crown was that on the 28th September last a boy named Smith was tried and summarily dealt with at the Water Police Court on a charge of stealing a variety of articles belonging to a man named William Hillars. The robbery was effected at Hillars' residence on the 22nd of September, where Hillars, after discovering the robbery, found that the robber had left behind him a whip handle. This was handed over to the police on that day, and remained in their possession until the day on which Smith was brought before the Court. The prisoner, who was called as a witness by the police, deposed to being a dealer in wood, that Smith was in his employ, and that he was a respectable honest lad. He also swore that the whip-handle produced, which was his property, was in his possession on the 25th September, and that he saw it in a cart at his place on that night. According to the evidence for the Crown this was impossible. The jury, after a long deliberation, were unable to agree. They were discharged.

UNLAWFULLY WOUNDING.

Morgan Kelly was charged with unlawfully wounding one Ewan Cameron. Mr. T. M. Williamson appeared for the defence. This case was tried at the last Quarter Sessions, when the jury were unable to agree. On the evening of the 5th September, according to the evidence for the Crown, the prosecutor, the prisoner and his brother, and others were in the Royal Hotel, Waterloo. They left the hotel together, and on getting outside an altercation took place between the prosecutor and the prisoner's brother. Whilst they were struggling, the prisoner walked over to the prosecutor, and struck him over the head with some instrument, inflicting a wound, which bled a good deal, and had to be dressed by a surgeon. The jury found the prisoner not guilty, and he was discharged.

SENTENCES.

The following prisoners were brought up and sentenced:—Paul Dubois, larceny, 18 months' hard labour in Darlinghurst gaol; Thomas Houghton and John Thornton, burglary, each two years' hard labour in Darlinghurst gaol; Mary Ann Price, receiving stolen property, 15 months' hard labour; Thomas Farrell, stealing from the person, three years' hard labour in Darlinghurst gaol; Sarah Strathman, larceny, 12 months' hard labour in Darlinghurst gaol; John Gallagher, stealing, 12 months' hard labour; Edward Reynolds, stealing from the person, 18 months' hard labour.

LARCENY.

The case against Walter Frere and John Mitchell, charged with larceny, was postponed till next sessions. Mitchell was allowed bail, himself in £150, and two sureties of £150 each.

The Court then rose.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

An inquest was held yesterday at the Imperial Hotel, Macdonaldtown, by Mr. H. Shiell, J.P., City Coroner, touching the death of one Francis Croker, aged 70 years. Francis John Croker, son of the deceased, deposed: He resided in Union-street, Macdonaldtown; his father, who was a widower, lived with him; at about 6 o'clock on the morning of the 7th instant he found the deceased lying at the foot of the staircase in the house; he was half dressed, and it was evident that some time during the night he rose from his bed with the intention of descending the stairs, and, in the act of coming down, slipped and fell to the bottom. The deceased was bleeding from a wound on the forehead, and also from one on the left ear. He was perfectly sober when he retired for the night. Margaret Croker, wife of the previous witness, entirely corroborated his evidence, and added that during the night she heard a slight noise, but did not think anything serious had happened, so she paid no attention to it. Charles Russell Watson, legally-qualified medical practitioner, deposed to having made an examination of the body of the deceased. In his opinion death had been brought about by a fracture of the neck, signs of which were unmistakably presented. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

In the Gentleman's Magazine there is an interesting account from Mr. Lynd of the system of work pursued by Mr. Charles Reade. Arranged upon shelves are rows of guard books containing extracts from the newspapers of all countries—the result of many years' labour. None who has not tried to preserve such records can know how difficult it is and what perseverance is required, simple as the thing seems. These cuttings are classified under different headings, such as police cases, the humours of the day, dark deeds in prisons, workhouses, lunatic asylums; whilst some tell the stories of horrible murders and ghastly cruelties. Scattered about the room are mining reports, Bluebooks, volumes of the Police News and other papers. Every volume is indexed and classified, and to make the system more complete there are three large tomes containing copies of the "Florilegal Indices," enabling the author to find what he requires without dragging about the larger volumes. His library also contains four thousand French plays. Well may Mr. Reade call his library a "Library of Note Books."

POLICE.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

Mr. Crane, S.M., presided on the bench in the Charge Court yesterday.

A number of cases of drunkenness were dealt with.

Charles Campbell was charged with having stolen a set of reins, valued at 5s., the property of Henry H. Williams. It appeared that on the evening of Monday the accused entered the stable of the prosecutor in George-street West, and took from a horse in a stall the reins in question. They were afterwards traced to his possession. He was ordered to be imprisoned for one month. On a second charge of having a cleaver and a gas jet in his possession reasonably suspected to be stolen, he was ordered to be imprisoned for one month, in addition to the previous sentence.

Mary Donovan, charged with having used obscene language, was fined 40s., or in default imprisonment for one month.

George Garrick was charged with having attempted to commit suicide. It appeared that at about 10 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, the 15th ultimo, the accused was seen by his brother-in-law to be walking up and down in a room of his house, apparently in a troubled state of mind. His manner appeared to be strange. The accused then went into a back room, and his brother-in-law being alarmed, followed him shortly afterwards, and found that he had cut his throat with a razor. A cab was secured and the accused was taken to the hospital, where it was seen that a very serious wound had been inflicted. The accused was believed to have been drinking heavily previous to committing the act. The prisoner was ordered to take his trial at the next Court of Quarter Sessions, medical attendance to be allowed him in the meantime.

Peter M'Lean was charged with having wilfully broken a door, valued at £5, the property of Henry W. Davis. It appeared that on Monday afternoon, at about 5 o'clock, the accused kicked in the door of the residence of the prosecutor, in Bourke-street, whilst the inmates were absent. The prosecutor and his wife were in a neighbouring house, and saw the offence committed. He was ordered to pay £2, or be imprisoned 14 days. He pleaded guilty to a charge of having used indecent language, and was fined 40s., or in default imprisonment for 14 days, in addition to the previous sentence.

James Brown was charged with having assaulted a constable whilst in the execution of his duty. It appeared that when the constable was arresting him on a warrant the accused struck him on the back of the head three times with his hand, kicked him on the face, and scratched him. He was fined 40s., or imprisonment for one month.

Michael Boyle was charged with having in his possession five knives reasonably suspected to be stolen. The accused was seen by Detective Williams on Monday evening in company with a notorious thief and burglar. They turned from George to Bathurst streets, and the detective followed them and asked the accused what he had upon him. He found on him the five knives produced. The prisoner said he had purchased them at a sale, but upon being further questioned could give no satisfactory account of how they came into his possession, making contradictory statements. He was sentenced to be imprisoned for seven days with hard labour.

LICENSING COURT.

Messrs. Dillon (chairman), Clarke, Crane, and Macintosh, L.Ms., presided on the bench.

Extensions of time were granted to Samuel Ryall, Darling Point Hotel; Thomas Bennett, Glasgow Arms Hotel; Mary Anne Hall, Guild Hall Hotel; Peter Esperson, Old Australian Hotel.

Hawkers' licenses were granted to Nathan Mandelson, Kauffmann Mandelson, John Kean, Leon Rosengarten, Charles Hawey, Arthur Larkin, Maurice Shapir, Cortezi Giacomi, Solomon Davis.

The following transfers were granted:—Patrick O'Donnell, Albion Hotel, Bedford-street, to Mrs. M'Clure; B. Blackler, Fosterville Hotel, Macquarie-street, to Bridget Blackler; Annie Mortlock, True Briton Hotel, Elizabeth-street, to Elizabeth Parish; Ellen M'Inerney, Young Australian Hotel, Riley-street, to Charles J. Ambusson; James Stevens, Horse and Jockey Hotel, Bourke-street, to Charles W. York.

Booth or stand licenses were granted to Isabella M'Ellhinney, New Waterloo Retreat Hotel, for the Parramatta races on the 9th and 11th instant; also to James Caine, Sailors' Return Hotel, for the same.

Permits for music were granted to J. H. Rainford, Cambridge Club Hotel, for the Owl Club meeting on the 8th November, 'Possum Club meeting on the 10th November, Buffalo meeting on the 9th November, and Liedertafel meeting on the 13th November.

Sarah Cooper made application for a license for a new hotel in Railway-street, Petersham. Objection was taken to the granting of the license by Mrs. Weir, the owner of a house formerly occupied by Mrs. Cooper, the license of which had been cancelled for non-compliance with the accommodation section of the Act. Mrs. Cooper having been informed that if her license were to be kept good, additions would have to be made to the house she then occupied, and which was owned by Mrs. Weir, determined upon consultation with an architect, and ascertained that it would be a better financial policy for her to build a new hotel upon a piece of ground owned by her, and not far distant from the hotel she then occupied. From what she stated in court, it appeared that she was under the impression that by getting from the Bench an extension of time she would be enabled to carry on business in her old house till the new one, her own property, was built. The necessary additions not being made to the old house, the license for it was cancelled, and Mrs. Cooper now applied for a new license for her new house. She stated on oath that although she had signed the application for an extension of time, yet she was not aware that its provisions only granted her further time to add to the building she then occupied, so as to bring it within the requirements of the Act. Mr. G. Cass, M.L.A., as a resident in the locality where Mrs. Cooper had erected her house, thought that the hotel would be an acquisition. Mr. Gelding, Mayor of Petersham, was also of that opinion; the house was a superior one, and there was not any other public-house in that ward; Mrs. Cooper had secured a large majority in the local option vote. Other testimony was given that the house was one well adapted to the requirements of the trade, and would be a convenience to the neighbourhood. The police objected to the license being granted, first because it was not required for the wants of those in the neighbourhood, there being three other public-houses within 600 yards of it, and six others within about 800 yards of it. Another objection was that there were a place of worship and a school close by. Objection was also made on the ground of an application having been made for time to enable Mrs. Cooper to get alterations made to her old place, whereas her intention was not to make such alterations, but to build a new house. Mrs. Weir, landlady of the hotel occupied by Mrs. Cooper, said that she had been willing to have the necessary additions made to the hotel, in order to make it comply with the provisions of the Act. The application was refused. In answer to Mr. Rogers, the chairman said one ground for the refusal was that the house was not required, and there were other reasons which it was not necessary to state.

Mr. Macintosh here left the Bench.

A prohibition against supplying liquor to Jeremiah Haywood within a distance of seven miles from his home in Windsor, was granted, on the application of his wife.

Thomas Hanley applied for a conditional license for a house being erected by him near the railway line, on the Illawarra extension. Mr. Wallace appeared on behalf of the applicant. The house was required for the accommodation of the labourers on the line. Senior-constable M'Garvey stated that there was a police station within four or five miles of the proposed situation of the hotel; from what he knew when he was at the spot three months ago, the hotel was not required. The application was refused.

Henry Jenkins, landlord of the Aurora Hotel, Elizabeth-street South, was charged with having at 9.30 on the morning of Sunday, the 8th October, kept his house open for the sale of liquors. Mr. Ryan appeared on behalf of the defendant. Two men were at the time stated seen to come out of the hotel, and two others went in, the police followed them. The men went into a parlour off the bar, and one had a tonic water or lemonade drink and the other a drink of beer, for which they paid. The constable stated that when he was leaving the hotel the defendant offered to give him £2 to "square it." The defendant swore that what had been said about bribery was untrue. The men who asked for drinks represented themselves as travellers. The Bench inflicted a fine of £5, making the penalty greater than usual on account of the attempt made according to the statement of the police to bribe them. The chairman remarked that there was such an amount of perjury in connection with cases such as this that it was a pity an example could not be made by having the offenders prosecuted in the Criminal Court.

WATER POLICE COURT.

Mr. Marsh, S.M., presided in the Charge Court, and Mr. Buchanan, S.M., in the Summons Court yesterday.

Thomas Brown was charged with having stolen a gold watch and chain, a pistol, 11 cartridges, a cigar case, a bag and £7 in money, the property of James Colley, valued in all at £27. Evidence was tendered to the effect that the prisoner and prosecutor were fellow-lodgers at the Sydney and Melbourne Hotel, situated at the corner of Margaret and Kent streets. They occupied the same bedroom, and on the morning of the 6th instant the prisoner arose early and left the room, taking with him the property mentioned. He pawned the watch and chain at the shop of one William Scott, pawnbroker, but the remainder of the property was found in his possession when arrested. The prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Court of General Sessions, to be held at Darlinghurst on Monday, the 11th December.

A large number of cases of drunkenness, and other minor offences, were disposed of.

NEWTOWN POLICE COURT.

On Monday, before Mr. Clarke, S.M. William N. Hawkins, charged with using obscene language, was fined 10s. or two days' imprisonment. Elizabeth Griffin, 15 years of age, charged under the Industrial School Act with wandering with prostitutes, was sent to Biloela. John Driscoll, a stunted diminutive of nine years, was brought up for protection. This little specimen actually got through the little trap in the cell-door at Stanmore on Sunday, and nearly eluded Constable Rankine's vigilance. It was recommended that he be sent to the Benevolent Asylum. Jane M'Lean and Elizabeth Pluck, convicted of riotous behaviour, were each fined 20s. and 4s. 4d. costs, or seven days' imprisonment. John E. Clark, convicted of using indecent language, was fined 40s. and 4s. 10d. costs, or 14 days' imprisonment.

Important Sale by Auction This Day, at 11 a.m., at No. 1, Tynne Villas, Snail's Bay, of very superior household furniture, choice pictures, glass, china, electroplate, and excellent pianoforte by Bord. Bradley, Newton, and Lamb, auctioneers.—[Advt.]

SPEECHES IN PARLIAMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Whatever may be the reverence felt by many for old formulas, and for methods of procedure consecrated by long periods of application, it cannot be denied that sentimental regard for them often stands in the way of the attainment of the best possible in all branches of human conduct. The accumulated precedents of Parliamentary practice which have come to be looked upon, although non-statutory, as its law, determine that speeches must be delivered, not read. Now this canon seems well worthy of question as to its wisdom. For many years I have held that all Parliamentary debates should be carried on in writing, and for a long time thought that I stood perhaps alone in the world in thinking so; but a year or two ago a paper appeared in the Nineteenth Century advocating this system. It was from the pen of the Scotch philosopher Alexander Bain. It is probably not practicable to inaugurate so radical a change by coup d'etat; but I am strongly of opinion that the time has arrived when members should be allowed the privilege, if so disposed, of preparing their speeches in writing, and reading them. Indeed, I think it would be better if all speeches introducing substantive motions should be read, and also the authoritative replies to them, either from the Government or from an organised Opposition. The reasons in favour of both the complete and the partial innovation are many and cogent. Under the present system success is obtained not so much by intellectual as by physical power. Parliamentary leaders must be, above all other things, men of strong vitality and extreme endurance. Of course we all know about the healthy mind in the healthy body; but as a prosaic matter of fact, there are as many, if not more, great minds in weakly than in sound bodies. Many of our greatest modern thinkers on social subjects, as Spencer, Buckle, Lewes, Bagehot, Thornton, Greg, &c., have been absolutely incapacitated from a Parliamentary life by ill-health; but it is idle to say that their absence is amply atoned for by the Northcotes, the Hartingtons, the Salisburys, and the Granvilles. Were discussions on great subjects carried on in writing, the invaluable boon of their powerful minds would have been available in the service of the country. Every good speaker must necessarily be a good writer, but it by no means follows that a good writer must be a good speaker. Many of the best thinkers are slow and laborious, and many of the best thoughts only come after long cudgelling of the brains, and wrestling with the problem at issue. "Easy writing," said Johnson "is damned hard reading;" and fluency of speech is no guarantee for soundness of sense. A written essay must always be of more value, because more accurate in fact and detail, than a speech, even from the most accomplished of orators. If a man is excessively fluent, he becomes "intoxicated with the exuberance of his own verbosity," and launches out into rash statements, and airy tropes, and windy promises that would find no place in a written paper. And on the other hand, if he is not fluent, he will probably flounder about in a quagmire of involved parentheses and ill-arranged and ill-expressed arguments, and sit down without giving vent at all to the valuable thoughts that are seething in his brain. Every reporter knows well that if speeches were reported verbatim nine-tenths of them would be arrant, unmeaning rubbish. Even John Stuart Mill, as a speaker, was a conspicuous failure. Then, again, speeches would not be so long and irrelevant, but more concise and pithy. Stonewalling and frivolous and vexatious obstruction would be impossible, and all necessity for anything of the nature of a cloture at an end. Furthermore, questions would be much more digested than under the present system. As debates are now conducted, a member must either make up his mind beforehand which way he shall vote—and if he does what is the use of the debate?—or else be swayed to and fro by the arguments of each succeeding speaker, and in the end give his decision in a sort of daze that plainly showed that he had only half digested the subject. A measure passed in this way must be valueless, and liable to be reversed at any time. The power to retain and properly to assess the value of a number of recurring arguments given orally is rare. In cases of legal adjudication it is considered necessary to write all the evidence down and carefully consider it. A Parliamentary measure is of more importance than a legal decision, therefore greater exactness should be demanded. A number of other reasons might be adduced, but I have trespassed enough.

Liberal Association, Nov. 2. GEORGE LACY.

Exhaustion of Mines.—The European Mail states:—"From statistics just published, it appears that for the last 15 years the products of our copper, lead, and silver mines have been rapidly but steadily decreasing. In 1867 they represented an annual value of two and a half millions of pounds, which had sunk last year to very little over a million. In the same period the production of copper has fallen from 10,000 to something under 5000 tons; lead has declined one-third, and silver nearly two-thirds of the original amount produced in 1867. The result has nothing to do with the depression of trade, for the decrease has been perfectly steady and uninterrupted for the last 15 years, which includes a period of marked prosperity. The fact simply remains that the mines are rapidly approaching exhaustion, and, if the decline continue—and there is nothing to indicate a hope of revival—another period of 15 years will see us nearly at the end of our mineral resources, so far as lead, copper, and silver are concerned. Fortunately these raw materials only represent a very small proportion of the natural mineral wealth of the kingdom, but those who are about to invest capital largely in the branch of mining might do well to carefully reconsider their intentions."

The IRONWORKERS and HUDSON BROTHERS.

The men report that Messrs. Hudson Brothers' firm having intimated through the Iron Trades Employers' Association to the Eight-Hour Conference of the Iron Trades that they would adopt the eight hours principle, the fitters and turners applied for work on Monday morning, and some were engaged, while others were informed that the firm had a sufficiency of hands to supply their wants at present, and therefore could not employ them; but it would appear that, were the difficulty with the blacksmiths removed, a larger number could be employed, for, notwithstanding that the firm have 13 agreement blacksmiths (imported some few months ago, and with whom there was some misunderstanding about the piecework) and four others, it seems they are not able to supply enough forgings, inasmuch as it is understood that another establishment has undertaken to turn out some of the iron work of the bogies. The eight-hour system commences this day, 7th November. But, with regard to the blacksmiths, they being aware of Messrs. Hudson Brothers' concession to the fitters and turners, appointed a deputation to wait upon the head of the firm yesterday morning to see if the difficulty could be removed which prevented them resuming work, viz., piecework, but that gentleman distinctly gave them to understand he would not yield to their wishes, as the firm fully determined to establish the piecework system in their works. And in support of this idea he said he thought the time had arrived when employers of labour should assert their rights of governing their factories as they thought proper; and, having that object in view, he informed them that his firm had cablegramed for workmen to England, and he was prepared to wait for them, as they no doubt would work according to his wishes. The deputation, anxious to know the reasons for his partiality to piece work, asked him what benefit it was to him as an employer. He argued it would secure him, according to his ideas, a better class of mechanics, as it would only be efficient workmen who could produce sufficient forged material to remunerate them for their labour. This being the case a less number of men would be required, and consequently more space available and less supervision needed to carry on this department, while on the other hand it would benefit the blacksmiths themselves, as the prices he would offer would enable a man who only earned £3 8s. a week by day work to receive £4 10s. a week by piece work, and as an illustration he instanced his agreement with the Granville blacksmiths as being able to earn from £3 10s. to £4 a week under the piece work system, whereas he had only agreed to give not less than £3 per week by day work. The deputation remarked that his opinions would be likely to have the effect of creating a suspicion that some hidden motive induced him to offer such strong inducements as he referred to, in reply to which he said that he had a fixed price for his contract work, which required some year and eight months to complete, and in the face of that he had advanced his schedule of prices, and therefore could not be charged with taking advantage of the men. The question then arose—would he give a guarantee for two years under the Master and Servants' Act, as he had previously offered to do some fortnight ago, embodying the exceptionally good prices he quoted. This he declined to do for two years, but would agree to one year, and would give his old hands the preference. It was then asked, in the event of his workmen not wishing to re-enter his service under the piece-work system, would he pledge his word not to use his influence against them in obtaining employment elsewhere? He assured the deputation he would, and further remarked he never had prevented men from getting employment. The blacksmiths intend to consider their position, for although the Trades and Labour Council and other trade societies have tendered their sympathy and promised support, by what has appeared in the press none of these organisations have as yet assisted these men pecuniarily. The Eight Hour Conference of the Iron Trades (who have so recently been heavily taxed to support mechanics in the late dispute) alone have supported the fitters, turners, and blacksmiths of Hudson, Brothers, the great obstacle being, as expressed by some of the intelligent members of the Trade and Labour Council, that although the objects they were struggling for were worthy of support, the men were not worthy because they were non-unionists. Still this is incorrect, as some of them are society men, and have received greater support from the conference than they have from their society funds.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—First thanking you for admission of previous patriotic ebullitions, I venture to trouble you again to notice some of the salient points in the Budget speech.

Whether the meeting at Newtown versus road tolls was arranged to precede and to exhibit the desirability of their abolition, as the tax is a direct one, "annoying to the general public and troublesome to collect," it is to be hoped it will become a thing of the past. Another good feature to be noticed is the prospect of having the police better paid, and thereby rendering them less liable to yield to temptation.

Among small mercies it is good to perceive that "administration of justice requires, next year, an additional sum of £12,000," of which it is to be supposed a portion is for increased jury fees, especially as Judges' salaries are now talked of being augmented.

That the Government deserve commendation for their go-ahead railway policy, and only as forerunners of light railways for the tramways that are proposed, I have no doubt that the people will agree. Of course a majority of the members of Parliament have taken care to become possessed of large tracts of land in the localities where rail communication is to be bestowed; but as we are not yet favoured with direct payment of members, they must be paid somehow for their valuable services, and I have no doubt indirectly they are well paid.

I should like to be able to write more favourably, but I am afraid there is little else to enumerate among the benefits our Liberal Government intend to shower down upon us.

Certainly we are promised "remission of duties on a number of articles," and we are told the result will be "not only to relieve certain classes of the community, but to further unfetter the trade and commerce of the colony." Rather will not the effect be to put the remitted duties into the pockets of the importers, who will be the only parties relieved of paying duties? With an expected surplus at the end of next year of £2,408,047, what is to prevent the Government taking off stamp duty, estimated at only £225,000 for 1883? Now this tax is really "annoying to the general public and troublesome to collect;" while among the articles starch, bacon and ham, and preserves, being the three most valuable of the household requisites, and timber, varnish, and turpentine, three of the most valuable under builders' materials—the importers are those only who are annoyed at having to pay duty; and I feel sure the general public are positively ignorant of there being any duty whatever on such articles. If it is desired "to unfetter trade and commerce," let pilotage dues and harbour and light dues be abolished; for 1881 these amount to only £22,723, and when we are really freetraders they certainly must be given up. But the cancerous sore which our Government are determined to perpetuate is the festering land sale iniquity. If Irish history is desired to be repeated in Australia, our Government are doing their best to get it, continuing to sow the seeds, as they are, for the wrongs of Australia to forcibly manifest themselves. It is stated that from land sales actual and estimated during the present year, no less a sum than £1,953,000 will be received; and our Government have the audacity to continue to call it revenue. And then we are told in a spirit of glorification,—"These figures show the enormous strides this colony has taken during the last few years." How? Because we have realised and sacrificed our land capital. We have witnessed "Victorianism," or the efforts to burst up large estates. Pursuing such a course as we are doing—allowing ourselves and posterity to be enormously robbed—ought we to be surprised at our having to suffer something worse than Victoria has done when all the land is sold to the big, foreign, and absentee capitalists?

In a naturally rich country like ours, I cannot see the necessity now for an expenditure of £150,000 for immigration. That the demand for labour is much in excess of supply must be admitted when it is considered the large public works that should be quickly undertaken; but why cannot we call for foreign tenders? If we are so ultra free trade, and admit foreign commodities free, surely our doors ought to be just as fairly open to foreign contract labour; and by this means we would obtain a very large increase of population to carry out large public works at less cost than home labour, yet without having to pay for additional population. Of course, it is desirable to have much larger increases, but we should act upon the freetraders' rule, "Buy in the cheapest market," by opening up avenues of work on an equitably protective basis that would attract an influx of emigrants without any cost whatever. It might be we should have for a time to assist emigrants, by lending them passage-money, &c., for say three years at 5 per cent.; but then repayment would be required before the emigrants could be allowed to leave the colony.

Probably our public accounts are most simply and perfectly kept, but we cannot gather this from the Budget speech; and it appears to me, inasmuch as it is printed, there is no reason why it could not be accompanied with a balance-sheet, so that there shall be as little mystification as possible. Among the items we want to see what have been our actual general expenses for part of the year, and what the estimate for the remainder is, keeping service receipts and expenditure as separate as possible; also interest on loans and cost of permanent public works. Assets in permanent public works should certainly be entirely distinct from all else. It is also desirable to know whether our Treasurer has included in his estimated expenditure what is necessary to make good the terrible losses we have sustained in the Garden Palace disaster, and what the estimated amount is.

Summing up, let us ask, In a golden land like ours is it statesmanlike to annually tinker and patch our fiscal system as we do? Is it not possible for us to be able to fix a revenue policy for a term of, say seven years, and to lease our lands with fixity of tenure for the same time? Now, I maintain that it is; that direct taxes may be almost abolished under ad valorem import and export duties, and fully ample revenue thereby obtained to promote the greatest free trade and equitable protection. Taxes by this means would not be annoying to the general public, nor troublesome to collect.

The half-yearly meeting of the proprietors of the Bank of New Zealand was held at Auckland on the 26th October, the Hon. James Williamson in the chair. The report showed that the net profit for the half-year ended 30th September, after full appropriation for all known bad or doubtful debts and in reduction of bank premises and furniture accounts, amounted to £98,921, to which was added previous balance of £11,003, making available for division £109,925, which was appropriated as follows:—To payment of dividend at rate of 10 per cent. per annum, £50,000; to bonus equal to 5 per cent. per annum, £25,000; to addition to reserve, £25,000; making that fund £600,000, leaving £9925 to be carried forward. The report was adopted. Mr. J. M. Cosh Clark was elected a director, and a vote of thanks passed to the directors and officers.

In the Import markets a fair trade was done to-day, including considerable business in the way of country orders. Prospects of an improvement in the country trade are brightening, and a good volume of business should continue to be done. In breadstuffs the demand is very light. In a weak market with the harvest approaching, no one seems anxious to buy more than the smallest lines for immediate trade requirements. Victorian flour is selling in small lines at from £13 10s. to £14; town brands of Adelaide and New South Wales flour at up to £15; best New Zealand and Californian at £13 10s. At Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin's sale this morning, no offer was made for the stock of fine Californian flour submitted under the hammer. The firm sold Californian bran at 1s. 2d., and colonial pollard at 1s. 2d. Two good lines of New Zealand oats were sold at 3s. to 3s. 4½d. The Dunedin Daily Times, under date October 30, reports that wheat continued an unsalable line. As the Sydney market had been so completely overdone, holders looked to local consumption, but it seemed uncertain whether they would not have to ship to London. Oats, on the contrary, had met with brisk demand, and a rise of 2d. per bushel had been well established. As the result of careful inquiries the Times had compiled the following estimate of stocks in hands of farmers and merchants at the middle of October:—Christchurch district, 20,000 bags; Timaru district, 52,000 bags; Oamaru district, 45,000 bags; Dunedin district, 30,000 bags; Invercargill district, 15,000 bags; in North Island, say 15,000 bags: total, 177,000 bags, or 708,000 bushels, less than a tenth of the crop and of the consumption by the average of the last two years, while there was at least a quarter of the year to run. Milling descriptions were very scarce, and feed oats were quoted at 3s. 2d. per bushel, f.o.b. at Oamaru, Timaru, or Bluff, and 3s. 2d. to 3s. 2½d. in Dunedin—equal to 2d. more f. o. b. at Port Chalmers. Shipping to Australia had collapsed in the meantime, and was not likely to be resumed as the bareness of the market became realised. In sugars in this market we hear of business in Fijian at from £31 for good yellow counter to £36 for fine confectionery crystals. Dried fruits were sold freely, and business was done up to 5½d. for best samples; elemes sold at 7d. to 7¼d. Dairy maid milk to arrive was sold at 7s. 6d.; coffee and milk was placed at 14s. 6d.; and cocoa and milk at 12s. 6d. A fair business was done in D.R.J. candles at 7¼d. Considerable speculative transactions took place in hops, stocks being concentrated in one hand, and 4s. 3d. to 4s. 6d. asked by holder. In liquors, sales were made in Hennessy's three star case at 46s. 6d., stocks getting scarce. In rum, business was done at yesterday's quotation; 300 cases of Brian Boru whisky sold at 16s. Metals show no alteration in view; a fair trade is reported, but prices are complained of as unremunerative. Until the market is cleared, there seems little prospect of improvement. Cream of tartar in kegs, was placed at 1s. 3½d., other lines of drugs at yesterday's quotations. On the wharfs lucerne hay is selling from £3 5s. to £4 5s. per ton; maize, 4s. 9d. per bushel; potatoes—New Zealand, prime quality, £8, Circular Head, £9 10s.; onions, £8; hay chaff, £6 5s. per ton; butter, 11d. to 1s. per lb.; eggs, 1s. 3d. to 1s. 4d. per dozen; cheese, 11d. to 1s. per lb.; bacon, 7d. to 9d. per lb.; wax, 9d. to 11d.; fowls, 4s. to 5s. per pair; ducks, 5s. to 6s. 6d.; geese, 6s. to 8s.; turkeys, 11s. to 20s.; millet brooms, 8s. to 10s. per dozen.

Messrs. Fraser and Co. will offer at auction to-morrow (Wednesday) morning, colonial sugars and flour; and in the afternoon, shipments of lumber.

The leather market was again easy at the weekly sales to-day. Messrs. F. L. Barker, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin (limited), Hill, Clark, and Co., and John Bridge report the quittance of catalogues at the following figures:—Kip, 11d. to 15d.; sole, 8d. to 10d.; damaged sole, from 6½d.; calf, 20d. to 30d.; yearling, 16d. to 22d.; tweed, 12d. to 25d.; harness, 10½d. to 14d.; kangaroo (colonial), 18d. to 24d.; Hobart, 4s. to 4s. 3d.; bag, 6s. to 11s. 6d.; bridle, 7s. to 11s.; basils, 4s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.

The Customs duties received to-day were as follows:—

Spirits, £2201 5s. 4d.; wine (still), £179 4s.; wine (sparkling), £17; ale, porter, and beer (in bottle), £351 13s. 3d.; tobacco and snuff, £158 16s.; tobacco (unmanufactured), £22 13s.; cigars, £57 16s. 4d.; tea, £412 12s.; coffee and chicory, £28 5s. 6d.; sugar, unrefined, 3s. 9d.; molasses, £3 8s. 8d.; opium, £212 15s.; rice, £164 2s. 4d.; dried fruits, £276 17s. 2d.; nuts, £20 0s. 8d.; malt, £117 15s. 6d.; sarsaparilla, £3 17s. 6d.; specific duty, £1258 9s. 1d.; pilotage, £52 14s. 4d.; harbour and light dues, £30 5s.; total, £5569 14s. 5d.

Messrs. Griffiths and Weaver will sell by auction, at the Exchange, to-morrow, Wednesday, at half-past 2 o'clock, the Karoola station and stock.

LAND SALE.

Brunker and Wolfe held a very successful land sale at Cohen's Hotel, West Maitland, to-day, the principal lots being portion of Mr. S. Eckford's estate, which sold as high as £96 (ninety-six pounds) per acre, the lot averaging £70 per acre. Total amount of sales, £10,106.—[Advt.]

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

Victorian Mining Stocks.—Band and Albion, 90s. Berry Consols Extended, 52s. 6d.; Duke, 97s.; Garibaldi, 12s. 6d. to 13s.; Long Tunnel Extended, £18 5s.; Loughlin, £9 15s.; New Australasian, £9 5s.; New North Homebush, 15s. 6d.; North Band and Barton, 30s.; St. Mungo, 21s. 6d.

Flour is very difficult of sale at declining rates. 100 bags of wheat were sold by auction at 5s. 8d., the remainder being passed in. The highest price offered was 5s. 9d. Sales of New South Wales maize at 5s. 9d. to 6s. There is a good business doing in sugars at full rates. American sugar was sold at auction at £37 6s., all faults; brewers' yellow crystals, £35. 1000 bales of cornsacks were sold on private terms, and 200 bales by auction at to 7s. 7½d. Raisins are in strong request; sultanas and valencias realise 6½d.; elemes, 6¼d.; subsequently an offer of 4½d. was made for a good parcel of the last named description for export, and refused. Timber sales are quiet, and prices are lower, owing to recent heavy arrivals.

ADELAIDE, Tuesday.

Old wheat is very scarce, and holders are not disposed to accept the price offered by buyers of 5s. 9d. Of new wheat some purchases were made, equal to 4s. 11d., at Port Adelaide, for delivery in December. The price is altogether out of the question for shipment abroad, but owing to the low state of stocks it may be maintained for early demands.

The Elder Wool and Produce Company offered 3100 bales of wool to-day. The attendance was numerous and bidding spirited. The majority of the lots sold at fair prices. The company report 4s. 6d. as the price of new wheat, and 5s. 6d. of old.

THE BANK OF NEW ZEALAND.

Report of proceedings at the half-yearly general meeting of the proprietors, held at Auckland, on Thursday, 26th October, 1882:—

The half-yearly general meeting of shareholders was held at the Banking-house, Queen-street, on Wednesday, at noon, the Hon. James Williamson in the chair.

The General Manager (Mr. D. L. Murdoch) read the advertisement calling the meeting, also the minutes of the last half-yearly general meeting, and the report and balance-sheet, as follows:—

Forty-second report of the directors of the Bank of New Zealand, to the half-yearly general meeting of the proprietors, held at the banking-house, Auckland, on Wednesday, 25th October, 1882.

The result of the past half-year's operations enables the directors to submit to shareholders the following statement, which they trust will be deemed satisfactory:—

The net profit for the half-year ended 30th September, after full appropriation for all known bad or doubtful debts, and in reduction of bank premises and furniture, accounts, amounts to ...		£98,921 17 9
To which has to be added—Balance from half-year ended 31st March, 1882 ...		11,003 12 2
Giving a total, available for division, of ...		£109,925 9 11

We hereby certify that we have examined the accounts of the Bank of New Zealand for the half-year ended 30th September, 1882, and that we have counted the cash balances and examined the bills and other securities held at the Head Office, and compared the returns of the branches with the statements in the foregoing balance-sheet, and have found the same to be correct.

(Signed) GEO. P. PIERCE, BENJ. TONKS, } Auditors.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, said:—Gentlemen,—There is an old but trite proverb, "Good wine needs no bush," and on this occasion, with such figures before you as are presented in the report and balance-sheet which you have just heard read, I do not feel called upon to make any lengthened remarks. Comparison of the various items with the balance-sheet of last half-year will show considerable uniformity under nearly every heading, and considering that the past is the off or more inactive half of the year, I think you will agree with me that the result is very gratifying. The period of the year accounts for the diminished volume of the bank's exchange operations, included under the heading of bills payable in circulation; the slight decline in deposits is wholly due to the gradual expenditure of public moneys; while the small increase in the advances, as shown under the head of bills discounted and other debts due to the bank, indicates more active employment of the bank's resources, and a corresponding diminution of the large balances which for some time back we have had in comparatively inactive use in London. The net profits show an increase of over £16,000 as compared with the previous statement, and without trenching too heavily on the balance to be carried forward, we feel warranted in recommending the handsome addition of £25,000 to the reserve fund, which will then stand at £600,000. On this the occasion of the bank having attained its majority, I may well be allowed to congratulate shareholders on the immense results achieved since its inception, and the important position it now occupies as shown in the balance-sheet. Without taking undue credit to ourselves for all that has been accomplished, we may look with satisfaction to the facts that £1,862,000 have been dispensed in dividends, while our landed property and bank premises have been written down to a point which might fully warrant our taking further credit to our reserve fund of fully £220,000, and over and above this large amount nearly as much more might be assumed as increased value of the bank's property. As an illustration of this, I may say that a recent sale of the leasehold of the land in Christchurch immediately in front of our premises, gives a proportionate value to our site there of nearly one-fourth of the amount at which the whole of the land and valuable premises throughout the colonies now stands in our books. Apart, however, from the mere profit attaching to our operations, who can estimate the benefits conferred during the past 21 years on the commerce of the colony through the instrumentality of the bank? It has been our uniform endeavour to support legitimate enterprise, and while we have thus led to the accomplishment of much that could not otherwise have been undertaken, we are not slow to acknowledge that a generous support by the public has enabled the bank to build up a business of which any institution might well be proud. Looking to the future, it is on the continued support of the public that we must rely for results; and while, therefore, we cannot command success, we will at least endeavour to deserve it. As to the general outlook of business in the colonies, while there is much to encourage a confidently hopeful prospect, the rapid general increase of imports affords a fitting text for warning. Putting aside the views which political economists may express on the bearing of such condition, the fact remains that excessive imports have to be paid for, and the marked change which has taken place during the past six months in the combined bank returns of the various colonies, sufficiently points to the necessity for a sharp curb being applied to check this onward movement. Land speculation, also, in some districts, deserves a passing notice, and while its existence may generally be accepted as an evidence of a larger well-to-do class, it may well be apprehended that apparently easily made profit may lead to land gambling, which cannot fail to be detrimental to the community. While feeling bound to notice these disturbing elements, I have much satisfaction in expressing my confidence in the prosperous condition of the staple industries in the colonies. Pastoral and agricultural interests for the season have very bright prospects before them; and the rapid development of the frozen meat export trade, and of dairy factories to be utilised in the same connection, opens up a future for these industries which will largely promote the general welfare. With these remarks, I beg to move the adoption of the report and balance-sheet.

Dr. J. L. Campbell: I beg to second the motion for the adoption of the report.

The motion for the adoption of the report was then put, and carried unanimously.

SYDNEY PERMANENT FREEHOLD, LAND, and BUILDING SOCIETY.—Established 1865. Reserve Fund, £23,000. Money received on fixed deposit; if for 12 months, 6 per cent. allowed; if for 6 months, 5 per cent. per annum. Savings Bank Department open daily. No notice required for withdrawals. Advances granted on the Society's usual liberal terms.

J. W. EBBY, Secretary.

315, Pitt-street,

In addition to the usual examination of the accounts by the Auditors, the affairs of the Society are investigated by an ACTUARY at the end of every third year. The following is a copy of the second Triennial Report of M. A. BLACK, Esq., F.I.A.:—

"Sydney, October, 1882.

"In compliance with instructions received from the Board of Management of the Sydney Permanent Freehold, Land, and Building Society, I have examined the society's books and accounts, as well as the balance sheets contained in the fourth, fifth, and sixth Annual Reports presented to the members.

"I have no hesitation in certifying to the correctness of the society's accounts, but in doing so it must be understood as stated in my report of the society's affairs, dated 27th February, 1879:—'That the investigation does not embrace a detailed audit of the society's accounts.'

"As each of the balance-sheets under review disclosed the amount at credit of profit and loss, I had to satisfy myself that the method of debiting interest to borrowers and crediting it to investors were carried out on a correct basis, or one sufficiently accurate for ordinary business purposes. I accordingly investigated a specimen account of an investing, paid-up and borrowing shareholder, and find that interest is credited to the two former and charged to the latter in the manner represented in your annual reports, viz., 8 per cent to investing and paid-up shares, and 8 per cent. (now 7 per cent.) to borrowing shares. In allotting interest to investing shares at the end of each year, there is credited 8 per cent. on the amount at the beginning of the year together with half a year's interest on the subscriptions paid up to June of the current year, the effect of this method is of course to improve the subscriptions at a rate slightly less than 8 per cent. Similarly borrowing shares are debited with one year's interest on the amount due at the beginning of the year, a course which has the effect of charging the borrower somewhat in excess of the nominal rate of interest. The interest being debited and credited as above explained, the effect of the annual adjustment of interest as between investor and borrower is that the affairs of the society are clearly set out in the balance-sheet and the annual profit of the business exhibited; the resulting surplus, as mentioned in the last annual report, being £29,677 11s. 4d. The course adopted in appropriating £25,000 of this balance to a reserve fund is a highly judicious one, so much of the profit being of an exceptional character. Not only will this fund enable the society to meet any possible depreciation which may occur in the value of its securities, but it will necessarily add to its stability and enhance its attractiveness in the eyes of the general public, from whom its membership is recruited. When to this is added the sum of £4540, to provide a bonus to members, there will remain a balance of £137 11s 4d of unappropriated profit. In your report this amount is stated to be £237 11s 4d, but this is evidently a clerical error. The expenses of management continue to be on the same economical scale as when I last reported on the society.

"(Signed) M. A. BLACK."

The Sydney Morning Herald.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1882.

In the Legislative Assembly, yesterday,

Ministers replied to questions respecting the sale of Crown lands, the mineral conditional purchase of Mr. Louis M'Kenzie at Hay, the lease of rooms for Insolvent Court business, the subscription for Mrs. Hayes, in the hands of Mr. Wise, the agent for Immigration: the office of chief mining surveyor, the case of Mr. Alphonse Bechet, the seeds and plants obtained from Lord Howe Island, the forfeiture of conditional purchases for the violation of the 9th section of the Lands Act Amendment Act of 1875, the salaries of the District Court Judges, the fumigating apparatus at the quarantine station, the bridges which have superseded public ferries, the removal of the steamer Ballina from the entrance to Port Macquarie, the road through Pigeon Grove at Redbank, the survey of the Hastings River, and the grants for the purchase of additional recreation reserves.

Mr. J. P. Abbott brought up a bill for the amendment of the District Court Acts in certain particulars, and it was read a first time.

Mr. Hay presented a petition from Deniliquin and Hay in favour of amendments in the Licensing Act.

Sir Henry Parkes gave notice of his intention of moving to-day that the House shall, at its rising, adjourn till Friday; and Mr. J. P. Abbott gave notice of an amendment that the adjournment be till Tuesday.

Ministers laid on the table returns—1, in the matter of the complaint against Mr. Elliott, of Quipolly Public school; 2, the subscription for Mrs. Hayes; and 3, the seeds and plants obtained by Mr. C. Moore from Lord Howe Island. It was ordered that the documents be printed.

A report of papers connected with the site for a railway station at Rylstone was ordered on the motion of Mr. Buchanan.

The Congregational Union Incorporation Bill was read a third time and passed, and it was ordered that it be forwarded to the Legislative Council for its concurrence in the amendments made therein.

Mr. Combes moved a resolution declaring that the House would, on Friday, resolve itself into Committee of the Whole to consider an address to his Excellency the Governor, recommending that the sum of £200 be placed on the Supplementary Estimates for 1882 as compensation to Mr. Henry Halloran, C.M.G., for land taken from him by the municipality of Ashfield. He argued that the circumstances of the case were peculiar, and that it was right on the part of Mr. Halloran to seek redress from the Government for the injury which he had suffered owing to the encroachment made on his property at Mowbray for the widening of the road adjacent thereto. Mr. Halloran held under a grant made in 1794, which contained no reservation for roads, and the property had been greatly improved and beautified, so that there was the greater hardship in resuming any portion of the land for public purposes.

Dr. Renwick sympathised with Mr. Halloran, but was compelled, as a matter of duty, to oppose the motion. Mr. Halloran was Chief Under-Secretary when the alignments were proclaimed, and made no objection, and that there was ample provision in the law for the action taken by the Government at the request of the Ashfield municipality there could be no doubt. Mr. Halloran brought an action against the Municipal Council which he was compelled to withdraw, and his next movement was against the Government, whereas if an action could be sustained at all it would be against the municipality. The case would form a bad precedent if it should be recognised by the House, and he hoped the motion would be defeated.

Mr. Farnell thought the law under which the Government acted was obsolete. A wrong had been done to a private individual, for which the Government were responsible, and he should therefore vote for the motion.

The motion was further supported by Mr. Pigott, Mr. Badgery, Mr. Byrnes, Mr. Kidd, and Mr. O'Connor, and was opposed by Mr. M'Elhone, Mr. Poole, Mr. Abigail, and Mr. Garrard.

Mr. Combes replied, and the motion was put and negatived on a division by 37 to 25.

A motion by Mr. Ryrie for printing the papers laid on the table on the 11th October last, on the conditional purchase made by Mr. George Day at the Urana land office, was agreed to.

On the adjournment of the House being moved by the Colonial Secretary,

Mr. Garrard drew attention to the finding of the Marine Board in the case of the Woniora, which he said was most unsatisfactory, and that the Navigation Act had not been properly worked in this colony.

Mr. M'Elhone condemned the overloading of the Hunter River steamers with both cargo and passengers, and the carrying of deck cargo.

Mr. J. P. Abbott bore out the statements of Mr. M'Elhone, and also said the provisions of the Licensing Act were not observed on board the steamers, where large quantities of liquor were sold.

Mr. Abigail spoke of the unseaworthy condition in which vessels were allowed to go to sea.

Mr. Martin advocated action in reference to the Pyrmont Bridge question.

Mr. Young believed there was no place in which the navigation laws were administered with greater laxity than in this colony.

Mr. Watson said it was the opinion of Captain Hixson that the Woniora was not lost through overloading, and that he had instructed that gentleman to cause steps to be taken for the detection and prosecution of vessels which committed breaches of the law. The Hunter River steamers were licensed to carry more passengers than they could provide accommodation for, and they could not avoid carrying deck cargo.

Mr. Stuart said he considered the Woniora was perfectly fit for sea, and that her loss was to be attributed solely to an error of judgment on the part of her master.

Sir Henry Parkes said it was the intention of the Government to proceed with the Land Bill to-day, and to confine the business to that measure till it was disposed of.

The House adjourned at ten minutes past 7 p.m., to 4 p.m. this day, Wednesday.

The Treasurer's budget was more a statement of accounts than a declaration of policy, but some questions of policy were raised by it, and one of these was the reduction of taxation. "With such a growing revenue, and such a large estimated surplus," says Mr. Watson, "it would be absurd to propose additional taxation." In ordinary cases that assertion could be accepted without qualification or remark; but it is not to be forgotten that the Treasurer was obliged to propose additional taxation no further back than 1879, and that one of the reasons why he is now able to forecast a surplus instead of a deficit is that the land sales revenue, which was then suffering from collapse, is now flourishing beyond expectation. Without enlarging upon that question, however, it may be admitted that the circumstances of the times point rather to the reduction of taxation than to an increase. Indeed, if the Government were prepared to undertake, or the House to carry through, a broad and effective policy of decentralisation, these days of large surpluses might be seized as the opportunity for effecting fiscal reforms and financial readjustments more worthy of the name than the nibbling at the tariff to which the Treasurer has ventured to commit himself. The reductions now proposed are said to be designed "not only to relieve certain classes of the community, but to further unfetter the trade and commerce of the colony, and make Sydney the freest port in the Southern hemisphere." In setting before himself this twofold object, Mr. Watson is entitled to the approval and support of all who believe that the healthy progress of the colony will be promoted in some degree by every step taken to cheapen commodities and remove impediments from commercial enterprise. But to those who hold this view, the Treasurer's proposals, which seem to imply either timidity or inconsistency, will be a cause of disappointment. They will say, if he is prepared to go so far, why does he not go further in the same direction now that he has the opportunity for doing so? He proposes to abolish the duties on a number of articles from which but little revenue is derived. There are 64 items on the list of "specific duties," and that list he would cut down to 34, at the cost of surrendering some £50,000 or £60,000 per annum of Customs revenue. The loss will not be felt. The collection of duties on so many articles with the effect of procuring so trifling a yield is labour thrown away, and worse than that, it is a source of delay and inconvenience, and expense to the public. What is to be gained by the community by placing these items on the free list will more than counterbalance what is to be lost in the shape of revenue. But the same may be said of other articles besides the selected 30. The pleas of relief to consumers, and convenience to trade, would have justified the Treasurer in enlarging his list, even at the cost of a larger surrender of revenue. It is not quite clear whether the Treasurer fears loss of revenue or loss of support. It is not easy to understand his action and his reasoning, on the theory that he is a free trader with the courage of his opinions. The tax on timber will involve the largest sacrifice in its surrender, viz., a sum of £15,000; but Mr. Watson almost apologetically defends the remission of it, not against cavil on the ground of cost, but against the anticipated objections of protectionists. He says, "the timber imported is of a description not obtainable in this colony. The remission of this duty cannot therefore prove injurious to those engaged in the colonial timber trade." Has he been restrained from proposing some other reductions that suggest themselves by the fear of opposition from interested parties? He remits the duty on timber partly because it is extensively used for building purposes. But so is galvanised iron, and so are nails, and they are both left subject to taxation. Galvanised manufactures, it is true, are to be made free; but it might have been added, by way of excuse in their case, so in the case of the timber, that galvanised holloware taxes itself by the high ratio of its bulk to its value. It is well to relieve building operations of unnecessary charges; but there are other industries, which are more or less hampered by duties now on the tariff—manufactures, for instance, in which oils are used. Why are those left untouched? If the Colonial Treasurer had been prepared to take advantage of prosperous times and an overflowing exchequer, for the better adjustment of our whole system of taxation, he might have found both the means and the reason for making a clean sweep of those specific duties upon which he merely proposes to make an inroad. The means we need not now discuss, though he himself made some valuable suggestions in his last budget. The reason is not far to seek. The "specific duties," so described in the Customs returns and the budget, form a portion of our tariff that was added at a time of emergency. Seventeen or eighteen years ago the credit of the colony was sunk to a shamefully low level by the extravagance, improvidence, and want of candour or want of understanding of the Government. Our debentures were out of repute, and could only be sold at a heavy discount. Our banking account was overdrawn, and our banker threatened to dishonour the Government cheques unless immediate steps were taken to increase the revenue. The revenue had to be increased, and although ministerial crises were involved in the attempt, the thing was done at last in 1866 by the imposition of ad valorem duties. Affairs have changed since then. Mr. Watson, happy man, now sings, "The day of deficits is past." We are embarrassed by our accumulated wealth, and are at our wits' end for excuses for spending it. And yet we retain on the tariff, under another name, a large proportion of this emergency taxation. The frauds and abuses inseparable from the working of the ad valorem principle showed themselves soon after its adoption; and for the protection of the public morals, as well as the public revenue, the need of a change was soon recognised. By the Act of 1871 a number of the articles chargeable with ad valorem duty were made subject to specific duties of corresponding weight; so that while the taxation remained it was collected in a different way. In 1873 the ad valorem duties that had been left untouched in 1871 were repealed, but the specific duties of 1871 still stood, and they still stand, as part of a scheme of taxation adopted at a time of emergency and pressure, although the pressure and the emergency have passed away. Mr. Watson's proposal is to be welcomed, as far as it goes; but if a discussion upon the question of free-trade or protection is to be raised at all (and the Treasurer himself is evidently looking forward to that), we may regret that it is not to be raised on a bolder, broader, and more consistent policy, especially considering the strength of the Government, and the magnificent opportunity before it.

The amendments which the Government has consented to make in the Fire Brigades Bill have been accepted by the insurance companies, but, so far as the public is concerned, the amendments are not considerable. The bill remains a most inadequate, if not a wholly objectionable, one. As first introduced it provided for the appointment of a general superintendent by the Government, for making the contributions of all the fire insurance companies compulsory, and for a possible Parliamentary vote to supplement the funds the companies would create. The principal modifications made are two in number. The Parliamentary grant is to be made certain, and it is to be equal to the sum produced by the companies, and then the grant is to be limited to efficient brigades—that is to say, it is to be limited for the present at least to the one insurance brigade. The Premier gave it as his opinion that in the sense intended there is but one efficient brigade in the city, and this, of course, is the one that belongs to the insurance companies. The volunteer brigades will be allowed to assist in the extinguishing of fires as at present; but unless they should work themselves up to the standard of efficiency, they will receive no portion of the Parliamentary subsidy, they will simply receive a gratuity, the measure of which is to be the measure of the service rendered. In this the brigades are to be treated as everybody else will be treated. For the inefficient fire brigades there is to be payment by results, and such payment is to be accorded to individuals or to bodies who may assist in putting out fires.

As to the bearing which these provisions may have on the future of the voluntary brigades there seems to be some difference of opinion; but the probability will be that by passing the present bill Parliament will legislate some of them out of existence. The Premier contended that the voluntary brigades will be better off with the bill than they are without it, because while at present they get nothing from the State under the bill they are entitled to a State gratuity. The brigades, however, may look at the matter in another way. They may contend that while so far as the State is concerned the voluntary brigades now stand on the same footing as the fire brigade, under the bill they will stand on a different footing altogether. It may be said of course that no difference will be made in the brigades if they should be able to prove themselves efficient; but the voluntary brigades may reply that the required standard of efficiency is one that they will be unable to reach. This we suppose is the result that everybody expects. It is hardly likely that the voluntary brigades will bring themselves up to the requirements of the bill, and the section of the public on which they have been in the habit of relying may fail to see why it should do under the new regime what it has been doing under the old one. Many of the subscribers to local fire brigades have been constituents of the insurance companies, and although in the present state of things they may consent to contribute to the companies and to the brigades also, such an arrangement can hardly be calculated on in perpetuity. If subscribers should find reasons for not giving to efficient brigades they may discover greater reasons why they should not give to inefficient ones. For the inefficient brigades there will only be three sources of income, the contributions of the public, the subscriptions which may come from the members of the brigades themselves, and the gratuities to be granted for services received. As to the last source there will be no certainty whatever. The duty of appraising the services which the inefficient brigades may render will have to be left to the superintendent, and the probability is that no superintendent that may be appointed will form a very high estimate of the value of inefficient brigades. No one can deny that there is at least a probability that the bill will put an end to some of the voluntary brigades. It may turn out that Mr. Stuart was correct when he said that it will be destructive of the whole principle of volunteer fire brigades.

It would be well for Parliament to ask how the metropolis would fare if such a result were to happen. Where in such a case would be the machinery for extinguishing fires? Is the metropolis to be left to the mercy of the one brigade of the insurance companies? It may be said that if the voluntary brigades should cease to exist, the companies will bring other brigades into existence or so increase the size of their present brigade as to make it equal to the wants of the metropolis. But does anybody believe that the insurance companies should be saddled with this responsibility, or that such a business ought to be handed over to them? It must not be forgotten that in its amended form the bill makes no provision whatever for the forming or the training of fire brigades. These are still to be left to voluntary effort, and if the self-appointed brigades should drop off, these will rest with the insurance companies. Upon these companies the whole metropolis will be dependent; and, if it is to be dependent upon the companies, it will be at their mercy. If, as the Premier contends, the effect of the bill should be to leave the inefficient brigades where they are, how much better will the citizens be off than they are now? It is said that the bill provides for a superintendent, but that, although a good thing so far as it goes, is only one thing. The inefficiency of the present brigade system has been quite as serious a ground of complaint as its disunity. An efficient superintendent will want an efficient body of men to command. It is very good to say that the principal thing wanted in the working of a fire brigade is discipline; but in every army there must be recruiting and training as well as discipline. The present bill makes no provision for the recruiting and the training of brigades; it does not propose to appoint any public body to manage the business with which it deals. The assumption is still that the insurance companies will see to this, and that where the companies fall short the voluntary brigades will supply what is lacking. The matter, therefore, comes to this: If the effect of the bill should be the overthrow of the voluntary brigades, the metropolis will be left in the hands of the insurance companies. If this should not be its effect and the voluntary brigades should find themselves able to go on as they have been doing, so far as the efficiency of its fire extinguishing machinery is concerned, the metropolis will be in much the same position as it is at present.

The concessions made by the Premier are valuable ones to the companies, and they are but just. As the bill has been altered the contributions of the companies will go into the pockets of inefficient brigades. But in the negotiations which have taken place on the bill the subject has been treated too much as if it were one that concerned merely the Government and the insurance companies. The latter probably see that, as altered, the bill will suit them very well. If, as certain members intimated, the clause which authorises the superintendent to destroy any building he may think proper, and which provides for no compensation where property so destroyed is not insured, should prove equivalent to a compulsory insurance clause—and it is very likely to prove such—the insurance companies will have good reason to be satisfied with the bill. The result of such a clause may be to expand their revenues enormously. A clause to this effect may be quite necessary, but it is a dangerous one notwithstanding. The Superintendent is not only to have the power to destroy buildings; he is to be empowered to close any street, lane, or public thoroughfare; he is to do what he pleases with the property of the Corporation, as well as with that of the citizens, and the Corporation is to have no say whatever in the matter. It is to be without responsibilities and without privileges. Unless the voluntary brigades should prove equal to the occasion, the whole management of the business under discussion is to be left to the insurance companies and to an irresponsible superintendent, whose appointment is to be another piece of Ministerial patronage; and all this is to be done on the eve of our getting an elaborate bill which is to effectually deal with the whole question of local government.

The Government of Queensland appears, like other Governments, to be taking an active interest in the subject of water conservation in those parts of the interior which are destitute of rivers and creeks, and are subject to the devastating effects of long-continued droughts; and with efforts such as are now in progress through the colonies large tracts of country, at the present time absolutely waterless, and therefore dangerous to human life, as well as offering only a precarious existence to stock, may become as accessible and as valuable as any of the more favoured pastoral districts. But is the Government of Queensland adopting the right method in the steps it is taking? The hydraulic engineer to that Government has been visiting the colony of South Australia for the purpose of inquiring into the measures already taken, or proposed to be taken, by the South Australian Government in regard to the conservation of water, and he is impressed with the value of steam scoops, which are to be employed in constructing reservoirs between the existing railway system of Queensland and the Diamantina country. Reservoirs are very useful for collecting rain water, but they cannot be depended upon in dry seasons, and are always liable to become impure. Anyone who has travelled over the back blocks of New South Wales must be acquainted with the unsavoury condition of many of the tanks or reservoirs, and know what a poor relief they are to the thirst of man or beast. But we are providing something better in the interior of this colony for water conservation than tanks or reservoirs, and it is the improved method of finding water for those parts of the country without it which is as necessary in the interior of Queensland, where practicable, as it is in the interior of the other colonies. The days of tanks and reservoirs are going fast, if they are not already gone. The scoop used in the construction of reservoirs is giving place to the diamond drill, and the new plan, instead of merely providing means for storing water when the rain falls in sufficient quantity to run into the receptacles prepared for it, is discovering beneath the soil supplies of the precious fluid which are practically inexhaustible. That is what is wanted to make the land rich in flocks and herds, and fit for agriculture. A reservoir is but a temporary measure; the discovery of a copious spring is a permanent blessing, and with a proper use of the diamond drill we may very soon have adequate supplies of water in localities where they are most required.

At the meeting of the Amsterdam Exhibition Commission, held on Monday last, the committee thought it advisable that ten thousand copies of a succinct work, showing the progress and present condition of the colony, should be printed in English, and the same number each in French, German, and Dutch, for distribution at the Exhibition which is about to be held. The experience of the result of official pamphleteering hitherto has not been very encouraging as regards New South Wales, and it is questionable whether it is worth while for the Government to go to considerable expense on the present occasion for that purpose. Productions of the kind in question, when forwarded to Europe, do not even find their way into the butter market. When the second Intercolonial Exhibition was held in Sydney, we published, as a special supplement to the Herald, a brief account of the history, geography, capabilities, trade, and progress of New South Wales, specially prepared for transmission to Great Britain and Ireland. We know that many thousands of copies of this special supplement were sent to England, Scotland, and Ireland, and not a few to other parts of Europe and the United States. Since then carefully compiled works by Mr. Charles Robinson, Mr. G. H. Reid, M.P., Mr. Charles Lyne, and Messrs. Spruson and Dowling (the latter edited by Mr. Thomas Richards, Government Printer), have been printed at the public expense, intended primarily for circulation in the mother country. But here is the great difficulty. It is next to impossible to get these works circulated, particularly among the classes for whom they are principally written, and if circulated they are not likely to engage the very serious attention of the working classes at home, who seek knowledge by a simpler method, and go more for reliable generalities than for elaborate calculations or dry facts. It is stated that 50,000 copies of "New South Wales, the Oldest and Richest of the Australian Colonies," are in store in London; Mr. Reid's essay created some stir in the review columns of the newspapers at the time, but speedily was relegated to the limited circle of colonists in England, or those immediately connected with them; Mr. Lyne's reprint of the "Industries of the Colony" seems to have shared the same fate; and we hear nothing of the pamphlet issued about ten months ago from the Government Printing Office, specially for distribution in England during the visit of the Premier, beyond occasional reviews in some London and provincial papers. To print tens of thousands of pamphlets for more exportation and ultimate storage or sale as waste paper is simply absurd. If the committee, however, determine on carrying out the proposal, let them by all means ensure, if possible, two things—first, that the "succinct account" shall be so attractively written as to be read extensively; and secondly, that it shall be circulated instead of shelved.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

In regard to Egyptian affairs, we learn by this morning's cablegrams that the President of the Council of Ministers, Cherif Pasha, has replied to M. Bredif's communication, asking why he is excluded from the Council of Ministers, as French representative. The reply is to the effect that, inasmuch as the British representative had voluntarily abstained from taking his seat, the Khedive's Government considered it inexpedient that Bredif Pasha should take his. This, however, does not end the difficulty.

A good deal of sickness is reported to be prevalent amongst the British troops in Egypt, many of them having been stricken with fever.

Baron Wolseley of Cairo, for such in future is to be Sir Garnet Wolseley's title, has evidently imbued the mind of the Egyptian people and their neighbours with a feeling of dread of incurring the displeasure of England. A false report that British troops were advancing towards Khartoum was sufficient to strike the followers of the new prophet with terror and dismay, and the people of the city have, for the present at all events, been relieved of apprehensions as to an attack from Es-Senoussi's disciples.

News from the Cape states that the Boer troops and the forces under the chief Mapoch have had severe encounters, the Boers being twice defeated with heavy loss.

Mr. Copeland, when withdrawing a resolution upon the business paper in the Legislative Assembly last night, stated that the Minister for Mines intended to withdraw the amended regulations relating to gold-mining leases, published in the Government Gazette of 4th April last.

Sir Henry Parkes, in the Legislative Assembly, yesterday, gave notice that he would move to-day that the House, at its rising, do adjourn until 4 o'clock on Friday next—Thursday being a holiday on account of the Prince of Wales' Birthday. Mr. J. P. Abbott thereupon gave notice that he would move as an amendment that the House adjourn until Tuesday. Very little business was transacted, as the most debateable matters upon the paper were postponed. Mr. Combes' motion for leave to go into committee to consider the question of compensation to Mr. Henry Halloran, for land taken from him by the municipality of Ashfield, was negatived by 37 to 25. It was stated by Sir Henry Parkes that it was the intention of the Government to proceed to-day with the second reading of the Land Bill.

The following is the business paper of the Legislative Council for to-day (Wednesday):—Mr. Stewart to ask the Representative of the Government—1. Is it true that about 200 acres of Crown land, situate in Middle Harbour, have been appropriated for some years by a person named George Anderson, and that no steps have been taken to eject him? 2. If so, under what circumstances has this lawless occupation of Crown land been tolerated? Government Business—Orders of the day:—Wharfage and Tonnage Rates Act Amendment Bill, second reading; Watering Places and Reserves Bill, second reading; Mining Act Further Amendment Bill, third reading; Criminal Law Amendment Bill, to be further considered in committee. General Business—Notice of motion:—Mr. Stewart to move—1. That there be laid upon the table of this House a copy of the "Programme of Lessons" administered during the current quarter in the fifth form of each of the superior Public schools within the metropolitan district. 2. That a return be prepared and laid upon the table of this House showing the number of scholars in each of the fifth forms referred to above, and how long they generally continue to attend.

We understand that the Executive Council yesterday morning was engaged for a considerable time in the consideration of three cases tried at the recent assizes in which the sentence of death was passed. In the case of Henry Tester, sentenced to death by Judge Innes at Inverell for the murder of a little girl, it was resolved that the sentence of the law should be carried into effect. A Chinaman, named Jimmy Hing, who was sentenced to death for rape, had his sentence commuted to hard labour for life; and another Chinaman, named Ah Hing, convicted of assault with intent to murder, and sentenced to death, had his sentence commuted to 15 years' hard labour.

To-morrow being a public holiday, the following arrangements will be observed in the mail branch of the General Post Office. The various offices of the branch will be open from 9 till 10 a.m. only, and the morning delivery only will be effected by letter-carriers. The country mails usually despatched in the afternoon and evening, also the coastwise, intercolonial, and foreign mails, will close at 9 a.m. The iron pillar receivers and receivers at suburban post-offices will only be cleared at the first usual hour on that day.

We are informed that Mr. Mitchell, M.L.A. for Newtown, has been appointed a trustee for the Victoria Park in the room of the late Mr. S. C. Brown.

It was reported in town yesterday that Dr. M'Kay has been appointed president of the Medical Board of New South Wales.

We understand that instructions have been given to Mr. Charles Moore, Director of the Botanic Gardens, to open the upper part of the gardens every Sunday morning as well as every Sunday afternoon, and that both portions of the gardens will be open to the public during the whole of each day from next Sunday.

A tabulated statement is published in another column showing the amount expended during last year for furniture, repairs, and works of construction in connection with the public buildings in Sydney and suburbs. Among the principal items are:—New Lands Office, £11,260 for finishing trades, estimated to cost £30,000; purchase of sites for new Public Library, £29,509; extension of General Post Office to Pitt-street, £38,000, estimated to cost £27,000 for foundations, £24,000 for smith and founder's work, and £112,000 for erection of superstructure; Sanatorium at Little Bay, £32,680; Callan Park Lunatic Asylum, £57,986, estimated to cost £205,000; Macquarie Lighthouse, £3105, estimated to cost £15,000; Fortifications at Bare Island, Botany, £4179, estimated to cost £26,500; new wing of Gladesville Asylum, £5800, estimated cost £38,000; and Roman Catholic Orphan School, Parramatta, £3800, estimated cost £6000.

The three Maori chiefs who went from New Zealand to England with a petition for the Queen, praying for redress of grievances arising from breaches of the Treaty of Waitanga, have returned by the steamship Austral, and will leave Sydney for Auckland on Thursday by the steamer Ringarooma. The treaty which the Maoris allege has been broken, was made with the natives when the colony of New Zealand was constituted, and the natives of the Bay of Islands district, considering that it had been evaded in a number of particulars, subscribed £300 to send to England three of their number to present a petition on the subject to her Majesty. On the arrival of the three chiefs in England they waited upon the Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State for the Colonies, with the object of presenting, to the Queen, through him, the petition they had carried to England, and certain presents they desired her Majesty to receive; but as they had neglected to first submit their grievances to the Governor and the Government of New Zealand, Lord Kimberley informed them that he could express no opinion upon what they put before him, and he appears to have declined to be the means of introducing them to the Queen or to any member of the Royal family. But the Rev. Dr. Liddon presented them to the Prince and Princess of Wales, and they also saw the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, and other prominent personages in England. After their failure with Lord Kimberley the chiefs prepared a petition from themselves to the British Parliament, praying for the appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire into the grievances of their race, and this petition was presented to the House of Commons. There the matter rests; but the chiefs consider that their mission to England has not been a waste of time and labour, because it has drawn the attention of the British public to the questions which have arisen between the Maoris and the New Zealand Government, and they believe that they have prepared the way for a satisfactory settlement of the differences between their people and the New Zealand colonists.

In the Supreme Court yesterday the arguments in Brown v. Patterson were resumed and concluded. Judgment was reserved. In M'Caughey v. O'Brien a rule nisi was granted for a new trial. In Terry v. Tindale, a District Court appeal, a rule was made absolute to enter a verdict for the plaintiff, with £10 1s. 8d. damages. In Loughnan v. Beaulolanc, a case stated from the decision of justices, the Court determined that a common informer may prosecute a complaint for a breach of the Stamp Act. In Sawtell v. Regan, also a special case, a conviction of the defendant under the Vagrant Act for playing monte on the Randwick Racecourse was upheld. In Holland v. Hardie, a District Court appeal, a rule for a new trial was made absolute. In the jury court the trial of Parle v. Leistikow was resumed and concluded; verdict for the plaintiff, damages £435. In Sandeman v. Moss, the plaintiff obtained a verdict, damages, £220. His Honor the Primary Judge was engaged the whole day with general business in Equity, no less than 17 matters having been dealt with by him before he left the Bench. Among these was an important injunction motion arising out of the much-litigated dispute as to the possession of a large piece of land at North Shore, to which Messrs. Broughton, Stuart, Barayene, and others lay claim; and, in order to maintain possession thereof, have at various times resorted to force, and employed large bodies of men to hold their rights against all comers. When the suit comes on for hearing there will be some nice points in real property law for discussion. Meanwhile Stuart and others are restrained, at the instance of Broughton, from continuing an action at law for trespass.

At the District Court yesterday several cases were heard by Mr. District-Court Judge Dowling, but none of them were of importance, the sums sued for being invariably very small.

The Metropolitan Quarter Sessions were concluded yesterday. Mr. District-Court Judge Josephson was on the Bench, and Mr. Clark Irving prosecuted for the Crown. Thomas Houghton and John Thornton, convicted of burglary and larceny, each received a sentence of two years' hard labour, and Thomas Farrell, who was convicted of larceny, was sentenced to three years' hard labour in Darlinghurst gaol. This prisoner had a long list of previous convictions against him.

The sittings of the Central Criminal Court were continued yesterday. John Stevens, alias Hampton, and George Payton, alias Owen, were convicted of having committed a robbery at the house of Mr. J. W. Nixon, at Fairfield, on the night of August 3, and were both sentenced to be kept at hard labour on the roads for a period of 10 years. James Jamieson, alias Thunderbolt, and George Payton were convicted of having broken into Mr. Henry Evans' ironmonger's shop on the night of July 24, and stolen a quantity of tools. For the part Payton took in this offence he was sentenced to a further term of five years' hard labour on the roads. Jamieson, alias Thunderbolt, was remanded for sentence. James Charlesworth was acquitted of the offence with which he was charged.

What certainly bore the appearance of being a very hard case on the face of the testimony given by the person most deeply interested, was heard yesterday afternoon before the Licensing Bench in the Central Police Court. A woman had occupied a small hotel at Petersham, which, when the new Licensing Act was brought into operation, was found to be too limited in accommodation to be in compliance with the provisions of the Act in that respect. The tenant having been informed of the fact took advice as to whether it would be the better policy for her to agree to the terms of her landlady, who was willing to make the necessary additions, or to build a house of her own on a piece of land owned by her in the neighbourhood. She determined to build the new hotel. When it is necessary to make additions to an hotel, and time is required to do so, it is necessary that application should be made to the Licensing Bench for such time to be granted. The application is known as "an extension of time for building purposes," and with regard to it the tenant in this case laboured, according to her own statement, under a misapprehension, thinking that it would allow her to continue her business in the old house until the new one, which complied with all the Act required, had been built, and that then she could have a license for the new hotel. Consequently, she made no additions to the old house, and the time allowed for doing so having expired, the license for it was cancelled. She then applied for a license for her new house, which application was objected to by the landlady of the house the applicant had occupied, and also by the police. Mr. Cass, M.L.A., Mr. Gelding (Mayor of Petersham), and other gentlemen of position in the district where the new hotel had been built, at a large expenditure of money, supported the application, giving the applicant a good character, stating that her house was well built and commodious, and that they believed it would be a convenience. The Mayor also stated that the local option vote had been greatly in favour of the applicant. On the other hand, one policeman asserted that the house was not required, as there were three other public-houses within 600 yards of it, and six others within 800 yards; also, that a church and school were not far distant. The Bench refused the license on the ground of the hotel not being required for the convenience of the neighbourhood, and for other reasons which the chairman said it was not necessary to state. Of course, had the license been granted for the new house the number of public-houses in the locality would not have been increased, as the license for the old house had been cancelled. The old house, with a few additions attached, to it, would have been permitted to remain as an hotel, but an entirely new house, well-built and convenient, was refused a license.

The water police yesterday succeeded in discovering the body of the engine driver whose sudden disappearance from a lighter in Johnson's Bay, on Monday, gave rise to a suspicion that he had fallen overboard. His name was ascertained to be John Elder. The body was removed to the morgue at Circular Quay. An inquest will, in all probability, take place to-day.

In a telegram from Cootamundra which appeared on the 31st ultimo, giving an account of the trial of the libel case—Wehr v. Bailey—there occur several statements which are not borne out by the reports in the local papers, and which appear to be incorrect. There is nothing in those reports to show either that the Judge "strongly reprobated" the plaintiff's conduct, or that he said the libel was "thoroughly justified by public policy." According to the Temora Herald, the Judge said:—"That the two paragraphs declared on by the plaintiff were undoubtedly libels, and if they stood alone he would give the full damages sought, namely, £200. It appeared, however, that plaintiff indulged in abuse of the defendant and his paper—that he, in fact, was as bad as the other." The Temora Star reports his Honor's observations as follows:—"If there had been no provocation, he would, subject to a second point he would mention directly, have given heavy damages. But he found that the parties before the Court had carried on a literary duel. It is true they were differently equipped, and might be compared to a man armed with a foil, fighting with a man holding a bludgeon. Where one dressed up his phrase neatly and pointed his sarcasm, the other became vulgar; but after all it was but the reply with a waddy to a neatly-put tierce with a rapier. Lord Mansfield's ruling on this kind of case is very clear; and, where retaliation is resorted to, it always must mitigate damages. Now what is a libel? His Honor explained the legal term, and said that the writing must be both malicious and false. The libel complained of is obviously malicious; but on the other hand, is it false? We have Mr. Ager, Senior-constable Oliver, and Sub-inspector Casey to say it is true. Mr. Bennett: I beg your Honor's pardon; we have Mr. Casey's evidence to the reverse. His Honor stated that this did not matter, as the saying of the alleged libel to anybody was sufficient. Mr. Bennett for some time endeavoured to show that the cause of action lay in the words inferring that plaintiff had gone to Mr. Casey in his official capacity and stated that he would swear he saw Bailey set fire to his place. His Honor overruled the objection, and found a verdict for defendant. Costs on the higher scale and four witnesses."

We understand that an application, which was made through the Rev. R. Hugh Kelly to the board of the Sydney Permanent Freehold Land and Building Society, for a site at Kogarah Park for a Mechanics' Institute, has been acceded to, and that a meeting of the local inhabitants will be held in a short time for the election of trustees, to whom the site in question can be conveyed.

A regular system of steam communication has been commenced on Botany Bay and George's River. For some time past Emerson's Young Mat has been plying from the Government wharf at Botany to Sans Souci and Woniora. Now Mr. G. Frederick has laid on a steamer from the same wharf to the pier at Kurnell, the landing place of Captain Cook. On certain days, according to advertisement, it runs to suit arrivals by the morning and afternoon trams, and returns at convenient times. Both steamers are well patronised, and a trade has been begun which is likely to assume large dimensions.

The monthly meeting of the committee of management in connection with the Sydney Hospital took place yesterday afternoon. Amongst the business transacted was the passing of accounts for the past month, amounting to £1331 13s. 6d.

A largely-attended meeting was held at the Pitt-street Congregational School Hall last evening, to consider in what appropriate way the jubilee of the establishment of Congregationalism in Australia, which dates back to the formation of the Pitt-street Church on 2nd May, 1833, should be celebrated. It will be seen by the proceedings, as reported upon more fully in another column, that it was determined to invite the Congregational Unions of Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand, to take part in a conference to be held in the month of May next in Sydney. Various subjects for consideration by the conference were suggested. Upon the answers of the Unions to the invitation will depend further action to be taken by the Congregational Union of this colony in arranging for the jubilee.

Saturday last was quite a red-letter day with the members of the Church of England in the Lane Cove district. A public lunch and meeting was held in connection with this church, and from the large attendance from Sydney and the surrounding neighbourhood, together with the substantial assistance rendered, the promoters have good reason to feel pleased. The church stands on a commanding site, is an ornament to a place naturally beautiful, and is a manifest testimony to the zeal and energy of all connected with it. The Rev. George M'Intosh, the incumbent, is to be congratulated on the success which has attended the work so far, and which indicates a determination to carry it on to completion. At the close of the luncheon a meeting was convened in the church, and some earnest and encouraging words were listened to from the Very Rev. the Dean of Sydney, the Rev. Mr. Carruthers (Wesleyan), the rev. the incumbent, and other lay friends. The financial statement showed an expenditure of some £670, a balance in hand of £23 augmented by the day's proceedings by £36 11s. There remains, however, a debt of £225 to the church loan fund, repayable by instalments extending over some years, and a few outstanding claims which it is proposed to speedily liquidate. Thanks were accorded to the ladies and gentlemen who provided the tables, and to the excellent brass band from Pennant Hills. The gathering broke up about 6 p.m.

On Sunday last the scholars of Yasmar Sabbath-school met in St. David's Church, Ashfield, and received their rewards for lessons, good conduct, and regular attendance. At the request of Mrs. Learmonth, superintendent of the school, the Rev. G. MacInnes, B.D., assisted by Mr. John Lamb, superintendent of St. David's Sabbath-school, distributed the rewards, consisting of a large pile of handsome books. Yasmar School is the oldest Sabbath-school in Ashfield, and is maintained by the liberality and exertions of Mrs. Learmonth, of Yasmar.

Robertson's Coach Factory employes' annual picnic was held at Clontarf on Friday last, between five and six hundred people being present. Omnibuses left the factory, Pitt-street, at 9 o'clock, headed by the Balmain Coldstream Band. On arriving at Circular Quay, the Telephone was waiting to convey the excursionists to Clontarf, and on arriving there dancing, racing, &c., were indulged in with zest. In the afternoon a cricket match between the married and single men of the establishment took place, resulting in an easy victory for the latter. After spending a most enjoyable day all returned to town, arriving about 6.30. In the evening a ball was given in the showrooms of the factory, which were gaily decorated with flags and evergreens. Between 80 and 90 couples were present. Dancing was kept up till 2 a.m. to the music of Radcliffe's String Band. After three cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, the committee, treasurer, and secretary, the party broke up.

Upon the last visit of Lord Harris' team of cricketers a movement was made by the past and present members of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge resident in the colony to entertain those members of the team who had been associated with either University on the occasion of their visit. Unfortunately, the steps were taken rather late, and the engagements of the team did not permit of the arrangements being carried out. To obviate such a result in the case of the Hon. Ivo Bligh's team, to the University members of which it is desired to offer a similar hospitality, the matter has been taken early in hand, and at a meeting of Oxford and Cambridge University men, held yesterday, at Mr. C. J. Manning's chambers, it was decided to entertain the guests upon the occasion of their visit to the colony at such a date as would suit their convenience. The gentlemen present handed in a list of the University members they were acquainted with, and it was decided to communicate with them on the matter of arranging for a dinner, confined to the members of the Universities above specified. In the meantime, gentlemen desirous of joining in the movement were to be referred to Mr. C. J. Manning.

On Monday evening and last evening a special train arrived in Sydney conveying in all about from 800 to 1000 firemen from Victoria and up country. They were received by the representatives of the local Volunteer Fire Brigades. To-night the torchlight procession will be held, and to-morrow the competitions will take place at Prince Alfred Park. Full particulars will be found in another column.

Dean Russell, as administrator of the Church of England, Adelaide, addressed the Commissioner of Public Works referring to the practice in America of allowing all ministers of religion when on duty, to travel on the public railways at the lowest rate, and asking that, for the purpose of getting more frequently into contact with the people in distant places, ministers of all denominations might be allowed to travel in the railways in any class, but at the lowest rate of charge. The commissioner stated in reply that the rates had been so considerably reduced lately, that he could not comply with the request.

A resident of Paddington complains that the piece of ground situated at the rear of the Victoria Barracks, running along the Moore Park-road, is used as a general receptacle for filth and dead animals, the nuisance being so great as to suggest fears of an epidemic in the neighbourhood. He suggests that the ground should be railed in and planted with trees.

"A Traveller" desires to call the attention of the authorities to the dangerous condition of the Canterbury Bridge. There is only just sufficient width for the coaches and drays to cross, pending the completion of the new structure. He relates that as the Belmore coach, which leaves Sydney at 8 p.m. on Sunday, was crossing the bridge on Monday night, at a sharp trot, two young women and a man were standing on the narrow crossing; the former uttered a scream, the startled horses shied off, and the vehicle was dragged on to the chains, which have temporarily been placed to protect the sides of the fragile structure. Some 25 or 30 passengers scrambled from the coach, and, to their utter astonishment, they found the wheels of the coach within a few inches of the edge of the planking. The only wonder was that the coach and the passengers were not precipitated into the river below. Our correspondent urges that a man should be placed in charge of this dangerous place during the night, with instructions to see the bridge is clear of all obstacles, that horses attached to vehicles should cross at a walking pace, and that all coach passengers alight before entering upon the bridge. He adds that the coach is often overloaded.

It is stated in an American paper that George Francis Train, who lost his wits when he failed to make his fortune by providing London with tramways, has fallen, at length, into a most pitiable state. He sits all day on a bench in Broadway, New York, as harmless as a dove, surrounded with children, to whom he gives candy. He wears no hat: he is bronzed from exposure, and his hair is white; he will speak to none but children, and is expecting that all New York will turn out presently to visit him every day.

The City Coroner was yesterday engaged in holding an inquest on the body of one Francis Crocker, aged 70 years, at the Imperial Hotel, Macdonaldtown. It appeared that the deceased, who resided with his son in Union-street, Macdonaldtown, some time during the night of the 6th instant rose from his bed, and attempted to descend a flight of stairs in the dark, resulting in his falling to the bottom, and breaking his neck. A verdict of accidental death was brought in.

A fatal accident occurred at Hudson Brothers' establishment yesterday morning, the victim being an employee named Henry Beeley, aged 32 years. The unfortunate man met his death in a very peculiar manner. He was standing near a heap of cedar blocks, which were piled up one on top of the other on a circular saw bench. From some unexplained reason the blocks fell over, and one of them came into contact with the saw whilst revolving at great speed. The piece of wood was jerked with great violence against Beeley, striking him on the chest and throwing him on the ground with much force. He was at once conveyed to the hospital, and on arrival at that institution he was in a state of collapse, his breathing being very laboured and stertorous, and the pulse scarcely perceptible. After applying restorative measures he rallied slightly, but soon relapsed, and died forty minutes subsequent to his admission into the hospital. The only marks of violence on his body were some bruises in the region of the heart. A few of his ribs were broken. An inquest will be held this morning.

An elderly man named Walter Scott, residing on the Glebe Point-road, sustained a dislocation of his right leg yesterday, through the limb becoming entangled in the wheel of a buggy when in motion. He was taken to the hospital.

Rosina Hall, a married woman, aged 42 years, was taken to the hospital yesterday morning, suffering from severe burns to her legs, received through getting into too close proximity to a fire in the back yard of her premises at Balmain, which she had kindled for washing purposes.

A carter named William Sheldenhague, a resident of Camperdown, whilst leading a horse attached to a dray laden with bricks up a narrow passage in Pitt-street yesterday morning, had four of his right ribs broken through the animal falling against him. He was taken to the hospital, where he received the necessary surgical treatment.

Michael Daly, a labourer, residing at Waterloo, met with an accident yesterday which necessitated his removal to the hospital. Daly was assisting in the erection of some cottages in Upper William-street South, Woolloomooloo, and had occasion to ascend a ladder. When about 20 yards above the ground he slipped and fell. On examination it was found that he had his right arm fractured, and had also received an injury to his right leg.

Dr. Tait, it was rumoured, was about to resign his high position as Primate of Great Britain. It will be seen by this morning's cablegrams, however, that the announcement was premature. London World says:—"Dr. Tait is a primate whom it is easier to succeed than to replace; and there is no member of the Episcopal Bench who, it can reasonably be hoped, will discharge the duties of his high office with anything like his judgment, dignity, and tact. He is not a Greek play bishop like Blomfield, nor a society bishop like Wilberforce. He has been essentially a bishop of the whole English nation, and not of any section of it. He has left the impression of his personality upon every class and order of his fellow-countrymen. He has taken an active part in all movements of social reform, and has identified religion with practical charity in a way that some of his colleagues and many other prelates would do well to imitate. He has illustrated and increased the dignity of his office; he has maintained and improved its traditions. To the rancorous vituperation of the prints representative of the clerical scurrility of Great Britain, he has indeed been exposed. But the loose-tongued license of his lampooners is a tribute to the judicial impartiality which he has shown in the administration of his office. The respectable High Church party—even the non-scurrilous Ritualists, as well as the Latitudinarians and the race of rational ecclesiastics generally—have all thought well, and spoken well, of Dr. Tait. His successor, whoever he may be, will not fill the same position in the national life and mind as he has done. But on the qualities which this successor may exhibit the future of the Church of England very greatly depends. Nothing can be more certain than that the subsidence of the Liberationist agitation is largely due to the prudence and mildness of Dr. Tait's regime."

A somewhat extraordinary discussion took place in the Church Synod at Christchurch, on October 23. Mr. Parker is reported by the local press to have moved,—"That the Synod regards with interest and anxiety the recent observance of a 'Charity Sunday' in Christchurch, the alms collected on that day being handed over for distribution to the committee of the Benevolent Association." This, he said, was intended simply to test the feeling of the Synod as to the advisableness of allowing the alms given for the poor to be distributed by a secular organisation. He thought the Church should not give up her power of distributing alms amongst the poor, which had been handed down to her from time immemorial. Rev. Canon Stanford seconded the motion, expressing his entire concurrence with the remarks made by Mr. Parker. The Rev. H. C. Watson moved, as an amendment, that the word "anxiety" in Mr. Parker's resolution be expunged, and the word "sympathy" inserted. This suggestion was received with applause and laughter; and after a number of members had spoken on the question, the amendment, which had been seconded by the Dean, was carried on the voices.

We learn from the Tamworth Observer that an action of very considerable importance to Oddfellows was called on before Judge Murray, last Wednesday afternoon, in the District Court there. It was an action in which one Samuel Pyrke sued Alexander Robson, as one of the three trustees of the "Loyal Heart and Hand Lodge" of Oddfellows, Manchester Unity Friendly Society, Nundle, auxiliary branch, for the sum of £15, paid by the plaintiff to Dr. Pratt, of Tamworth (there being at the time no resident medical officer at Nundle), for the services and attendance of the latter on the wife of the plaintiff, four days after her confinement, at Bowling Alley Point, on 4th day of July, 1882. The plaint stated that the plaintiff also sued the defendant "for money paid for defendant by the plaintiff." The substantial ground of defence, so far as the case went, was that the plaintiff was not entitled to bring the action, inasmuch as the rules of the society directed the manner in which disputes should be decided. The 14th section of the Friendly Societies Act provides that—"Every dispute between any member of any society established under this Act, or any of the Acts hereby repealed, or any person claiming through or under such member, and the trustees, treasurer, or other officer, or committee of management thereof, shall be decided in manner directed by the rules of such society, and the decision so made shall be binding and conclusive on all parties without appeal." This, together with the branch laws of the Royal Heart and Hand Lodge, the district rules of the Tamworth District Branch of the Order, and the general rules of the Order, were quoted by Mr. Newman, for defendants, in support of his position. The latter part of the first clause of the branch laws of the lodge commands that—"The whole of the objects and rules of this lodge shall be carried into effect in conformity with and subject to the laws of the Tamworth District Branch of the said Order, and the General Laws of the New South Wales Independent Order of Oddfellows, Manchester Unity, Friendly Society, and the whole of the said laws of the said Order and district; and any alterations or amendments thereof, thereafter made and certified, shall be applicable to the members of this lodge in the same manner as if the said laws were inserted herein." The district rules direct that disputes shall be settled pursuant to the general rules of the Order. Clauses 158 and 169 make full provision for the settlement of disputes, and for appeals against any decision or resolution. The Judge decided that he had no jurisdiction, and the matter will therefore have to be settled by the lodge.

MELBOURNE, TUESDAY.

In the Legislative Council to-day, the debate on the second reading of the Railway Construction Bill was resumed. After a short discussion the motion for the second reading was agreed to on the understanding that the measure should be considered in committee. The bill was then committed. Mr. Anderson, who dwelt on the absence of information regarding many of the lines, moved that the committee have power to examine witnesses and call for papers. Mr. M'Bain said that the Government had no objection to the taking of evidence, and would furnish every possible facility for the fullest inquiry. The motion was agreed to, and the House went into committee on the bill. The preamble was postponed, and progress reported; leave being given to sit again next Tuesday, it being understood that information would meanwhile be laid before the House. The Railway Loan Appropriation Bill was received from the Assembly, and read a first time.

In the Legislative Assembly, in reply to Mr. Longmore, Mr. Bent said he was fully prepared to explain what had been done in regard to the purchase of the right of cutting down Kensington Hill, but having received communications from the Engineer-in-chief, some of which communications were confidential, he thought it better to defer giving fuller information until the consent of the writers of such communications had been obtained. In reply to a question, Sir Bryan O'Loghlen stated that the Government did not intend to proceed further in reference to the death of the woman M'Phail and Dr. Barker's connection with the matter, the evidence given at the inquest would not justify the Government in interfering. The debate on the second reading of the Loans Redemption Bill was resumed by Professor Pearson, who suggested that the Government should float a 2½ per cent. loan for the purpose of redeeming the debentures falling due in 1883-5. Mr. Kerferd took a similar view. The debate was continued in a similar strain during the whole evening, several members on both sides recommending the Government to modify their proposals. The second reading was eventually carried without division. Upon the House going into committee on the bill, Mr. Berry asked Sir B. O'Loghlen whether he himself was prepared to redraft the bill, or whether he would refer it to a select committee. Sir B. O'Loghlen said the Government would accept any reasonable amendment, but the bill would have to be proceeded with clause by clause. The first clause was passed. Progress was then reported.

ADELAIDE, TUESDAY.

In the Legislative Assembly to-day, the Chief Secretary stated that instructions had been given to the Chief Commissioner of Police to make inquiries touching the early closing disturbance on Saturday night, and take steps to protect property if necessary in future. It was announced that it was not intended that the colony should be represented at the Exhibition in Amsterdam; and that the Education Commission, after nearly two years' sitting, had completed evidence, the report to be ready in a few days. The Ostrich Farming Bill second reading was carried after a long discussion. In the course of which Mr. Ward denounced the attempt to encourage land speculation, as he considered the bill. The Insolvency Bill third reading passed. The Railway Refreshment-rooms Bill was introduced, pursuant to resolutions of the House, to allow spirits and beer to be sold at stations. The second reading, moved by the Chief Secretary, was rather unfavourably received. The debate was adjourned, and the House rose early. It is intended to adjourn over Thursday (Prince of Wales' Birthday), and prorogue on Friday.

The Border Railway Bill was further debated in the Legislative Council. The majority of the speakers supported the second reading, but the debate was further adjourned till next day.

EXTENSIVE BURGLARY AT THE MELBOURNE POST OFFICE.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MELBOURNE, TUESDAY.

A mysterious robbery was committed at the General Post Office, Bourke-street, between 11 last night and 4 o'clock this morning, when several bags containing registered letters from Ballarat, Geelong, and other parts of the Western district, were abstracted from the mailroom. It appears that when the night staff left the Post-office at 11 o'clock the bags were locked, as usual, in the mailroom, the key of which was handed to the watchman; but at 4 this morning, when the early staff assembled for the purpose of sorting mails and preparing for the early deliveries, it was discovered that several bags were missing. No estimate can yet be formed as to the value of the enclosures, nor is there any positive clue as to the manner in which access was gained to the mailroom by the robbers. The watchman states that he heard no noise during the night, and the mailroom was found securely locked this morning, and neither doors nor windows presented any signs of having been tampered with. It is supposed that the robbers, who must have had some knowledge of the premises, gained admission to the yard from the old Herald passage at the rear of the Post-office, by scaling the fence, and that they then opened the door of the mailroom by means of a skeleton key. Some of the mail bags had evidently been opened in the Post-office, for envelopes were found strewn about the floor. A number of waybills and envelopes were discovered in Hosie's-lane, on the opposite side of Bourke-street, and a large envelope bearing the words "£180" for stamps, was thrown in between the shutters of Messrs. Denis and Co., jewellers, the perpetrators of the robbery apparently being disappointed on finding the amount stated had been forwarded by crossed cheque. The authorities telegraphed to the various country offices with the object as ascertaining the number of letters contained in the bags. The matter was at once placed in the hands of the detective police.

LATER.

The returns received by the Post Office authorities from the post-offices from which the stolen bags were despatched, show that the registered letters on Monday night were comparatively unimportant, that no bankers' parcels were despatched, and that most of the enclosures were either drafts on banks or papers which are of no use to the thieves. There were several packets of jewellery and a few letters containing money, but the total value is estimated as within £100. One of the missing bags from the Western district, and also the South Australian mail bag, were discovered untouched in the room adjoining the oilroom.

DARING ESCAPE FROM ALBURY GAOL.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALBURY, TUESDAY.

Another daring escape from Albury Gaol occurred yesterday. Last Friday Michael Noonan, sentenced to extra imprisonment for escaping on the 15th September, was returned to prison; having previously threatened that he would again escape. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon he received rations as usual, but later in the evening, when the muster roll was called, Noonan was found missing; also a man named Hartland, convicted of larceny and sentenced to two years, of which 13 months had expired. On examining the gaol yard, it was found that the prisoners had excavated a hole through the outer wall of the gaol, fully 18 inches thick, and thus effected their escape. It is supposed the other prisoners assisted, the bricks being set in cement. It is also believed that the work had been in progress for some weeks previously. It has since transpired that the two escapees broke into the residence of August Haberecht, a farmer at Jindera, at 10 o'clock last night, and cleared out all the provisions, and some clothing. They also attempted to break into the Jindera flour mill, presumably to obtain a supply of flour. Black trackers were sent to follow up the trail this evening.

VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, TUESDAY.

At the half-yearly meeting of the National Bank of Australasia, to-day, it was announced that the total reserve now amounted to £390,000, or within £10,000 of half the amount of paid-up capital. A dividend at the rate of 12½ per cent. was declared.

Mr. Thomas Nolan, of the firm of Nolan and Jordan, solicitors, died to-day at the age of 77 years.

At the sitting of the Tariff Commission, to-day, several timber merchants and sawmill proprietors were examined. In general they expressed satisfaction with the existing tariff, but advocated an alteration of the duty on imported doors.

At the City Police Court this morning, Selimo, late agent for Mr. Sheridan, the Shakespearian actor, sued the manager of the Oriental Hotel for illegal detention of property of the value of £25. The defence was that the property was detained pending the payment of an account of £15. Selimo contended that Mr. Sheridan was liable, but it was proved that Mr. Sheridan had paid his bill, including the reasonable expenses of his agent. The Bench ordered the restitution of the goods on payment of the defendant's claim.

A youth, named Arnott, employed in Thompson's foundry, Castlemaine, was dreadfully injured this morning in consequence of his hand getting caught between the belt and drum. The poor fellow was whirled round several times before the machinery was stopped. Both thighs were broken, the left leg was broken in two places, and the left arm completely smashed.

Application was made, on behalf of the Crown, this morning, to Mr. Justice Holroyd, in Chambers, for an order requiring the manager of the English, Scottish, and Australian Chartered Bank to produce the bank ledger and other books showing the particulars of the account of Jeremiah Boland, against whom summonses have been issued for illegally conducting sweeps, the object being to facilitate the tracing of certain cheques alleged to have been paid by the detectives for tickets. The application was granted.

The new Protestant Hall will be opened on Thursday. The total number of effective members of the Orange lodges in the colony is 4000. The new hall has cost about £6000.

At the opening of the enlarged Mission Hall in Little Bourke-street, testimony was borne to the valuable evangelistic work done in that locality.

J. W. Pemberton, secretary of the Echuca Shire Council, was charged before the Rochester Police Court to-day with attempting suicide. The prisoner was in a very weak condition, owing to loss of blood and strychnine poisoning, and at the suggestion of a medical witness was allowed to go to his home. The books of the shire have not yet been examined, the auditors being unable to start to work owing to the unsatisfactory manner in which the accounts have been kept.

The Colonial Mutual Fire Insurance Company held their annual meeting to-day. A satisfactory report and balance-sheet were presented, and a dividend of 8 per cent. was declared.

Mr. R. S. Smythe's series of promonade concerts at the Town Hall closed this evening, when the hall was again crowded. The season has been very successful. One of Mr. Sheridan's elocutionary efforts was greatly appreciated.

The sale of racehorses was continued at Newmarket to-day. There was a good attendance, but bidding was dull, only two animals being sold, viz., The Czar, who ran second to Zulu for the Melbourne Cup, purchased by A. Yuille, for 127½ guineas; and Dazzle, by Tim Whiffler from Gasworks, bought by Mr. James Paterson, for 105 guineas.

It is reported that the Government do not intend to appoint a board to consider the charges against Superintendent Winch and Sub-inspector Larner, but that the Chief Secretary will himself deal with Mr. Winch, who has applied for six months' leave, and been refused. He will complete his 30 years' services at the end of this month, and be entitled to retire on £320 per annum.

Several wool ships will leave the bay during the present week.

QUEENSLAND.

BRISBANE, TUESDAY.

The Premier left for the north to-day. Messrs. Morehead and Perkins will proceed to Sydney to-morrow.

The annual courts for revising the electoral rolls are exciting unusual interest, in view of the approaching general election. A large number of objections have been lodged, principally in the interests of the Opposition. The names of the Premier and Sir Arthur Palmer were objected to at Ipswich.

It is expected that competitive designs for the new Town Hall will be shortly invited, Parliament having passed the bill empowering the sale of the present hall.

The ship Stirlingshire, for Townsville, with 421 immigrants, went on a reef off Magnetic Island, at 8 o'clock this morning. The vessel is believed to be quite safe, and will probably float off at to-night's tide. She is making no water. The immigrants were all safely landed at Townsville.

Nicholl's lease at Gympie, from 160 tons, obtained 505oz. The Day Dawn and Inglewood prospectors' mines, on the same line of reef, are held in greater estimation in consequence.

Mr. Montefiore Tooker, of Leura station, Leichhardt district, was thrown from his horse and broke his collar-bone in two places.

A small lot of stone from the North Star Reef, New Zealand Gully, near Rockhampton, sent to Sydney for assay, has been found to contain a proportion of 42oz. of gold to the ton. An additional 25 acres at Crocodile Creek had been taken up by Captain Osborne, on behalf of Southern capitalists.

The weather has been very threatening during the day, but has apparently cleared up this evening, and there is every prospect of favourable weather for the races to-morrow. A very successful meeting is anticipated. The principal races are regarded as being of a very open character.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, TUESDAY.

In reference to the disturbance which occurred in Rundle-street on Saturday night, it has transpired that Mr. Lenington, chairman of the Early-closing Association, put on a false beard, and went up and down the street ringing a bell, as a reminder to the drapers to close at 9 o'clock. The secretary tried to dissuade the chairman from this undignified proceeding, but without success. Mr. Stone offers a reward of £5 for the conviction of the person who threw a stone which broke his window and a table outside the shop whereby goods to the value of £40 were damaged or stolen.

Several small fires occurred yesterday in the city and suburbs, caused by boys letting off fireworks.

In consequence of the Peshawur not being expected till late on Thursday the match with the English Eleven will not be commenced till Friday. It will be continued and concluded on Saturday, the team leaving as early as possible afterwards.

A meeting of master builders and contractors to-day confirmed the rules providing, among other things, that the pay be 1s per day for eight hours to competent men; 48 hours to constitute a week's work; overtime to be paid—for the first two hours, nothing extra; for the next three hours, once and a quarter; and once and a half to the commencing hour next day. The rules begin to take effect on December 1.

Before the Royal Society, last night, Dr. Davies Thomas lectured on hydatids. He gave the deaths in South Australia from the disease as 31 in 10 years. Hydatids are credited with one death out of 1000, and 43 occurred during the last 10 years. He gives as the rate in Queensland one death out of 6000 in 4 years, and in Tasmania for the same time 6 deaths, namely ·871 per thousand; New Zealand, 1·85 per thousand in 4 years; and for Victoria he puts down 2·98 per thousand during 14 years from 1868 to 1881.

At a meeting of the board of governors of the South Australian Institute, a letter was read from the trustees of the Melbourne and Sydney public libraries, declining to join in the proposed reproduction of some old charts of the Australian coast, as the amount of the expense of publication includes a descriptive monograph. Messrs. Trubner and Co. are to be asked the price without the monograph. Letters were also received from the Sydney Library, stating that it had been decided not to publish the old Dutch journals of voyages in the Australian seas, as not being sufficiently interesting.

Some pictures for the National Gallery are in the wrecked steamer Gulf of Finland.

NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON, TUESDAY.

The Equitable Insurance Company have been successfully floated. Application was made for forty thousand shares in excess of the amount for distribution.

Pennell, will perform the following programme in the Botanic Gardens this afternoon from 3.15 to 4.45:—March, "Holyrood" (Gutteridge); valse, "Jeunesse Dorée" (Waldteufel); selection, "William Tell" (Rossini); quadrille, "La Mascotte" (C. Metra); valse, "Morning Mirth" (Waldteufel); selection, "Il Trovatore" (Verdi); galop du concert, "Just off" (Scholes). God Save the Queen.

People who have not as yet decided how they will amuse themselves to-morrow, the anniversary of the Prince of Wales' birthday, will be troubled by the difficulty of choosing between many contending attractions. During the day a grand demonstration will be held at Prince Alfred Park under the direction of the united volunteer fire brigades of New South Wales, in which 1000 firemen from Sydney and the country towns of New South Wales and from Victoria will compete, the demonstration being under the patronage of his Excellency the Governor. The brigades entered for the different events number 105, and the bands which will play during the afternoon and evening number six. To-night the firemen will walk in procession. At Parramatta races will be held, and at Balmain the annual regatta will take place, the R.M.S. Australia being the flagship. For the various events there are 110 entries, among the names of All Comers for the wager boats' contest being those of Trickett, Laycock, Perkins, and M'Donald. At the Sir Joseph Banks' pavilion, Botany, amusement will be provided by Mr. Johnny Cowan, the Perman Family, and a number of others, while dancing will be possible all day. At Sans Souci, Bondi, and other marine resorts, attractions are also provided for holiday-makers. At the theatres in the evening present programmes will, with one exception, be played. "La Mascotte" will be repeated at the Theatre Royal; and "The Royal Middy" at the Opera House; while at the Gaiety Theatre "The Two Orphans" will be produced.

A sacred concert was last evening given in the Newtown Wesleyan Church by the girl scholars of the Sunday-school, assisted by the church choir and other ladies and gentlemen. There was a large audience, the Rev. George Lane occupying the chair, and the following gentlemen being upon the platform:—Revs. H. Youngman, J. Bowes, and Mr. T. P. Reeve. The gallery and the platform railing were decorated with garlands of foliage and flowers. The principal portion of the programme was a service of sacred song, entitled "The Spring Morning," an allegory from "Agathos," and other Sunday stories written by the late Bishop Wilberforce, condensed, and interspersed with music by Messrs. A. and D. Hone. The Sunday-school chorus numbered about 40 girls, the boys having on this occasion been excluded. The children were conducted by Mr. E. C. Barker, and deserve not a little praise for the manner in which they sang the choral music of the service. The descriptive letter-press was read by the Rev. George Lane, and in addition to the singing of the choir and the children, Mrs. Innes sang "Almost Persuaded," Handel's "Angels ever bright and fair," and Miss Lindsay sang "Resignation." Also, Mr. W. Smith sang Handel's "Waft her angels thro' the skies," and Mendelssohn's "Be thou faithful unto death." Miss H. K. Conely was the organist, and fulfilled the heavy duty assigned to her with all success.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

NEWCASTLE, TUESDAY.

The coal trade continues brisk. This week most of the collieries are working full time.

The weather is particularly changeable, intermittent storms and sunshine, occasionally varied with thunder.

Great preparations are being made in connection with excursions for the Prince of Wales Birthday.

GLEN INNES, TUESDAY.

A thunderstorm occurred last night, and one again this afternoon, with plenty of rain, and every appearance of its continuing.

LISMORE, TUESDAY.

Ninety acres of land were selected on Thursday.

The crossing is still bad, the depth being only 5 feet to-day. Business generally is getting dull in consequence.

The weather is warm and showery.

LITHGOW, TUESDAY.

A man named Patrick Dwyer was accidentally killed to-day by a fall of clay at the Pipeworks of the Lithgow Valley Colliery Company.

The weather is fine after the rains, which have been plentiful all round here.

Great expectations are forming as to the success of the Juvenile Exhibition to be opened to-morrow by Mr. Edward Combes, C.M.G.

CANDELO, TUESDAY.

The first Court of Petty Sessions was held in Candelo yesterday. Mr. J. Davis, P.M., from Bega, attended as chairman, supported by Messrs. H. Wren, G. P. Kerrison, C. T. Stiles, and James Osborne, Js.P. Law was represented by Messrs. E. Manby and B. Lipscomb. The Chairman congratulated the district upon the establishment of the court, which from its rapid progress it was fully entitled to. Mr. Manby also spoke a few words. There was only one case for hearing, in which a warrant was ordered to issue.

The weather is splendid, and grass is rapidly growing. Business is brisk.

BATHURST, TUESDAY.

At a meeting of the parishioners, last night, in the vestry of All Saints' Cathedral, Dean Marriott in the chair, it was decided to erect a tablet in the Cathedral to the memory of the late Canon Smith.

The Hospital Committee have resolved to form a library for the use of patients. A library had been started at the old hospital building, but it was destroyed during a fire there.

BRAIDWOOD, TUESDAY.

Ten Public school pupils are now under examination for Civil Service and University examinations.

Since the promise of a railway here, land speculations have been started.

The weather is very warm. The other day lightning struck the telegraph office here.

BOURKE, TUESDAY.

The Quarter Sessions are over, and Judge Docker has left for Wilcannia. There was a smaller number of cases than usual. In summing up in the perjury case of Stritch, alias Ginger, the well-known billiard-player, versus Dave Meehan, the professional runner, the Judge expressed some strong opinions regarding the great want of amendments in the law regarding perjury, his opinion being that perjury cases should be tried on the spot, at the time such offences were committed, by any bench of magistrates, or any other court, as manifestly it was most difficult to decide justly in many cases. Stritch v. Meehan was the first case under the new Act allowing prisoner to give sworn evidence.

The weather is getting hot again. The river has been rising steadily since Friday. It has now risen about four feet, and is almost stationary, the water from Culgoa River causing it to rise probably again to the same level as before. There is no rise at Brewarrina or Walgett. There are no immediate prospects of navigation.

MURRUMBURRAH, TUESDAY.

The Murrumburrah siding, which was completed six weeks ago, has not yet been opened, although no apparent cause can be found for the delay, and no information can be obtained from the local officials. The residents of this town are seriously inconvenienced by this unaccountable and protracted delay.

THE PRESBYTERY OF SYDNEY.

The Presbytery of Sydney held an ordinary meeting at St. Andrew's Church, yesterday, when the Rev. J. Cosh presided as moderator, and there was a full attendance of ministers with a fair proportion of elders. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. Elders' missions were received and sustained as follows:—Liverpool-road, in favour of Mr. J. S. Adams, Regent-street; Mr. Duncan Johnson, Palmer-street; the Rev. Colin Stewart, Petersham, and Mr. H. L. Black, of Palmer-street. The Rev. J. Laing, of Muswellbrook, and the Rev. A. Aspinal, of Forbes, were associated as corresponding members. The Rev. J. M. Ross declined the call to Palmer-street, and the matter of licensing and ordaining Mr. J. H. Laurie was postponed until next meeting. A petition from Rocky Mouth, craving that the district be constituted a distinct charge; also a call in favour of the Rev. J. Burges..., were submitted, and it was agreed that the petition and call be received, and that the requisite steps be taken towards installing the minister. Communications were received from the St. John's committee and the Rev. P. F. Mackenzie, relative to arrears of salary. The Rev. R. Inglis was received as a minister from the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland. A petition was also received from members of St. John's committee, Paddington, praying for the moderation of a call to a minister, and stating that the congregation was prepared to guarantee £300 a year, without a manse. A long and animated discussion took place in regard to the arrears of salary alleged to be due to the Rev. P. F. Mackenzie, the late minister in the charges, and several members of the presbytery thought the congregation had not treated that minister fairly. It was moved by Alderman Dean, and seconded by Mr. W. H. Tind..., that the moderation be granted. As an amendment it was moved by the Rev. J. Auld, and seconded by the Rev. Mr. Patterson, that the moderation be granted, and the hope be expressed that the congregation would make an effort to pay Mr. Mackenzie the arrears said to be due to him. As a further amendment it was moved by the Rev. Dr. White, and seconded by the Rev. A. Gardiner, that the petition be allowed to lie on the table for a month; that the attention of the congregation be called to the arrears and to the recognised principle that a moderation of a call should not be granted until arrears due to a late minister be paid; and that a request be made for a definite reply as to the intention of the congregation before the next meeting. The Rev. J. Auld's amendment was agreed to by a small majority. A petition was received from Mr. Mackenzie complaining of an anonymous letter which had appeared in the Presbyterian, and which he said was exceedingly prejudicial to his interests. Several ministers denounced the letter as being unwarranted, cruel, and unchristian in character, and ultimately it was resolved that Mr. Mackenzie's repudiation of the charges it contained should be recorded. Some other business was transacted, and the meeting then terminated.

JUBILEE OF CONGREGATIONALISM IN AUSTRALIA.

A meeting, the business of which was of somewhat more than ordinary interest, was held last evening at the Pitt-street Congregational school hall, at which there was a very large attendance of members of the church, and others who had formerly been connected with it. The Rev. James Jefferis, LL.B., presided, and explained the object for which the meeting had been convened. It will, on the first Sunday of May next, be 50 years since the establishment of the first Congregational Church in the colonies, and it was proposed to celebrate the jubilee in some appropriate manner; and with this view certain resolutions were to be proposed. He had prepared an address with which he intended to have opened the proceedings, but a sudden recurrence of the ailment he had long suffered from prevented his delivering it. The meeting was addressed by several gentlemen who had long been connected with the Pitt-street church, their speeches giving rise to many interesting reminiscences of events which had occurred since the church's establishment, and of those who had been intimately associated with its work and prosperity, many of whom have passed away. References were also made to the spread of Congregationalism in these colonies since the church in Pitt-street was founded in May, 1833. On the motion of Mr. Joseph Thompson, seconded by Mr. R. G. Reading, the meeting resolved that the approaching jubilee should be celebrated in a suitable manner. Mr. J. B. Durham then moved, "That since the formation of the Pitt-street Congregational Church, on the 2nd May, 1833, was the first overt establishment of Congregationalism in Australia, this meeting thinks it desirable that representatives should be invited from the various colonies of Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand, to a conference to be held in the month of May, 1883." This motion was seconded by Mr. T. B. Walker, and unanimously agreed to. Mr. G. A. Lloyd moved,—and Mr. Randolph Nott seconded, the following resolution, which was also agreed to,—"That at such conference, if it be held, there be taken into consideration the present condition and prospects of Congregationalism, the possible confederation of our churches through their respective unions; the establishment of a united college and a common literary organ, the religious and secular education of the young, and any other matters that may be deemed needful in the interests of civil and religious liberty." On the motion of Mr. J. Fottie, a resolution was carried, empowering the Rev. J. Jefferis to write to the various committees of the Congregational Unions in Australia and the neighbouring colonies, asking if those unions would be willing to co-operate in the proposed jubilee and conference. If the answers be in the affirmative the Congregational Union of New South Wales is to be invited to take upon itself the responsibility and labour necessary to the successful carrying out of the arrangements. A chief object which the meeting last night had in view was to make the conference a thoroughly representative one, and that it should not confine its attention to the Pitt-street church, but to the churches of the order throughout Australia and the neighbouring colonies. Resolutions were then agreed to having special reference to the Pitt-street church, and to the desirableness of an effort being made to clear the church property of debt before the time of jubilee. A vote of thanks to the chairman, and prayer, brought the proceedings to a close.

NEW SOUTH WALES NATIONAL REGATTA.

A meeting of the committee, in connection with the New South Wales National Regatta, was held last evening at Aarons' Exchange Hotel. Mr. Knox presided, and the meeting was held for the purpose of making arrangements for holding the annual regatta. A sub-committee was elected to draw up the programme for the forthcoming regatta, and to submit the same at the next meeting, to be held in a fortnight. It is contemplated to offer a prize which shall induce the presence of Victorian yachtsmen and oarsmen to send representative yachts and crews. Everything appears to be in a fair way now to bring about a more successful meeting than usual.

A Liverpool correspondent telegraphs that a public meeting for the purpose of forming a Jockey Club will be held to-night, at the Town Hall there. Great interest is manifested in this movement, and a large attendance is expected.

FIRE BRIGADE DEMONSTRATION.

The near approach of the day on which will be held the Intercolonial Fire Brigade Demonstration, under the direction of the united volunteer fire brigades of New South Wales, was prominently brought to the minds of citizens yesterday by the number of strangers clad in uniform who made the streets of the city bright with colour. On board the harbour steamers, on the tramcars, and in all places of public resort or of amusement a group of firemen was yesterday a conspicuous object. On Monday evening, near midnight, a special train arrived at the Redfern station, conveying hither about 320 Victorian and up country firemen. The journey had not been without excitement, as on the passage the woodwork about a wheel of one of the carriages had been ignited by friction. This caused some delay, and to "make up time" some very rapid travelling was afterwards necessary; but even with it the train arrived nearly two hours behind time. A telegram had been received by Superintendent-General Kelly apprising him of the coming of the men, and to welcome them two bands—the Burwood and Victorian and the Eastern Suburbs, marched to the station, and while the principal officers of the United Brigades met the visitors the bands "played them in." The hour was so late that difficulty was experienced in getting accommodation for all who arrived, and it is said that some had even to remain without rest the whole night. Yesterday the visitors were shown the sights of the city by their comrades in Sydney, and in the evening at about 10.20 a second special train arrived with from 400 to 500 more Victorian and up-country firemen. These were also met by the Superintendent-General and the hon. secretary, Mr. Hyam Hains and officers, and all that was possible was done to secure them comfortable quarters. Lists of the accommodation to be had, and which had been arranged for, had been prepared, and on application to the secretary the men were told off to the various quarters. Many, however, went to the residence of friends, whilst others sought resting-places at their own discretion. The whole of the Victorian brigades were under the charge of Captain Crawford, of Beechworth. Among those who arrived last night were two bands of music, one well-known in Victoria, as Hallas' brass band, and the other Northcote's Volunteer Band, the former numbering about 33 and the latter about 37 performers, both accompanying the Sandhurst brigades. A number of hose reels and a few engines reached this port on Monday, in the Konoowarra, from Melbourne, and were yesterday morning landed. During to-day the members of the greater number of the up-country brigades will arrive, and this evening the great pageant of the demonstration, the torchlight procession, will be held. It is anticipated that it will be one of the finest spectacles witnessed in this city. The estimated number of firemen expected to take part in the procession is 2000. No engines will be drawn in this procession, as it is thought that possibly the horses attached to them might become frightened at the lights and fireworks, and probably cause injury to the spectators. Fireworks and coloured fires will be supplied to the firemen. The procession will take the following course:—Starting at 8 o'clock from the No. 1 Station at the Haymarket, it will turn into Gipps-street, then into George-street on towards Circular Quay, reaching the Quay the Custom House will be passed, and then proceeding along by the Water Police Court Macquarie-street will be reached; at the King-street corner it will turn down to Pitt-street, and thence will march back to the starting-point. At the Parliament Houses it is proposed to halt and play the National Anthem, to give the members a little refreshing music—a thoughtful act which, no doubt, will be highly gratifying to those gentleman, especially if they have fairly started the debate on the Land Bill. In order to, if possible, secure the entire success of the procession Superintendent-General Kelly has asked for a special contingent of horse and foot police to keep the passage clear, and has also written to the Mayor and the Transit Commission asking that whilst the procession is passing along the streets the vehicular traffic should be suspended. On to-morrow—the anniversary of the birth of the Prince of Wales—the competitions in connection with the demonstration will be carried out in Prince Alfred Park. At 9 o'clock in the morning a procession, including engines and other apparatus, will be formed at Prince Albert's Statue, and will march down King-street to George-street, thence to Devonshire-street, and on to Castlereagh-street, and will enter Prince Alfred Park at the first gate. At the Park a running ground 350 yards in length has been fenced off. A grand stand to hold 1000 people has been built, a portion being reserved for distinguished visitors. A timekeeper's box has been erected, and also a ladder platform 20 feet in height, the secretary's office being beneath it. Accommodation has also been provided for the members of the press. Superintendent Bignell, of the Woollahra Brigade, has been appointed drill instructor, and Captain Torning of the No. 1 Brigade, marshal. Lunch will be provided in the Exhibition Building for 1500 firemen, in three relays. In the evening a ball will be held in the building. For the accommodation of the public the tram authorities have promised to put on special trams; 'buses also will run to the ground. Books with the particulars of the events will be printed and sold, and on the ground provision will be made for the selling of refreshments. Mr. Robertson, the inspector of water-mains, and the city engineer have, we are informed, promised to give as good a supply of water as possible; and with this means and the incentive of the handsome prizes, valued in all at about £320, the demonstration should prove a success, and it is to be hoped will have some practical result in causing a much-needed spirit of self-improvement to be aroused in the members of our local fire brigades.

MESSRS. Hardie and Gorman wish to direct special attention to their outdoor sales of next Saturday afternoon. The Highbury Estate, situated at Croydon Railway Station, allotments and cottages to be sold on such favourable terms, viz., only 10 per cent. deposit and the balance by 36 monthly payments, interest 5 per cent. per annum. Intending purchasers should not delay in calling for a lithograph and a free railway pass. At Balmain there are 47 allotments, situate on the highest part of that favourite and thriving suburb, directly opposite Callen Park. Omnibuses will leave the rooms of the auctioneers on the day of sale.—[ADVT.]

BOROUGH COUNCILS.

MANLY.—October 5, regular meeting of council. Present—Mr. Alderman Hayes, in the chair, Messrs. Aldermen Austin, Laurence, Small, and Pitt. The minutes of the special meeting of 28th September, and the regular meeting of 21st September read and confirmed. Correspondence: Letter from Department of Works read. Letter under date 29th of September, from Messrs. Julian and Borlase, solicitors for the contractors for the Addison-road, read, and on the motion of Alderman Laurence, seconded by Alderman Small, the Council went into committee for consideration of the subject. On resuming sittings, Mr. Alderman Austin moved, and Mr. Alderman Small seconded,—"That the council adjourn to Thursday, the 19th instant, at 8 p.m." Carried. October 12.—Special meeting of council. Present—Messrs. Aldermen Austin, Hayes, Laurence, and Pitt. The meeting having been called for the election of a Mayor for the balance of the current year in the place of Mr. J. J. Lough, resigned; it was moved by Alderman Laurence,—"That Alderman Hayes be elected Mayor for the balance of the current year." The motion being seconded by Alderman Austin, was duly carried. Mr. Alderman Hayes thanked the council for the honour they had done him, and expressed a hope that he might always retain the confidence they had reposed in him, and at the end of his term of office be able to show that he had done something for the good of the municipality. Mr. Alderman Austin moved and Mr. Alderman Laurence seconded,—"That the council clerk convey the thanks of the council to Mr. J. J. Lough for the very efficient, energetic, and praiseworthy manner in which he had carried out the duties pertaining to the position of Mayor during his term of office." Carried unanimously. October 19, regular meeting of council. Present—the Mayor (Mr. C. H. Hayes), in the chair, Messrs. Aldermen Laurence, Pitt, and Small. The minutes of the regular meeting of 5th instant, and special meeting of 12th instant, were read and confirmed. Correspondence: Letter from Messrs. Julian and Borlase, complaining that they had not received a reply to their communication of 29th September, read, and the Mayor stated that the matter had received attention, and explained the circumstances connected therewith; letter from A. Russell, requesting permission to erect a balcony around a portion of the New Brighton Hotel, read and approved, provided same be carried out in accordance with the municipal bylaws. Application from Mr. J. Gorman, for asphalt to be laid in front of his premises on the Corso. Granted, on the usual conditions. Letter from Mr. P. Jenkins, re position of earth closet on the premises newly erected by him, read, and directed that he build a stone or brick wall, so as to hide said closet from outside view. Letter from Mr. S. Glasson, re water-cart, read. Letter from the Mayor of Camperdown, enclosing petition re rating of Government property in suburbs, read. A petition for the extension of a tramway to Manly was here laid upon the table, and duly signed by the Mayor and all the aldermen present. Reports from the finance committee under dates September 21 and October 5 read, and on the motion of Alderman Small, seconded by Alderman Laurence, adopted. Reports from works committees under dates September 21 and October 5 read, and on the motion of Alderman Small, seconded by Alderman Laurence, adopted. Report from bylaws committee under date September 21, recommending the adoption of a bylaw empowering the Council to compel persons to kerb and flag, or asphalt, the footpaths in front of their respective properties, the Council paying one-half the cost of asphalting, and two-thirds the cost of kerbing, read and adopted on the motion of Alderman Pitt, seconded by Alderman Laurence. Moved by Alderman Laurence,—"That the abovementioned bylaw be confirmed by this Council, and a copy thereof be forwarded in the usual way for confirmation by His Excellency the Governor." Seconded by Alderman Pitt, and carried. The Mayor here read a letter he had received from Mr. M. Russell (under whose supervision the baths at Little Manly were erected), referring to the present condition of the baths, and containing some valuable suggestions as to the best manner of repairing same. Question: By Alderman Lawrence,—"Under arrangement with the Port Jackson S. S. Company, when had the new time-table to commence?" The Mayor replied that the agreement is in the hands of the council's solicitor. Moved by Alderman Small,—"That a committee be appointed to consider and report on the present bathing accommodation of the borough. Such committee to consist of the whole council, with power to obtain professional advice." Seconded by Alderman Laurence, and carried. Moved by Alderman Laurence and seconded by Alderman Small,—"That notice be given to Higgins Brothers and their surety to proceed with their contract for the Addison-road." Carried.—C. WAGSTAFF, Council Clerk.

REDFERN.—Meeting of council held on the 20th October. Present—The Mayor (Alderman Wright, M.L.A.), with Aldermen Hume, O'Connell, Berry, Andrew, Graham, M'Lachlan, Young, Williamson, Crowe, Bogie, and Lander. Minutes of previous meeting read and confirmed. The chairman of the finance committee brought up a report recommending payment of sundry accounts amounting to £994 19s. 11d., which was adopted and payment authorised. A report from the improvement committee was adopted. Correspondence: From the secretary late municipal conference, applying for the sum of £5, proportion of expenses incurred. Resolved,—"That the account be paid." From the Secretary General Post Office, intimating that it has been decided to re-establish the post-office, in Bourke-street, on the 23rd October, under the charge of Mr. W. M. Hume. Received. From E. T. Miller, applying for permission to erect overhanging balconies to four houses in Cleveland-street. Application granted on usual conditions. From J. V. Lavers, soliciting patronage for his disinfecting powder "Chlorozine." Received. Application from William Hookham and John Russell, for permission to erect awnings in front of their respective premises in George and Elizabeth streets, were granted on the usual conditions. From the Town Clerk, Sydney, intimating that the City Council agree to the remetalling of Cleveland-street, between Regent and Castlereagh streets, at the joint cost of the two councils, but they object to expense of entirely remetalling the roadway during the present year. Received. From Charles H. Wilson, applying, on behalf of the Congregational Church, for the use of the hall from the 20th to the 25th November, for the purpose of holding a bazaar. This matter was left in the hands of the Mayor. From William M'Carthy, applying for permission to erect overhanging balconies to houses in Hugo and Louis streets. Permission granted on the usual conditions. From the Mayor, Camperdown, enclosing form of petition, praying that power be vested in suburban and other councils to levy rates on Government property, and requesting same to be signed and returned. Acceded to. Alderman Young moved,—"That Young-street, from Cleveland-street to Phillip-street, be repaired at a probable cost of £150." Seconded by Alderman O'Connell. An amendment was moved by Aldermen Graham and Andrew,—"That this matter be referred to the improvement committee." On putting the question the original motion was carried. Alderman Berry moved,—"That the gutter on the east side of Burnett-street, from James-street for a distance of 50 yards southwards be taken up and relaid with new stones where required, at a probable cost of 3s. 6d. per yard." Seconded by Alderman M'Lachlan, and carried. Alderman Williamson moved,—"That £25 be paid to the Redfern Fire Brigade, as a subsidy for the purpose of protecting life and property in the borough." Seconded by Alderman Bogie. An amendment was moved by Alderman Hume and Young,—"That the amount be reduced to £10." On putting the question, the original motion and amendment were negatived. Alderman Williamson moved,—"That a paved crossing 6 feet wide be laid in Regent-street, from the north-east to north-west corner of Redfern-street, at a probable cost of £31." Seconded by Alderman Bogie, and negatived. Alderman Lander moved,—"That Abercrombie-street, from Cleveland-street to 10½ chains southwards, be ballasted at a probable cost of £46 per chain." An amendment was moved by Aldermen Bogie and M'Lachlan,—"That the matter be referred to the works committee for report." On putting the question the original motion was carried. The Mayor stated he had been informed that a street known as Crescent-street existed on the south-east boundary of the borough. He read the proclamation and the matter was left in his hands. The council then rose.—W. N. PARKER, Council Clerk.

WATERLOO.—Meeting held on October 11. Present—The Mayor (Alderman Hogan, J.P.), with Aldermen Evans, Cole, Gray, Mulder, Smith, and Hardisky. The minutes of the preceding meeting read and confirmed. Letters: From Alderman Nelson, resigning his office of alderman, which was accepted. From the bank manager, requesting that the requisite guarantee might be signed before the overdraft was increased. Received. From Mr. James Schunel, a ratepayer, asking that the paths opposite his shops in Elizabeth-street might be asphalted, and offering to pay the increased charge, and referring to his prior application. Received, and referred to the works committee. From Messrs. Cobb and Co., of Bourke-street, complaining of its dilapidated state, and advertising to recent accidents in consequence thereof. Received, and referred to the works committee. A petition from 14 ratepayers, representing a large amount of property, was presented by Alderman Evans, praying for its repair. From Mr. Hiam Harris, secretary of the Fire Brigades Board, asking patronage for a demonstration on the Prince of Wales' Birthday. Granted. A reply from the Railway Department, in answer to an outgoing letter, to abate the dust from the tram line on the Botany-road—that all the tram lines were watered once daily. Alderman Cole brought up the finance report. Adopted, and payment of accounts, amounting to £299, authorised. Alderman Mulder, in special business, called attention to the removal of a trough at Keating's Halfway House by the tramway officials as an obstruction. He thought it an interference with the rights of the council, and that some inquiry should be had. Alderman Evans moved,—"That all rates above £10 be handed to our solicitor to collect, and for £10 and under that the defaulters be sued in the Small Debts Court, and that action be taken at once." Carried. An application from Mr. John Hodgson for asphalte opposite his houses in George-street was granted. Meeting held October 27. A letter from Mr. Buckland, sending £50 for the Free Library, united contributions of Sir Daniel Cooper, William Cooper, and himself, was directed to be acknowledged with thanks. From Mr. George Robert Whiting, calling attention to the state of Clarendon-street, and asking the council to proceed with their works. Received, and referred to the committee. From Rock Pavement Company, offering to supply metal on terms, which was received. From the Borough Council of Camperdown, asking the support of the council to a petition for a repeal of the Municipalities Act, and particularly of the 163rd section, and that the rights of suburban councils may be assimilated to those of the metropolitan corporation. Received, its further consideration to stand over for a full council. The report of the finance committee was then presented and adopted, and payment of accounts, £43 17s. 6d., authorised. Alderman Mulder adverted to the necessity of cancelling the agreement with the Mudbank Trust. Alderman Evans moved,—"That application be made to the Postmaster-General for two iron receivers—one for letters and another for newspapers—opposite the Town Hall, in Elizabeth-street." Alderman Cole objected, and thought that a post and telegraph office, with savings bank, might be established. Alderman Evans, by leave, withdrew his motion.—CHARLES HARRIS, Council Clerk. Note.—Mr. J. Kellett, Elizabeth-street, was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the retirement of Alderman Nelson.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—Times, July 13, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.—The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet, December 31, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne "is prescribed by scores of orthodox practitioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"—Medical Times, January 12, 1866.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the best and most certain remedy in coughs, colds, asthma, consumption, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c.

M. PAUL DU CHAILLU, in his interesting book, "The Land of the Midnight Sun," says:—"My object in coming to Stamsund was to visit Herr M—— (Peter Möller), a celebrated manufacturer of Cod-liver Oil, which enjoys such great and well-deserved reputation in the United States. . . . Several men were engaged in separating the good livers from the bad. All were fresh from fish caught that day. The fat and healthy livers were whitish, while the diseased ones were greenish, and the lean ones read. I was surprised to see the number of diseased and lean livers. The season for the best ones would soon be over, and it happens that the Cod arrive at Lofoten when their livers are in the finest condition. The men are very particular in selecting the choicest kinds. After they had been assorted, they were put into a large tank, washed thoroughly in warm water, and then placed over an open wire net to let the water drip away. I noticed that extreme care was taken in all stages of the preparation of the Oil. . . . The process has nothing of the repulsiveness of the method by which brown oil is usually made—namely, by letting the livers rot, skimming the oil, and afterwards boiling it."—Vol. II., p. 130.
PETER MOLLER'S COD-LIVER OIL is sold by all Chemists and Storekeepers throughout the colonies, in capsuled bottles only.

STATUTORY DECLARATION.
I, ALFRED POND, do solemnly and sincerely declare as follows:—
That for three years I suffered from a very bad leg. The wound would not heal, although I tried everything I could think of. After applying Josephson's Ointment for three weeks it healed, and is now as sound as ever, and no signs of tenderness remaining. I would never be without it in my house.
ALFRED POND.
Declared at Sydney this 10th day of August before me—SAM. DICKINSON, J.P.
Then ask for JOSEPHSON'S OINTMENT, and see that you get it.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.
The extensive patronage which has been awarded to ROW'S EMBROCATION or FARMER'S FRIEND, by the Australian public for more than twenty years, has induced other persons, both in this colony and Victoria, to offer preparations called FARMER'S FRIEND. The proprietors, therefore, in justice to themselves, and as an act of duty to the public at large, offer this timely caution. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS! Ask for ROW'S EMBROCATION, or FARMER'S FRIEND, and take no other sort.
The hundreds of written testimonials which the proprietors have received in favour of this unrivalled specific for all external disorders incidental to animals show the high estimation in which it is generally held; and the fact of persons offering spurious imitations is a strong additional proof of its sterling virtues.
Prepared only by the Sole Proprietors,
E. ROW and CO.

CUT THIS OUT—IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE.—There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds, or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 3s 6d for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderous cures astonish every one that tries it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your druggist, and get a sample bottle for 6d, and try it, or a regular size for 3s 6d. All chemists. Wholesale by ELLIOTT BROTHERS, Sydney and Brisbane.

GRAND SUBDIVISION BLOCK.

ILLAWARRA RAILWAY.

THE FLORIDA ESTATE,

SITUATED WITHIN TWO MINUTES' WALK of the HURSTVILLE RAILWAY STATION.

CONTAINING 67 ACRES OF GOOD AGRICULTURAL LAND,

PERMANENTLY WATERED BY TWO CREEKS.

MILLS, PILE, and GILCHRIST have received instructions to sell by public auction, on TUESDAY, 14th November, at 11 30 o'clock, in their Land Salerooms, 114, Pitt-street,

THE ABOVE ESTATE OF 67 ACRES of AGRICULTURAL LAND, situated within 8½ miles of the city, and within two minutes' walk of the HURSTVILLE RAILWAY STATION, on the ILLAWARRA RAILWAY LINE.

THE AUCTIONEERS would call particular attention to this sale, as the estate comprises 67 acres of good agricultural land, permanently watered by two creeks, and is situated at HURSTVILLE, about two minutes' walk from the HURSTVILLE RAILWAY STATION, on the ILLAWARRA RAILWAY, distant about 8½ miles from Sydney.

THIS PROPERTY is eminently adapted for subdivision, as it is situated on the crest of a GENTLY-SLOPING RANGE, presenting little or no inequality of surface. At the extreme end of the land is a small bluff of EXCELLENT FREESTONE, admirably adapted for quarrying purposes.

The VIEWS from this land will, when the intervening timber is cut down, eclipse anything in the way of scenery in the district, as they will comprise BOTANY HEADS, with the ocean, and nearly all of BOTANY BAY, together with the suburbs of SYDNEY, PETERSHAM, ASHFIELD, &c.

SPECULATORS need hardly be reminded that the HURSTVILLE RAILWAY STATION must be the premier station between Sydney and GEORGE'S RIVER, and in a very short time will be a second BURWOOD, as the climate is so salubrious and the traffic must be in the passenger line equally as extensive. The chance is now given of securing this most desirable property, which must eventually form part of the township, and which, it must be remembered, is barely two minutes' walk from the station—at a low rate.

INTENDING PURCHASERS are reminded that the construction of this line has already commenced with upwards of one hundred men being employed now excavating in and around the station; and also all along the line from SYDNEY to GEORGE'S RIVER, other gangs are employed. They must also recollect that this line will be a DOUBLE LINE ONLY to HURSTVILLE which, of course, will be the suburban station, as PARRAMATTA is now on the Western line, with the difference that PARRAMATTA is 15 miles and HURSTVILLE only 8½ miles from SYDNEY.

Liberal Terms. Long Credits. No Interest.
TORRENS' TITLE.

REASONS why you should Purchase:
It has three-quarters of a mile frontage to the railway, close to Guildford Station.
A main road from the railway crossing to the Woodville [Dogtrap] road, one and a quarter mile long, through the centre of the Estate.
The Estate is surrounded by handsome residences, highly-cultivated orchards, and rich lands.
On the Estate there is a post-office, a store, and handsome Public school.
On the centre of the property is a large church reserve, cleared, and fenced in.
The new water scheme runs close to the Estate.

TUESDAY, 14th NOVEMBER.

BURWOOD.

KILMURRAY, SPLENDID CORNER BLOCK OF LAND, CLOSE TO THE STATION, with BRICK VILLA RESIDENCE and IMPROVED GROUNDS.

193 FEET TO WILLIAM-STREET.
231 FEET TO CHELTENHAM-ROAD.

A GRAND CORNER for EITHER RESIDENCE, INVESTMENT, or SUBDIVISION SPECULATION.

MILLS, PILE, and GILCHRIST have been instructed by Mr. M'MILLAN to sell by auction, at the LAND SALE ROOMS, 114, Pitt-street, on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, at 11.30 prompt, KILMURRAY, BURWOOD.

This FINE BLOCK OF LAND and Cottage of 7 rooms, kitchen, store, and laundry offers a good opportunity for anyone seeking to secure a LARGE CORNER, and close to the BURWOOD STATION, on the south side of the railway line.

The POSITION of the house is such that anyone wishing can sell off two-thirds of the land without fronting the residence.

CARDS TO VIEW CAN BE OBTAINED FROM THE AUCTIONEERS.

NEARLY THE WHOLE of the LAND is TORRENS' TITLE.

TERMS—TWO-THIRDS CAN REMAIN AT 6 PER CENT.

TUESDAY, 14th NOVEMBER.

By Order of the Mortgagee.

KINGSGROVE.

ABSOLUTE SALE of BLOCK OF 9 ACRES, ALL FENCED, with WEATHERBOARD COTTAGE containing FOUR ROOMS AND OUTBUILDINGS, fronting KINGSGROVE-ROAD, a short distance above UNDERCLIFF BRIDGE, COOK'S RIVER, KNOWN AS JOHNSON'S, ADJACENT TO MR. SCAILES' AND MR. KING'S PROPERTIES.

MILLS, PILE, and GILCHRIST have received instructions to sell by auction, at the Land Sale Rooms, 114, PITT-STREET, on TUESDAY, 14th November, at 11.30 prompt,
A CHOICE BLOCK of 9 ACRES, fronting ILLAWARRA-ROAD, about 3 miles beyond UNDERCLIFF BRIDGE, COOK'S RIVER, all fenced and partly cleared. Upon the land is a weatherboard cottage, containing 4 rooms, and outbuilding almost 60 feet long by 16 feet wide.

Six acres of this land is first quality garden ground, and can be irrigated from the creek alongside, which has never been known to go dry. A windmill pump, which costs £15, with other piping at a few more pounds, would throw the water to the highest part of the land; the surplus water would fall back to the creek, and could be used over and over again, thereby making sure of a supply for the longest drought. This would make the 6 acres yield a rental of £20 per acre.
Terms at sale.
H. C. Colyer, Esq., solicitor for the mortgagee.

MILLS, PILE, and GILCHRIST have been favoured with instructions from the TRUSTEES of the LAWSON ESTATE to sell by public auction, on the GROUND, on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18th, at half-past 3 sharp,
The ABOVE FIRST-CLASS subdivision of BUILDING BLOCKS, in the choice SUBURB of WAVERLEY, on EASY TERMS, which will shortly be made public.

The AUCTIONEERS in inviting attention to this sale would draw special attention that this is not a speculation sale but a trustee's sale. The sale of a property which has long been held up, and is now being in due and proper course placed in the market in allotments, so that the good thing should not fall to the lot of a speculator, but should be divided among the members of that important body—

THE PUBLIC.

DRUMMOYNE PARK

PARRAMATTA RIVER.

Within 25 minutes by steamer from King-street—the second wharf at which the Parramatta River steamboats call.

Within 25 minutes' drive by road from the General Post Office.

Situate BETWEEN the TWO BRIDGES, viz., That between Balmain and Fivedock, and that between Fivedock and Gladesville.

Drummoyne Park is on the direct and only Rail or Tram Route from the city to Ryde.

The DARLING POINT of the WESTERN MARINE SUBURBS,

DRUMMOYNE PARK.

For AUCTION on the ESTATE, NEXT SATURDAY, 11th NOVEMBER, at 3 p.m., by WATKIN and WATKIN.

Situate on the highest portion of the peninsula formed by the waters of Iron Cove and Five Dock Bay, the views for variety and extent are not to be excelled from any portion of our far-famed harbour. Looking northerly across the river is the marine suburb of Hunter's Hill, with its villas peeping through the trees, and their improved grounds stretching down to the water, having for a background the high lands of Ryde, the Field of Mars, and district of Gordon; southerly, across the waters of Iron Cove, can be seen Balmain, Leichhardt, and Petersham; easterly, the long reach of water embracing the entrance to Lane Cove River, north-western Balmain, North Shore Heights, and the Island of Biloela, with the Marquarie Lighthouse, Vaucluse, &c., in the distance; westward, Five Dock Bay meets the view, across and beyond which is the wooded country round Five Dock and Concord; whilst adjoining the estate are the beautiful grounds attached to Drummoyne Mansion, the residence of J. Wright, Esq., altogether making a picture which can only be equalled in our own unequalled Port Jackson.

The streets in Drummoyne are not merely laid out and marked on a plan, as is too often the case, but the proprietor has at great expense, as must be apparent to the most casual observer, constructed good accessible roads throughout the estate. He has also,

AT AN EXPENDITURE EXCEEDING £500, erected on the most suitable portion of the water frontage AN EXCELLENT PIER, at which the PARRAMATTA RIVER STEAMERS CALL.

One of the features of Drummoyne Park is the LARGE AMOUNT OF WATER FRONTAGE, OVER 2700 FEET.

And here it may be remarked that there is no doubt as to these being waterfrontages, the rescission of the reservation was obtained by the original proprietor many years ago.

We need hardly allude to the fact that whilst it is easy to create road frontages,

VENDORS CANNOT CREATE WATER FRONTAGES.

Extensive as are the water frontages to our harbour they are limited.

CHEAP BUILDING MATERIAL.

Few water-side estates can be so cheaply built upon as Drummoyne. Excellent Building Stone exists on the estate. Brick can be obtained within short haulage from Fivedock, and other building material landed on the wharf from the city at a much cheaper rate than to most of the suburbs.

Although so near in a direct line from the city, certainly not much more than 3 miles (if that from western boundary), yet the stretch of water known as Iron Cove (now spanned by one of the finest bridges in the country) hitherto necessitated a land journey of at least 10 miles.

The COMPLETION OF IRON COVE BRIDGE, which, by the way, it may be mentioned is free from toll, will open up a new marine suburb, and of all the estates in this neighbourhood

DRUMMOYNE PARK is admitted to be the best.

Here a SELECT SUBURB WILL BE CREATED, buyers can with the greatest confidence erect elegant buildings without the fear of having them deteriorated by being surrounded by inferior dwellings.

The subdivision by Mr. Binsted is so planned that each allotment gives ample room for house and out-offices, with access from a properly made street.

TO THE LOVERS OF AQUATICS,

DRUMMOYNE PARK must be the beau ideal of what a Marine Suburb should be. In addition to the facilities for aquatic enjoyment, lovely drives to Gladesville, Ryde, Hunter's Hills, Pennant Hills, in one direction; to Fivedock, Ashfield, Croydon, or Burwood in the other, are within easy compass.

THE ACCESS TO THE CITY.

No other marine suburb possesses such facilities either by river or road.
The Parramatta River Steamers call at Drummoyne Pier, which is in about the centre of the estate.
The TRAMWAY to Ryde will pass along the south-western frontage.
A pleasant drive of 25 minutes brings you to the city, Croydon or Ashfield Railway Stations.

The ESTATE has been so subdivided by Mr. BINSTED that purchasers can secure any area they please, either in width or depth, an advantage not always offered.

DRUMMOYNE PARK, PARRAMATTA RIVER.

Plans on application.
Title, under Torrens' Act.
Terms—10 per cent. deposit, balance by quarterly payments of 10 per cent., with 6 per cent. interest.

Solicitors to the Estate—Messrs. HERON and SMITH, Hunter-street.

During this week the Parramatta steamers will (if requested) call at Drummoyne Pier every trip other than the 1 p.m. and 4.15 p.m.

Lithos. and descriptive pamphlets posted to any part of New South Wales on application.

Plans may be obtained at Mr. Reed's Boatshed, Fig-tree Point, Balmain; from Mr. Kearney, on the Estate; or the Auctioneers, 281, Pitt-street.

NEWTOWN.

WILSON AND HILL STREETS.

VALUABLE BUSINESS AND BUILDING SITES, WITHIN A FEW YARDS OF THE MACDONALDTOWN STATION, WITHIN A SHORT DISTANCE OF NEWTOWN ROAD.

ELEVATED POSITIONS. GOOD NEIGHBOURHOOD.

CITY WATER LAID IN STREET.

TORRENS' TITLE. EASY TERMS.

WATKIN and WATKIN are instructed to sell, on the GROUND, NEXT SATURDAY, November 11, at 3 p.m.,
Those 12 allotments, as per plan, including that valuable business corner which has a frontage to Wilson-street of 19 feet, to Hill-street (the direct road to M'Donaldtown station) of 150 feet, and to a 20-feet wide lane at rear.
Lots 2-8 have each 18 feet 4 inches frontage to Wilson-street, by the good depth of 100 feet to the 20-feet wide lane at rear.
Lot 9 has 18 feet 8 inches, and Lots 10 to 12 20 feet frontage to Hill-street, by the excellent depth of 121 feet to a 20-feet wide lane.

No other property possessing such convenient, speedy, and economical means of access to the city as this is now in the market, having the M'Donaldtown station at its foot, so to speak, and the Newtown road, with the tram route at its head, this uniquely-positioned property must, year by year, become more valuable. Wilson-street must become a business street. The tramway will divert to it a considerable portion of the wheel traffic from the Newtown-road; and when the roads are made through Golden Grove Estate this route to the city from the Newtown bridge, viz., via Wilson-street, will be the nearest, and therefore the most frequented.

The properties erected, and now being erected, in the immediate neighbourhood of these allotments are all of a good class, an important item to parties desirous of purchasing building sites for private residences.

The title is under Torrens' Act.
Terms: 10 per cent. deposit; balance at 6, 12, and 18 months, with interest 6 per cent., with right to pay off at any time, interest being charged only to date of payment.

PLAN now on view at the Auctioneers, showing the relative position of the allotments to the RAILWAY and TRAM LINES.

NEXT SATURDAY.

PARK HILL.

PARK HILL.

The Centre of Granville.

The Centre of Granville.

WATKIN and WATKIN will offer the above estate on SATURDAY, 18th November, NEXT SATURDAY WEEK.

This is what the local paper, the Cumberland Mercury, says:—"THE PARK HILL ESTATE, GRANVILLE.
"Some time back we noticed in our columns the great improvements being made on this estate. Now that they are complete we cannot but say that this spot, situated as it is at the most elevated and central part of Granville, has been beautified and rendered charming beyond our expectation. It has a large frontage to the Woodville-road and High-street; the cross streets intersecting the estate being all 66 feet wide. The whole has been so subdivided as to afford the most complete arrangements for sanitary purposes. The land rises to the east from the Woodville-road, and the view from the summit is most extensive, Ryde, Pennant Hills, and the North Shore being clearly visible, spread out like a panorama, and all the surrounding district also being plainly in view. The land has been grubbed and thoroughly cleared, and made ready for the planting of useful and ornamental trees and shrubs. During the progress of these improvements large numbers of persons have visited the site, and all agree that it is the pick of Granville. We hear that it is the intention of the proprietor to offer this estate for sale, and it will not surprise us to learn that the whole subdivision is likely to be readily disposed of."

We merely add at present that the title is under Torrens' Act; that the terms are 10 per cent. deposit, balance at option of buyer by quarterly or monthly payments, extending over 3 years. Liberal discount for cash.
Plans on application.

A NOVELTY IN LAND SALES.

PENRITH PARK, NEXT WEDNESDAY, on the Estate.

Saturday, the 28th October, the day fixed for the sale of PENRITH PARK, was a very wet day.

As, however, numbers of persons proceeded by special train, the sale was held in the Temperance Hall, Penrith, and to keep faith with those who attended every lot put up was sold. Since then numerous applications to purchase privately have been received, but the vendors decided not to sell privately, hence A CONTINUATION SALE will be held on the Estate on WEDNESDAY next.

Special train leaves Sydney at 1.35 p.m., calling at Newtown, Petersham, and Ashfield, going and returning.
Tickets on application.

PENRITH PARK, East Penrith.

NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Immediately adjoining the Eastern Boundary of the Municipality of Penrith.

WATKIN and WATKIN will sell the above, on the Estate, on WEDNESDAY NEXT, at 3 p.m.

PENRITH PARK.

The leading features of this estate are the large amount of RAILWAY FRONTAGE and Government Road Frontages, its Contiguity to the Growing Railway Town of PENRITH.

It may not be known to our general public that at Penrith station there are almost as many lines of rails laid down as in the Sydney yard. These are required to accommodate the ever increasing railway traffic to and from the interior. At Penrith the load brought from the city has to be divided to ascend the Zig Zag, and the various trains brought down the Zig Zag are here united to be conveyed to the city. All this necessitates a large staff of Railway Employees, and makes Penrith second only to Sydney in railway importance.

Situate within an easy walk of Penrith Station, but on higher land, and beyond the reach of any flood,
PENRITH PARK is in these respects superior to PENRITH.

As at Granville, so everywhere along the railway lines within the distance that Penrith Park is from the metropolis.
Industries of various kinds will be domiciled, and indeed it will pay some manufacturers better to locate at places such as PENRITH PARK, where the land can be bought so cheaply, than at Granville and its neighbourhood, where prices are comparatively high.

EXCELLENT BRICK EARTH EXISTS on PENRITH PARK.

All the bricks to build the villas and mansions for the aristocracy who are erecting their summer retreats on the Blue Mountains will have to be made on the Sydney side of the Hawkesbury.

To the manufacturer
To the railway employees
To the speculator
To those who are willing to put a small portion of their savings into land which must increase in value.

PENRITH PARK is the PLACE.

Special Train leaves Redfern at 1.35 p.m.

Free Tickets on application.
The title is under Torrens' Act.
Terms unusually liberal, and within the reach of all.
£3 per lot deposit, balance by eight equal quarterly payments, with 6 per cent. on the quarterly balance, or 4 years' terms may be had.
Five per cent. discount if cash paid within seven days; 2½ per cent. discount, if cash paid within 28 days; no interest charged if paid within first quarter.

THE MOST CENTRAL CORNER SITE IN SYDNEY.
These RENOWNED and OLD-ESTABLISHED PREMISES at the
CORNER OF PITT and KING STREETS
(the prime business corner in town), known throughout the world as
PUNCH'S HOTEL
PUNCH'S HOTEL.
Substantially built of brick on stone foundations and basements, with a pleasing front, and capable of adaptation to mercantile purposes.
Close to the ARCADE, the GENERAL POST OFFICE, Hoffnung's new premises, the Evening News Office, the LAW COURTS, and other notable centres of business, it enjoys an unrivalled position, as the foot traffic of the centre of the city converges at this corner.
It commands the traffic of Pitt-street, King-street, portion of George and other streets at right angles to King-street.
The OPPOSITE CORNER has been purchased by the AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL FIRE SOCIETY, who have already plans prepared for a
SINGULARLY NOBLE EDIFICE
which will be erected in due course.
Improvements are going on all around. New shops, warehouse, office premises, and mercantile warerooms—the demand for such in the city centre being far in excess of the supply.
PUNCH'S HOTEL
stands on a BLOCK OF LAND having the following measurements:—
51 FEET FRONTAGE to PITT-STREET
42 FEET 2 INCHES to KING-STREET, with a Depth of 64 Feet on the North Side.
The ACCOMMODATION INCLUDES—
1. BASEMENT FLOOR
Four Large and Dry Cellars.
2. GROUND FLOOR.
Two Large and Handsomely-fitted Bars, having 5 entrances, two dining-rooms, compact kitchen with large Cooking Range, &c.
3. FIRST FLOOR.
Large meeting room, two billiard rooms, lavatory, bedroom, and storeroom; also patent W.C.
4. SECOND FLOOR.
Six good bedrooms, bathroom, linen closet, with landing on to the roof, which is fitted up for drying clothes.
The whole of the premises are well drained to the main sewer.

IN THE ESTATE OF THE LATE JAMES CURTIS, ESQ.
CITY PROPERTIES.
LOT 1.—HUNTER-STREET, SOUTH SIDE.—The RESIDENCE and WORKSHOP for many years occupied by the late Mr. James Curtis. The Land has a frontage of 52 feet to HUNTER-STREET.
LOT 2.—HUNTER-STREET, NORTH SIDE.—BLOCK of LAND, having a frontage of 31 feet, by a great depth.
PRELIMINARY INTIMATION.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions from the Executors in the Estate of the late James Curtis, Esq., to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, Bell's-chambers, Pitt-street,
ON AN EARLY DATE,
The ABOVE-DESCRIBED VALUABLE BLOCKS OF CITY LAND.
SOLICITORS TO THE ESTATE.—Messrs. Robberds and Son, Castlereagh-street.
PLAN in course of preparation by Messrs. REUSS and HALLORAN.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29,
at 11.30 o'clock.
CITY OF SYDNEY.
Messrs.
HOFFNUNG AND CO.'S WAREHOUSE,
No. 117, PITT-STREET.
FOR ABSOLUTE SALE.
HIGHLY IMPORTANT and VALUABLE
FREEHOLD PROPERTY
IN THE VERY HEART OF THE CITY, adjoining
Messrs. DALTON BROTHERS' MAGNIFICENT PILE OF BUILDINGS, and immediately opposite to
VICKERY'S BUILDINGS.
The most unique and architecturally perfect stone buildings in Sydney.

The PROPERTY possesses a frontage of 61 feet 8 inches to PITT-STREET, by depths of 141 feet 3 inches and 155 feet 1 inches on the north and south sides respectively, and certainly occupies one of the BEST CENTRAL BUSINESS POSITIONS in the CITY.

The PREMISES were erected in 1870, in a MOST SUBSTANTIAL and EXPENSIVE MANNER throughout, with MASSIVE STONE FRONT and exceptionally handsome elevation, and consist of FIVE FLOORS including BASEMENT, divided into WAREROOMS and SUITES of CAPITAL OFFICES, with fire and thief-proof STRONG ROOMS necessary for the proper conduct of a LARGE MERCANTILE BUSINESS.

LITHOGRAPHIC PLANS, showing the FRONT ELEVATION and also the RELATIVE POSITION of the BUILDING to other Properties in PITT-STREET, GEORGE-STREET, KING-STREET, and HUNTER-STREET, can be obtained at the Rooms.
On inspection of these plans it will be at once conceded that Messrs. HOFFNUNG'S WAREHOUSE occupies a TRUE MERCANTILE CENTRE, obtainable in no part of Sydney, except between HUNTER and KING STREETS.

The most prominent Business Premises close by are those of the UNION BANK, ORIENTAL BANK, CITY BANK, E., S., and A. C. BANK, BANK of N. S. WALES, COMMERCIAL BANKING CO. of SYDNEY, MERCANTILE BANK, the GENERAL POST OFFICE, PUNCH'S HOTEL, VICKERY'S BUILDING, SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, COMMERCIAL UNION INSURANCE CO., UNITED INSURANCE CO., AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY, MUTUAL LIFE ASSOCIATION, Messrs. DAVID JONES, and CO., THOMPSON and GILES, PRINCE, OGG, and CO., and others. These and others too numerous to mention, show a great concentration of business in this particular spot.

CAPITALISTS, MERCANTILE FIRMS, INVESTORS, DIRECTORS of PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS, and others are invited to inspect the PLANS, and also the PREMISES.

The AUCTIONEERS are instructed to intimate that Messrs. S. HOFFNUNG and CO. are determined that the premises SHALL BE SOLD on 29th NOVEMBER, the FIRM NOT REQUIRING THEM after completion of their NEW WAREHOUSE, which will be in about 12 MONTHS' TIME—they will keep possession until then, and pay a rental equivalent to £3000 per annum.

The TITLE is under TORRENS' ACT, and the PROPERTY is UNENCUMBERED.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions from Messrs. S. HOFFNUNG and CO. to sell by PUBLIC AUCTION, at their PROPERTY SALE ROOMS, Pitt-street, SYDNEY, at 11.30 o'clock,
WEDNESDAY, 29th NOVEMBER.
Their MAGNIFICENT RANGE OF WAREHOUSE PREMISES, consisting of TWO BUILDINGS—the one fronting PITT-STREET, and the other the STORE at rear, well known as one of the FINEST and most IMPOSING BUILDINGS in all the COLONIES, possessing the advantages of HANDSOME STONE FRONT, a NOBLE ENTRANCE, LOFTY, and WELL-LIGHTED FLOORS, IMMENSE STRENGTH in CONSTRUCTION, and at the same time being almost NEW, the same having been constructed SPECIALLY for the FIRM in 1870.

Messrs. S. HOFFNUNG and CO. are disposing of their present premises SOLELY IN CONSEQUENCE of their BUSINESS HAVING INCREASED so ENORMOUSLY during the PAST DECADE, that the space, although very large, and the accommodation immense, is ALTOGETHER INADEQUATE for the MAGNITUDE of their BUSINESS, and it is well known that they are NOW ERECTING next the GENERAL POST OFFICE, in PITT-STREET, a MAMMOTH PILE of BUILDINGS, of PRINCELY GRANDEUR, which will be far and away the LARGEST MERCANTILE PREMISES south of the line, and which will have a FLOOR SPACE of 5½ ACRES, and be higher than the GENERAL POST OFFICE.

Being so ADMIRABLY ARRANGED and STRONGLY CONSTRUCTED, the BUILDING can easily be adapted for use as
BANKING or INSURANCE PREMISES
OFFICES and SOLICITORS' CHAMBERS
WOOL STORES and SALE ROOM, or it can be utilized as at present for a LARGE MERCANTILE WAREHOUSE.

PLANS showing the above suggested alterations, and also the FRONT ELEVATION as at present, and with TWO ADDITIONAL STORES (making the building higher than Dalton's), can be seen at the AUCTION ROOMS.

DAY OF SALE,
WEDNESDAY, 29th NOVEMBER.
LITHOGRAPHIC PLANS ready.

WENTWORTH FALLS.
A FIRST-CLASS COTTAGE RESIDENCE at WENTWORTH FALLS, on G.W. R., within 3 minutes' walk of the platform, and 1 mile from the WEATHERBOARD WATERFALLS, together with 17½ ACRES of LAND.
For Auction Sale at our Rooms,
WEDNESDAY, 6th DECEMBER.
HARDIE and GORMAN.

BURWOOD NORTH.
MAGNIFICENT ORANGERY with RESIDENCE, known as
BEACONSFIELD.
And also,
VALUABLE BLOCKS FREEHOLD LAND,
more particularly described hereunder, and which are in the market in consequence of the decision of the resident proprietor to retire to England.

LOT 1.
BEACONSFIELD ORANGERY with RESIDENCE.
Comprising an area of 5½ ACRES, opposite the recreation reserve, at the junction of BROUGHTON-STREET and CRANE STREET, distant about 20 minutes' walk from Burwood Railway Station, and not half that distance from the Parramatta-road.
The ORANGERY, which includes some 800 trees, in FULL BEARING, is a PERFECT GEM, is highly remunerative, and will challenge comparison with any other in the colony. The ground is all thoroughly trenched and drained, carefully laid out, and planted and surrounded by a grand hedge of English hawthorn.
No expense has been spared by the proprietor in his determination to make BEACONSFIELD, small though it be, the PREMIER ORANGERY of New South Wales.
The residence is tastily arranged, complete in all its details, and in first-class order throughout.
Inspection is invited.

LOT 2.
5-ACRE ORANGERY BLOCK, close to Lot 1, and fronting BROUGHTON-STREET. There is a 4-roomed cottage on the Block, and about 3 ACRES are already planted out and fenced with paling fence.
A SPLENDID BLOCK for a RESIDENCE or for a profitable ORANGERY, or the land will sell well in subdivision.
Inspection is invited.

LOT 3.
5-ACRE BLOCK, fenced in and cleared adjoining Lot 2. This is a really capital site, very clear, and gently sloping to the creek at back of the land; well suited for ORANGERY, RESIDENTIAL, or SALE purposes.

LOT 4.
5½-ACRE BLOCK, opposite to Lot 2, and fronting BROUGHTON-STREET, GLADSTONE-STREET, and another street.
This is a capital Block for subdivision.
Inspection is invited.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions from CHARLES ELOUIS, Esq. (on account of his early departure for England) to sell by PUBLIC AUCTION, at their SALE ROOMS, in PITT-STREET, at 11.30 o'clock,
WEDNESDAY, 6th DECEMBER,
BEACONSFIELD ORCHARD and RESIDENCE, and also TWO well-positioned BLOCKS of LAND, close by, as described above.

The AUCTIONEERS invite inspection of all THREE PROPERTIES as an INVESTMENT or for a RESIDENCE. The ORCHARD is a STERLING PROPERTY, and the other TWO BLOCKS are admirably positioned for dealing with either in BLOCKS or in subdivision.
The SOIL is RICH and DEEP, and its productive capabilities are evidenced in the luxuriant growth and healthy conditions of the TREES.

The sale is absolute and determined, in consequence of Mr. Elouis' return to England, so buyers had better inspect without delay, as there is money in every lot.

 Beaconsfield is within 20 minutes' walk of Burwood station, the other side of Parramatta-road. Cabs or waggonettes can always be hired on the stand at Burwood station.

Plan of the whole of these properties has been prepared by Messrs. REUSS and HALLORAN, and can be seen at the ROOMS.

LARGE MOUNTAIN BLOCKS.
IMMENSE RAILWAY FRONTAGES.
BLAXLAND (Wascoe's) and KARABAR STATIONS
390 ACRES,
adjoining the property of William Deane, Esq., to be sold as under.

LOT 1.
50 ACRES, close to KARABAR PLATFORM and SIDING, with extensive railway frontage, and adjoining the properties of Messrs. W. H. Pinhey, Edward Reading, and William Deane.
Plan at the Rooms.

LOT 2.
339 ACRES 3 ROODS, extending from KARABAR STATION almost to BLAXLAND (Wascoe's), on the opposite side of the line to Lot 1, with IMMENSE RAILWAY FRONTAGE, and surrounded by the properties of William Deane, Esq.
Plan at the Rooms.

To Building and Land Societies, Land Speculators, Mountain Residents, Capitalists, and Investors.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions to sell by public auction, at their SALE ROOMS, PITT-STREET, at 11.30, on
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6th,
50 ACRES and 340 ACRES of MOUNTAIN LAND, with enormous frontage to the Railway, between the Railway Stations at KARABAR and BLAXLAND (Wascoe).

NOTE.—The present DRY SEASON is all in favour of BUYERS. Get the blocks CHEAP NOW, and re-sell in subdivision NEXT SEASON.
A large trade in timber is carried on from KARABAR. There is a SIDING for 10 trucks, and large quantities are sent almost daily to Sydney.

Auction Sales.

REDMYRE,
close to station.

Two newly-erected, neatly-designed Dwelling-houses, MORWICK-STREET, overlooking the spacious RECREATION GROUNDS of a private company.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th November, at 11 o'clock,
Those lots, Nos. 36 and 37 of section 2 of Lyons' subdivision, having a frontage of 100 feet to Morwick-street, by a depth of 150 feet, on which are erected, of brick and slate roof, two 2-story dwelling-houses, containing each, porch, hall, 6 rooms, bathroom, kitchen, servant's room; washhouse, wood and coal sheds, ample yards, and water supply. Gas is laid on throughout the houses.

The position of these comfortable dwellings is very convenient to Redmyre platform, facing a wide street, and opposite the attractive private recreation grounds, which are kept simply perfect, and ensure a cheerful permanent view to this property; as the company has also secured an opposite large block of land to prevent obstruction.

INSPECTION INVITED.

Terms at sale.

BURWOOD.

CHELTENHAM-ROAD,
south of the
BURWOOD PARK HOTEL.

BLOCK of LAND, being lots 14 and 15 of M'LAUGHLIN'S subdivision, on CHELTENHAM-ROAD, near PARRAMATTA-ROAD.
It has 46 feet frontage to CHELTENHAM-ROAD, with the great depth of 224 feet extending to a street.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th November, at 11 o'clock,
The above-described choice block of land, between the Parramatta-road and the railway, and within easy walking distance of Burwood station.

CLEARANCE SALE OF SHARES.

2000 CITY FIRE INSURANCE, 2s Paid
880 COLONIAL MUTUAL FIRE, 5s Paid.

In Lots to suit Purchasers.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th NOVEMBER, at 11 o'clock PROMPT,
The above list of various shares.
Terms, cash.

By order of the Executors of the late T. S. MORT, Esq.

CONNELLY'S BUSH,
ILLAWARRA-ROAD,
a few miles from the Cook's River Dam.

TWO VALUABLE BLOCKS OF LAND, being the unsold portions of the well-known CONNELLY'S BUSH ESTATE.
1. FIFTEEN ACRES, adjoining Anderson's orchard, close to the Public School, part of Lot 8 of the original subdivision.
2. FIFTY-TWO ACRES on Deep Gully Creek, George's River, adjoining Button's and Kemp's purchases, being Lot 16 of the original subdivision; a valuable Property for woolwashing or manufacturing purposes.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th NOVEMBER, at 11 o'clock,
The abovedescribed valuable parcels of land.
It is only necessary to state that the new ILLAWARRA RAILWAY LINE runs between these two lots, and that they both occupy capital positions in the most improving suburb of the city, to attract the attention of capitalists, speculators, and others to the sale.

Plan on view at the Rooms.

Terms at sale.

W. A. MANNING, Esq., Pitt-street, Solicitor of Vendors.

By Order of the Trustees in the Estate of the Late M. C. STEPHEN, Esq.

ASHFIELD.
Two Superior Well-finished Family VILLA RESIDENCES, adjoining the tastefully laid-out grounds surrounding ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, and opposite the PARSONAGE.

In one or two lots.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th NOVEMBER, at 11 o'clock,
ISERBROOK and ELSTON,
TWO HANDSOME GOTHIC VILLAS, built of brick on stone foundations, containing each hall, 6 rooms, dressing-room, bathroom, servant's room, kitchen, pantries, &c., with large yard, stable, coachhouse, and other out-offices; also a paddock at the rear.
THE GROUNDS surrounding each of the villas are upwards of half-an-acre in area, the whole having the following frontages:—
141 FEET TO ALT-STREET
141 FEET TO BLAND-STREET
570 FEET TO JULIA-STREET.

They are neatly laid out, with garden plot, &c., in front, and the grounds at rear afford ample paddock accommodation, or could be divided for building first-class villas.

ISERBROOK and ELSTON will be sold separately or in one lot, as may be desired, and the sale affords an unusually good opportunity for purchasing faithfully-built, well-finished, and most favourably situated suburban residences, at a time when the present price of labour and material renders building nearly prohibitory. Both houses were designed and built under the superintendence of Mr. Architect Mansfield, which is a sufficient guarantee of their substantial character, attractive elevation, and convenient arrangement.
Immediate possession can be obtained.

TERMS: One-quarter cash; residue can remain at 6 per cent.

SOLICITORS, Messrs. STEPHEN, LAURENCE, and JAQUES, Pitt-street North.

Inspection invited. Cards to view on application.

By order of the Trustee of the Estate of the late M. C. Stephen, Esq.

BURWOOD,
BEAUTIFULLY-SITUATED SITES, Riverview-terrace, and John-street, close to the Railway Station.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the ROOMS, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, at 11 o'clock,
LOTS 18 and 25, SECTION 3, each having 40 feet frontage to Riverview-terrace, with a depth of 105 feet
LOTS 19, 22, 26, 30, 34, SECTION 3, each having 40 feet frontage to John-street, with a depth of 105 feet.

These comprise one block, but will be sold in lots to suit buyers. They occupy without exception the highest position in this favourite suburb, close to the station, and commanding extensive beautiful views.

Plan on view at the Rooms.
TITLE, TORRENS' ACT.

IN THE ESTATE OF THE LATE H. HAY, ESQ.

RYDE,
PARRAMATTA RIVER.

LOT 1.—SHOP and DWELLING in GLEBE-STREET, West of CHURCH-STREET, near ST. ANN'S SCHOOL, and opposite the residence of J. E. MANNING, Esq.

LOT 2.—LARGE BLOCK of LAND, in area 1 ACRE 3½ Perches, in GLEBE-STREET, a few yards East of CHURCH-STREET, and JORDAN'S HOTEL, almost immediately opposite ST. ANN'S CHURCH. On the frontage is a COTTAGE RESIDENCE with outbuildings, and a BUTCHER'S SHOP.

LOT 3.—CHOICE VILLA SITE, ONE ACRE 5½ Perches, fronting Gladesville-road, adjoining Mr. LEVER'S Property.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th November, at 11 o'clock,
The following valuable properties at Ryde, Parramatta River:—

LOT 1.—All that allotment of Land, having 38 feet frontage to Glebe-street, with a depth of 136 feet 6 inches on one side, and 113 feet 6 inches on the other, upon which is erected of brick on stone foundation, shingled roof, COTTAGE containing 4 rooms, with yard, &c., at rear.

LOT 2.—That block of land in area 1 acre 3½ perches, having 128 feet 5 inches frontage to Glebe-street, with a depth of 356 feet 8 inches on one side, and 366 feet 3 inches on the other, upon which is erected of stone, slate roof, with verandah in front, a COTTAGE RESIDENCE, containing hall, 6 rooms and kitchen, with wooden bathroom, washhouse, sheds, &c., at the rear, butcher's shop of weatherboards, with large wooden stables, cart sheds, &c., at the rear.
There are also two large wells upon the property.

LOT 3.—Block of land, Gladesville-road, in area 1 acre 5½ perches, having 130 feet frontage with a depth of 528 feet on one side, and 437 feet 6 inches on the other. The land is enclosed with a three-rail fence, and has now a fine crop of oats thereon.

The above are valuable properties in the healthy suburb of Ryde, and within easy walking distance of the steamers' wharf. In view of the connection of Ryde with the metropolis by means of tramway and railway communication, which no doubt will shortly be an accomplished fact, the above lots are worthy of the attention of those in search of a profitable investment.

PLAN ON VIEW AT THE ROOMS.

ABSOLUTE UNRESERVED SALE.

HARTLEY VALE.

All that piece of land containing 32 perches, being allotment No. 5, section D, township of Hartley Vale, fronting Campbell and Fryer streets, on which are the premises now occupied by Mr. SQUIRE FRITH as a GENERAL STORE.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney, on FRIDAY, 10th NOVEMBER,
at 11 o'clock,
The above, further particulars of which can be obtained at the Rooms.

Messrs. HOLDSWORTH and EVANS, Solicitors of the Vendors.

Terms at sale.

ST. LEONARDS.

LOT 1.—SHOP and Block of Land adjoining, on the MILSON'S POINT-ROAD, at present occupied by Mr. J. A. HEAVEN, Painter.

LOT 2.—VALUABLE CORNER BLOCK of BUILDING LAND, FRONTING WALKER and LAVENDER STREETS, immediately opposite CHRIST CHURCH, SUBDIVIDED by Mr. Surveyor Atchison into FIVE ALLOTMENTS.

LOT 3.—ALLOTMENT of LAND, HIGH-STREET, overlooking CAREENING COVE, and nearly opposite the residence of G. COCHRANE, Esq.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on FRIDAY, 10th NOVEMBER, at 11 o'clock,
The following important properties at St. Leonards:—
LOT 1.—All that valuable block of land, having 60½ feet frontage to MILSON'S POINT-ROAD, with a depth of 96 feet on one side, and 97 feet on the other, extending to a lane at the rear. On portion of the frontage is erected a SHOP now in the occupation of Mr. HEAVEN.

LOT 2.—FIVE VALUABLE ALLOTMENTS of land at the head of Lavender Bay steps, comprising LOTS 1 to 5, as follows:—LOT 5 is a corner allotment, and has 26 FEET frontage to WALKER-STREET, and 146 FEET 9 INCHES to LAVENDER-STREET; LOTS 1 to 4 have each 22 FEET frontage to WALKER-STREET, with depths of 146 feet 9 inches.

LOT 3.—Allotment of land having 50 FEET frontage to HIGH-STREET, with a depth of 126 feet 6 inches on one side, and 116 feet 6 inches on the other, extending back to a lane at the rear 15 feet wide, to which it has a frontage of 48 feet.

The above are valuable properties in the rapidly improving suburb of St. Leonards, occupying good positions on main thoroughfares, and in close proximity to the ferry steamers wharfs.
As St. Leonards is the next suburb in which the Government intend to lay down the tramway, it is needless for the Auctioneers to point out the highly prospective value of these properties, and speculators, builders, and others would do well to inspect the whole of the above before the day of sale.

Plans and Lithos. at the Rooms.

WAVERLEY HEIGHTS.

Capital Building Site, Lot 13 of subdivision of Evans' BLEAK ESTATE, having 50 feet frontage to EVANS-STREET x 177 feet in depth, adjoining the residence of Mr. Gibbons.
